Milestones and Memories

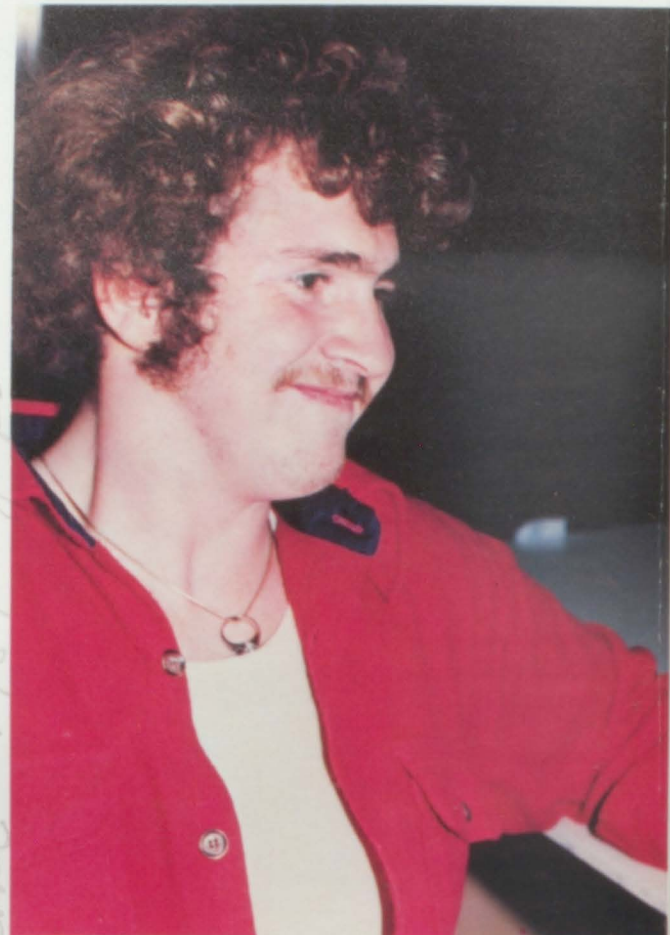

Remember Health Awareness Day? How about Ms. Austin's "Guess the Artist" contests? And who could forget Tom Rivers' trend-setting Mohawk hairstyle! The year at M.H.S. was filled with more than just books, sports and concerts . . . Most every day we experienced something new and exciting. Some experiences were happy ones, some were sad, some were a little strange. But, all together, they helped us learn and grow and made 1982 at M.H.S. a year of real adventure.

Varsity cheerleaders Sarah Bates, Katie Widness and Linda Blow take time out to watch the action on the court.

Solon fans watch an exciting game on a clear fall day.

Ron Walbridge reminisces about his year at M.H.S.

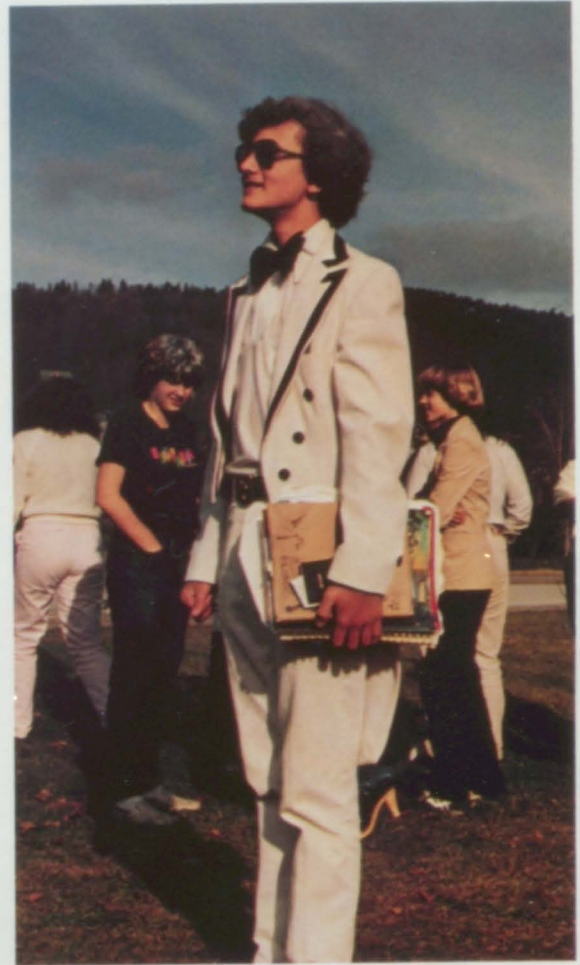

Sally McKee is stopped in her tracks by a display of student art.

A typical Monday morning at Montpelier High ...

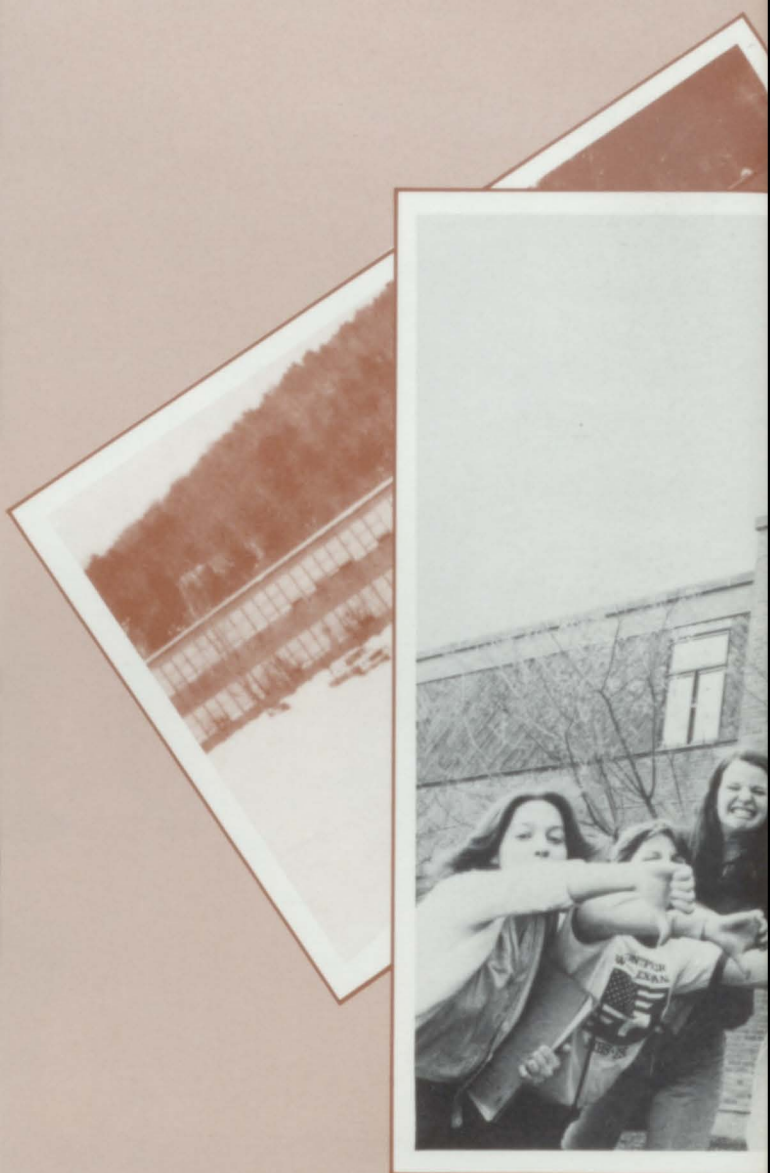

1982:

Incoming freshmen Bonnie Drew, Susan Alexander and Terry Richmond check the office list to find out their new homerooms.

Although the winter seemed to go on forever, Gordon Rice and Lynn Wilkinson still managed to have a good time.

"It looks like a boarded-up factory!" "I can't daydream out the windows anymore!" "It looks like a prison!" "It IS a prison!" These were just some of the reactions when our school got a new look in 1982. The whole building was redesigned so that only one window remained per classroom. But, the benefits far outweighed any complaints. Superintendent Charles Johnson explained that our new look will save us about 25 per cent a year on our heating bills.

In addition to a facelift for the building, M.H.S. saw other milestones during the year. We suffered through a record cold winter, and school was called off two days. We hosted scores of foreigners, including exchangees from Switzerland and even a foreign teacher, Mrs. Reeve, from England. We also continued with traditional activities, including Homecoming Week, the Christmas Ball and the Junior Prom, but with new ideas and new looks to make the year unique for everyone.

New Faces! New Times! "New" Building!

Mrs. Cassort is honored during Homecoming Week's "This is Your Life" assembly.

When school is out, the work really begins. Dodie Brigham digs out her locker.

Fads and Fashions at M.H.S.

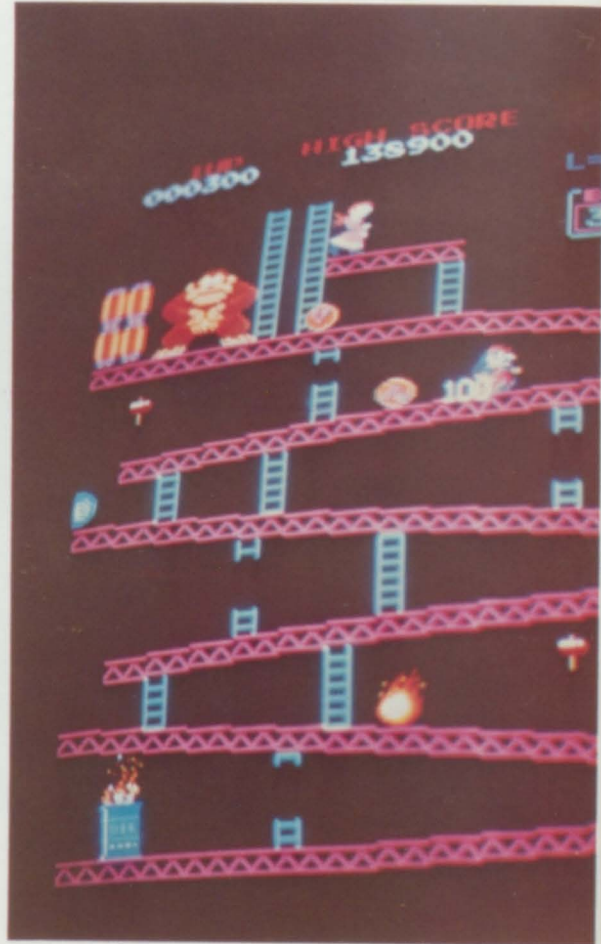

Fads and fashions come and go, whether they're Walkmans or alligator shirts. M.H.S. had its share of fads and fashion trends in 1982. Punk, prep, miniskirts, ghetto blasters, giant chocolate chip cookies, the Glasser Method all came to M.H.S. during the year. Some were to stay, some were to be forgotten in a short while . . . but all made a big impact while they lasted.

Terry Richmond shows off her knickers.

Camilla Schamaun keeps warm with bright leg warmers.

Everyone spaced out on video games.

Chewing tobacco made a comeback. It was soon banned.

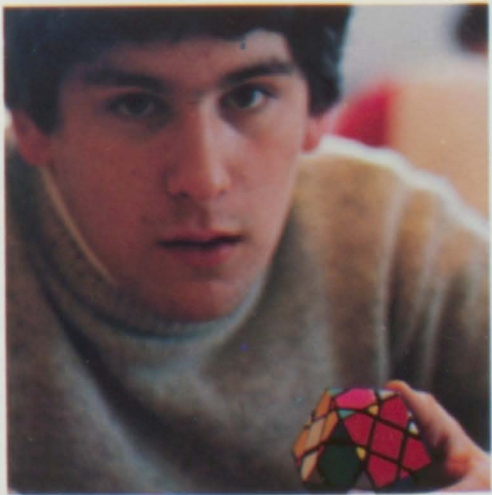

Alex Ellerson is intrigued.

Mrs. Cassort is puzzled.

Designer clothes were the hit, from top to bottom.

Peter Brousseau is perplexed.

Janine Frostick finds the solution.

The Solons Parade, Punk and Play During '82 Homecoming

Queen Ellen Peduzzi and escort Walker Rowan watch the game.

The cheerleaders help start the game with a bang, and the Solons go on to win.

Sid Vicious would have been proud of the Solons during Homecoming Week. People came to school with green hair, silver suits and — for their lunches — crawlers! In the girls' powder puff football game, the junior pros' powerful powder plays plowed over the sad, sickly struggling seniors. But the seniors got their revenge when their superior soccer sensations slithered by the junior jokes. The week ended with a slow-starting bonfire and a football game against Burlington that was a mighty close and exciting 7-6 win.

Pascale Theisen, exchange student from Luxembourg, is tickled pink to be in Montpelier for the biggest weekend of the year.

Todd Boucher dons his finest.

Time Off!

Solon crowds spend their time off watching the action.

Pat Barrett spends his time off on the ice.

Kim Coghlan spends her time off being a dedicated — and frozen — Solon fan.

Sarah Bates and Kelly Drew spend their time off munching out.

When we deserve a break today, Jodi Breer spends her time off waiting on us at MacDonal'd's.

Jim Ramsay spends his time off stacking empties at M&M Discount Beverages.

Pat Sikora spends his time off just taking it easy.

When Friday hits, books are slung and weekend activities begin. Time off is spent doing everything from hitting the movies on Friday night (followed by a major munch down) and sleeping in on Saturday morning to MAKING MONEY at work Saturday afternoon and partying Saturday night. But no matter how time off is spent, it always goes by too quickly.

Friends

Friend (frënd) n. 1. A person one knows, likes and trusts. 2. A favored companion; comrade.

We all were friends with the spring play RATSS (Rivers' Tactical Scenery Squad). We didn't have much choice . . .

Lisa Slaybaugh and Miss Silsby share a quiet moment on the banks of Langdon Pond.

CHRISTMAS BALL

The hall was decked and the punch bowl filled as everyone came to enjoy the sounds of Stone Cross at the Christmas Ball. Sponsored by the Student Council, the evening proved to be a success, creating warm memories and a Christmas spirit that even the cold winter air could not chill.

Jamie Wright and Kim Montgomery sit one out.

Love, labor, management and lots of toe-tapping music all came together in the M.H.S. Masque's spring production of "The Pajama Game." The group presented a sparkling musical that revolved around labor problems at the Sleep-Tite Pajama Factory. The show was a great success, thanks to the many crew members and the fantastic audiences.

The Junior Prom . . . “Just Between You and Me”

The juniors worked long hours on prom decorations.

Formally dressed Solons danced for hours under shining stars hung to create a perfect moonlit evening atmosphere for the 1982 junior prom.

"Just Between You and Me" was the theme for the ball, and juniors worked for weeks on invitations, decorations, refreshments and many other details. The class lined up the Hammer Band which entertained more than 80 couples until midnight.

Cheese and Chocolate

Where can you find the best cheese and most mouth-watering chocolate in the world? If you ask 30 M.H.S. students, they would probably tell you to visit Switzerland. Under the supervision of Mr. Adamski and Mrs. Baker, the Swiss Exchange Group raised thousands of dollars to finance their trip after having hosted Swiss students in the fall.

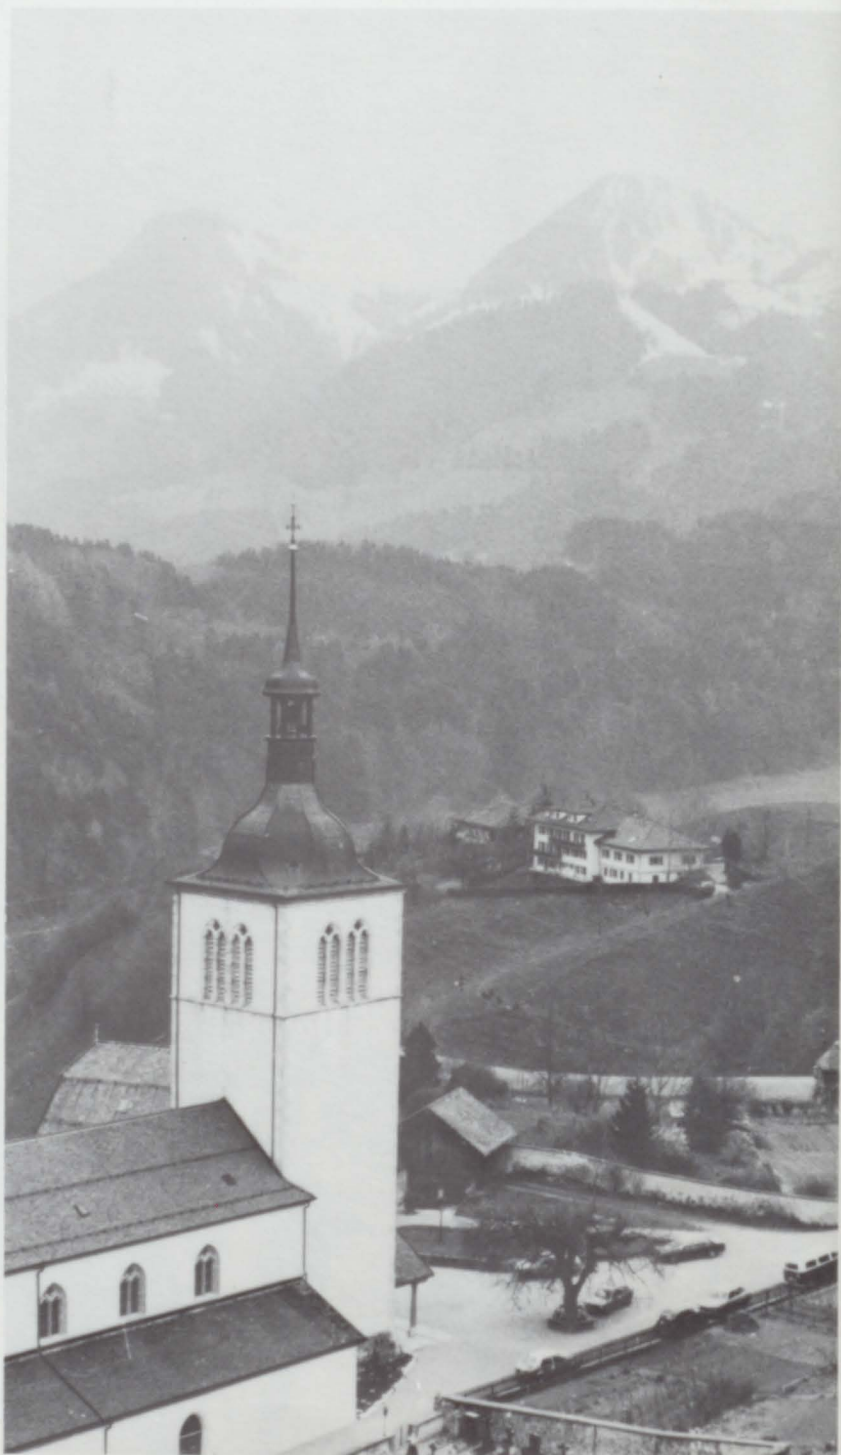

During their three-week trip, the M.H.S. group visited Paris, went to school in Geneva, sampled the Swiss cuisine and went sightseeing in the Alps. Above all, international friendships and fond memories were made which will last forever.

Kelly Drew finds a way to beat the high cost of transportation in Paris.

Close-Up and Far Away

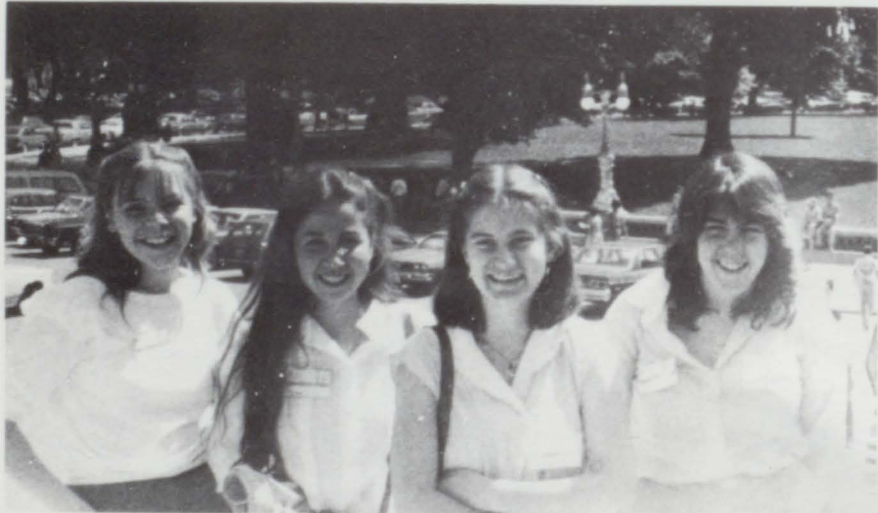

It was a year to take a different look at things. Some M.H.S. students got a view of the government through the Close-Up program. Their trip to Washington, D.C. gave them a first-hand look at how our country is now being run by the Reagan Administration. On the other hand, we all got a look at things from far away with an aerial photograph of M.H.S., courtesy of the Vermont Air National Guard.

The Washington Mall and the Washington Monument really impressed Close-Uppers.

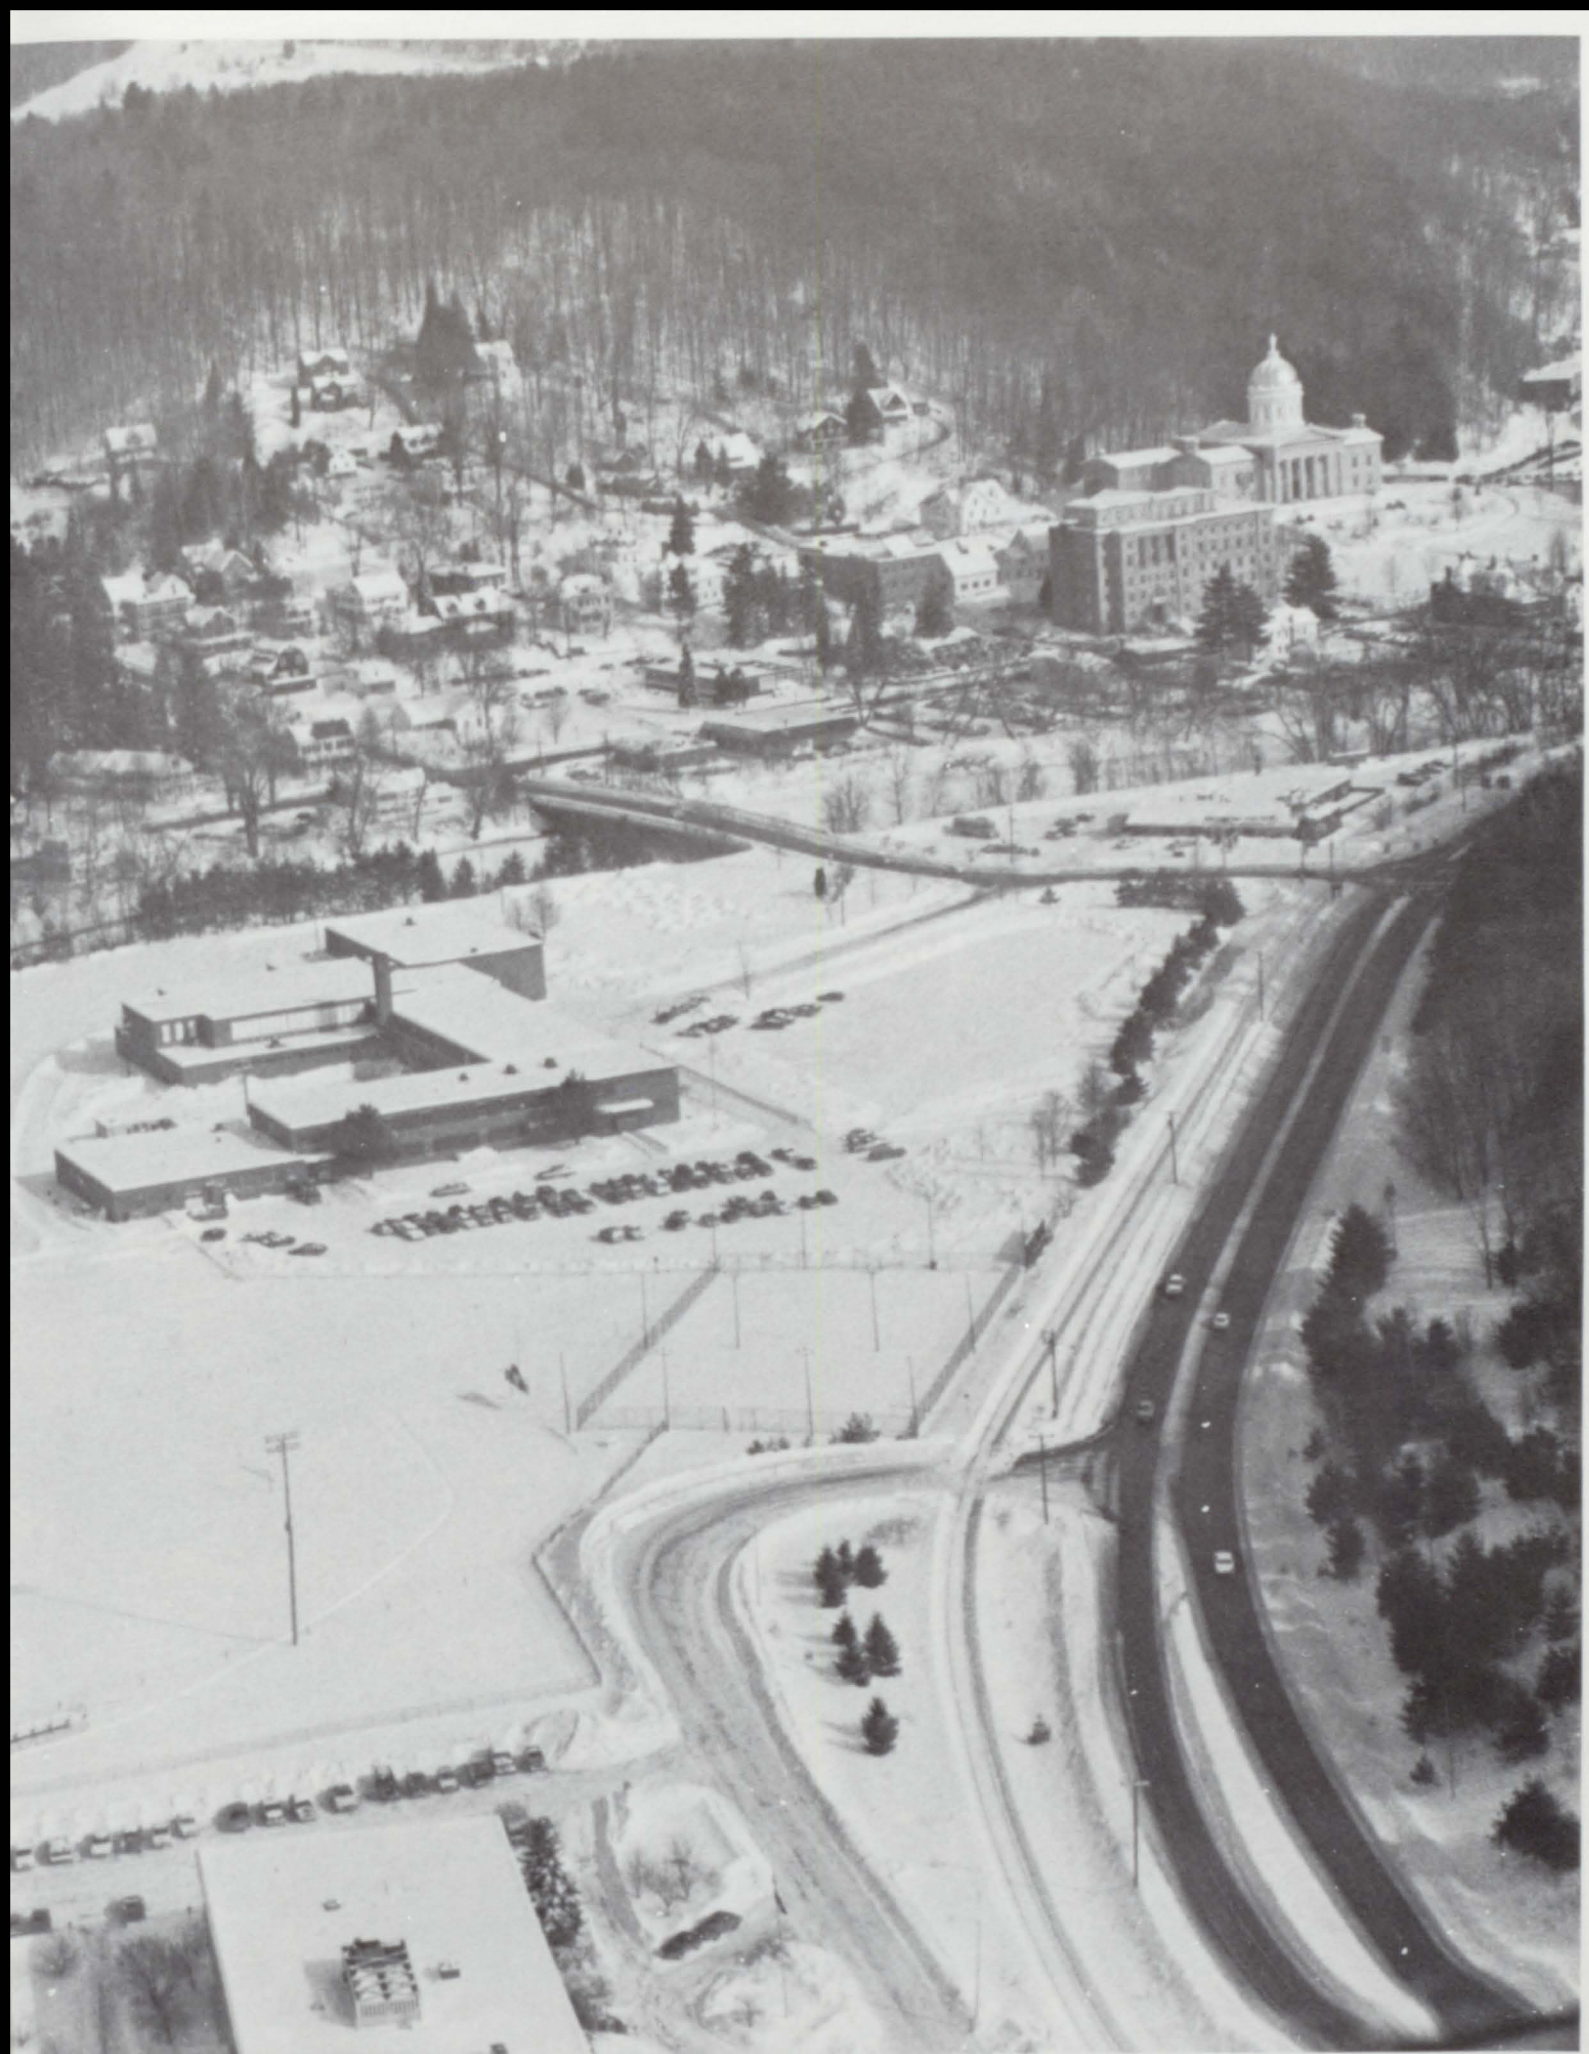

Jeff Jensen looks like a young senator-elect.

Seniors Dedicate RECORD to Mr. Phillips

As we, the senior class, leave Montpelier High School, we leave with a feeling of satisfaction, satisfaction in knowing that along the path to greater education we have not only made close friends but have shared fond memories. Many of those memories are due to one person.

His fellow teachers took great pride when he led Montpelier High School to an outstanding 10-year reaccreditation. His fellow sports officials honored him as Vermont State Athletic Director of the Year.

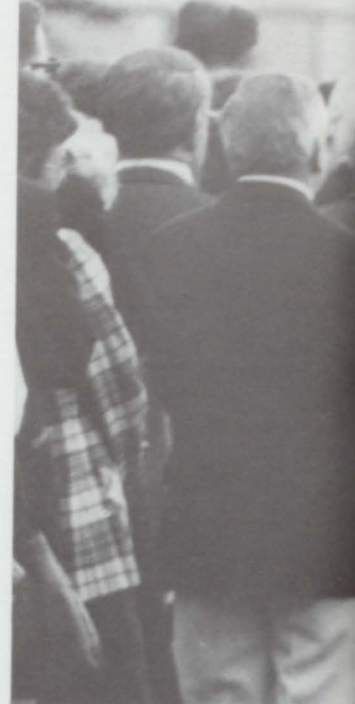

We, the Class of 1982, now honor him by dedicating our yearbook to him because of his great care and devotion to the students of Montpelier High School. He's a very special person . . .

Mr. Charles (Charlie) Phillips

GRADUATION!

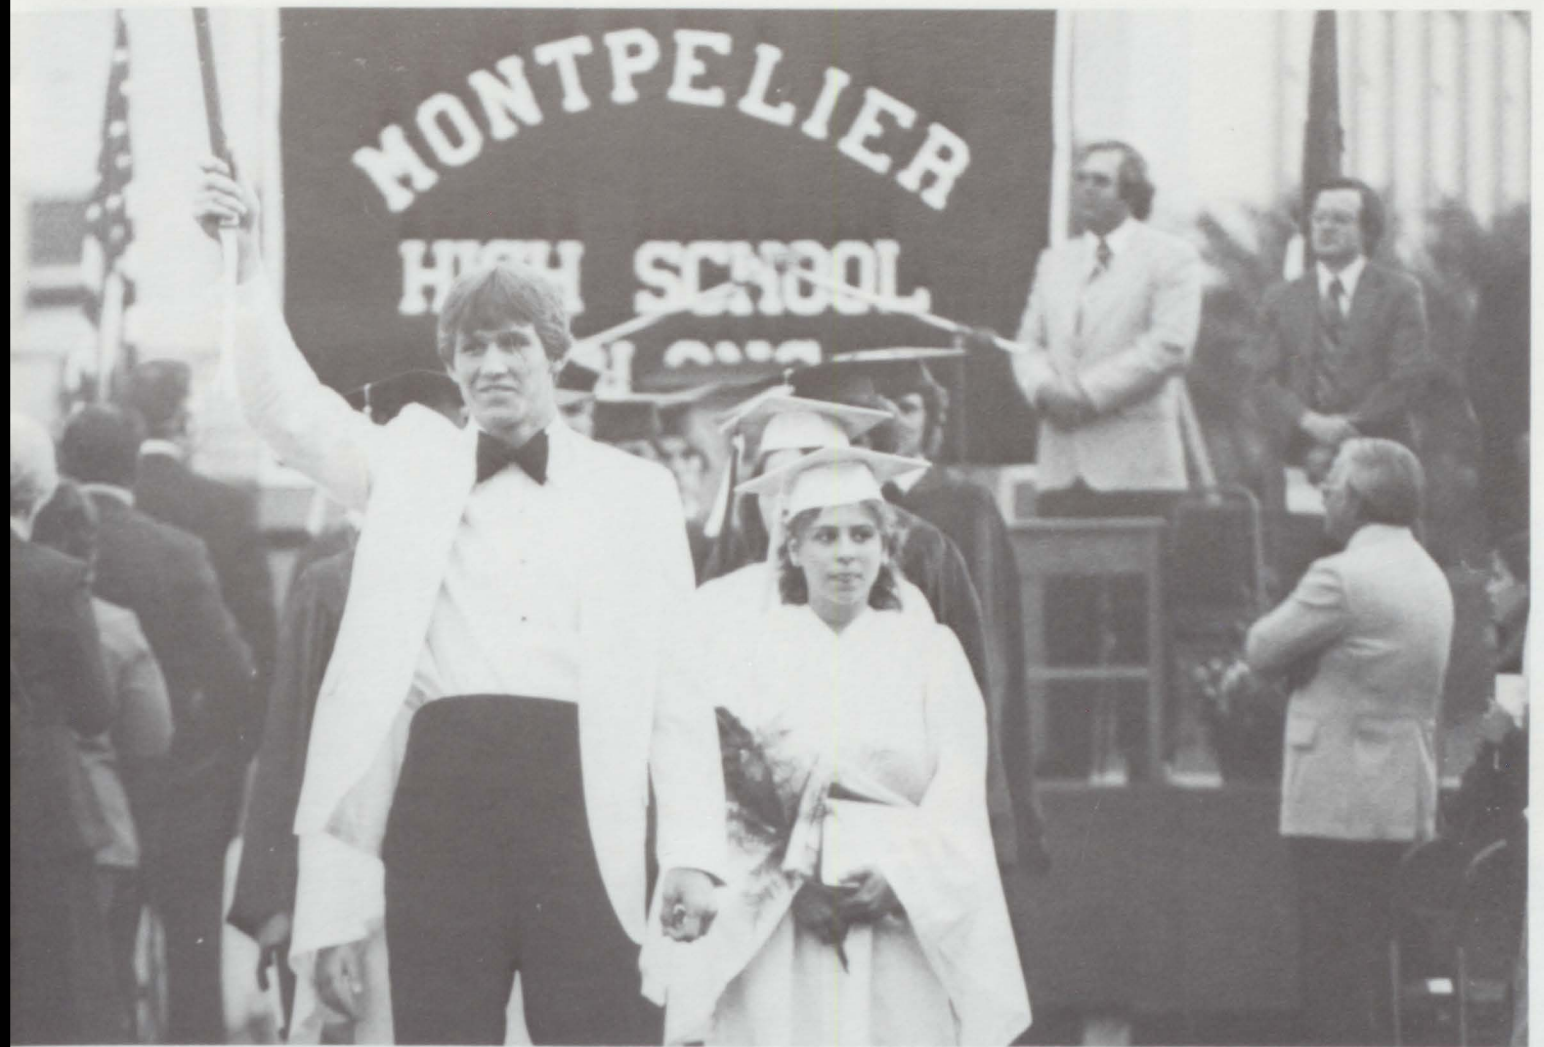

Seniors begin commencement exercises with the Pledge of Allegiance.

Michelle Snetsinger receives her diploma from School Board Chairman Stephen Murphy.

High school is officially over for graduate John Blouin.

Junior Class President Shannon Sweeney shows off the Class of 1982.

The M.H.S. band welcomes the graduates with "Pomp and Circumstance."

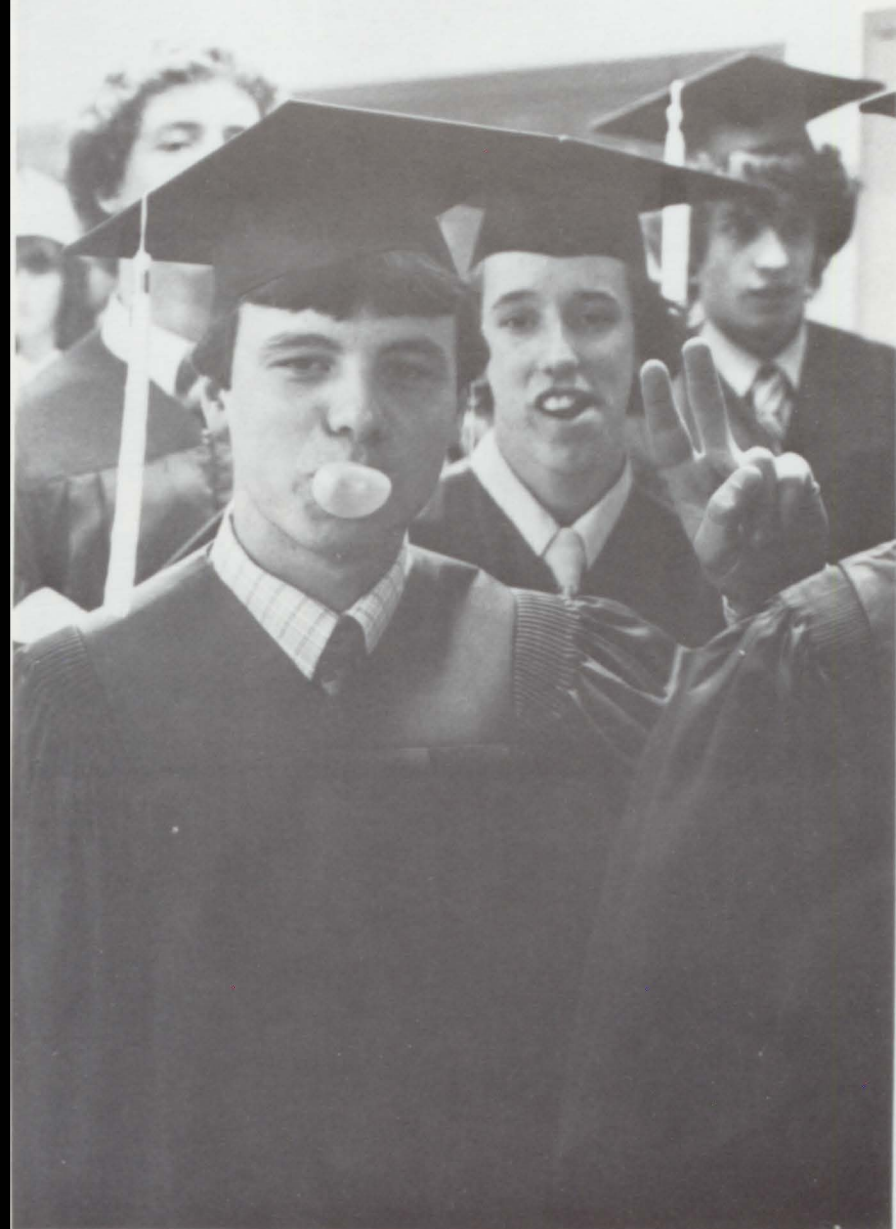

Sandra Demingware is embraced by her good friend Sonja Laiho.

Vespers are conducted by the Rev. James Markham of Resurrection Baptist Church. Helping him are the SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS — Treasurer Patty Blakeman, Secretary Colleen Bruzzese, Vice President Dan Cook and President Julie Costello.

Moments before graduation, several seniors prepare to leave M.H.S. behind.

A bubble-blowing Chico Prevost flashes the "victory" sign.

Julie Costello, Bill Gidney and Pat Sikora relax during their meal at the senior dinner dance.

Roses from her parents made Martha Brown's graduation even more special.

The M.H.S. chorus sings at Vespers.

It Was a Great Week For 136 Graduates

Storm clouds that hung over this year's outdoor graduation ceremony opened up dramatically to beautiful, clear skies. But in his valedictory speech, Alex Ellerson warned that an "ominous cloud" still hung over the Class of 1982.

There is an "intense buildup of nuclear weapons" going on around the world, Alex said. "I'm scared by the situation. I'm supposed to have a great future, but if we're vaporized, my future is going to be a little bit short."

Speaker Cathy Goulet told her classmates to "explore the vast horizons," to set goals, reach them and set more goals.

Graduation week started off with commencement practices, Vespers and the senior dinner dance. The actual graduation ceremony, led by Senior Class President Julie Costello, was attended by more than 600 people, including parents, relatives and friends.

Although the evening was the last time the class would be together officially, Superintendent Charles Johnson urged graduates to form an alumni group and not lose touch with each other.

Ken Roya looks toward the future.

Graduation is a time of real excitement for Ellen Peduzzi.

More than 600 parents and friends greeted the graduates, including Colleen Baird and Karol Laiho.

Speaking at graduation were VALEDICTORY GROUP members Tim Keefe, Peter Conlon, Kevin Marinelli, Cathy Goulet, Alex Ellerson and Steve Richardson.

It takes good grades and lots of hard work in clubs and sports to get a SILVER "M." Recipients in 1982 were — First Row: D. Provost, K. Laiho, J. Graves, M. Brown, D. Parker, B. Lipman. Second Row: A. Jahnke, J. Costello, C. Goulet, H. Richmond, Y. Pepin, K. Swasey, C. Bruzzese, T. Keefe, K. Marinelli, T. Boucher. Third Row: M. Greiner, P. Conlon, P. Blakeman, J. Johnson, A. Butler, H. Keck, S. Jacobs, D. Coburn, A. Ellerson, D. Lang, S. Richardson, P. Jenkins. On Top: D. Cook.

Karol Laiho says, "So long!"

Smiling was an epidemic that hit Pam Collins and Theresa Couture on graduation night.

When We Were Much Older

As newcomers to M.H.S., Class of '82 cone-heads fill the auditorium to await their initiation rites.

The class sure knew how to build great homecoming floats. This is their first place freshman effort.

Lots of members of the class had parts in the musical, "West Side Story." Here, as street-wise Fifties teens, they dance spiritedly before tragedy strikes.

And once again their senior year, the Class of '82 produced the best homecoming float.

And, Chris Raspe horses around on the Williston water tower for I-89 passersby.

Nonstop Activity Fills Year for Underclass- men

Happiness for some underclassmen sometimes means having class over for the day.

Freshmen learn how to stay well under the guidance of health teacher Miss Toy.

Transferring to a new school isn't always a breeze, but sophomore Owen Dulmage made the change with ease.

Underclassmen have many required courses, and they aren't always thrilling. Just ask Ron Kramer ...

Older students manage to learn a few tricks, like, two heads can do chemistry problems easier than one. Juniors Laura Witham and Arne List demonstrate.

M.H.S. is definitely not the kind of school where only seniors "count." From their first day in the building as freshmen, students are welcomed into every activity available. They eagerly accept the invitation. And, during their years here, they continue to make important contributions — on sports teams, in clubs and in classrooms. Underclassmen do much to make Montpelier High School what it is.

The junior class can throw quite a party, and they outdid themselves with "Just Between You and Me," their junior prom. They raised money for the bash with their dance-a-thon and showered it lavishly on their guests.

The start of the year was a little shaky for the Class of '83, though. Late-hour balloon-blowing and hasty crepe-papering resulted in a homecoming float that wasn't exactly what its builders had hoped it would look like! But, victories in the Hush Day and Hide the Sea Horse Day contests as well as the powder puff football game allowed class members to hold their heads relatively high.

Many juniors faced the challenge of SATs. And two juniors really exerted some brain power. Eileen Geagan won the Dartmouth Book Award and Steve Folta won the UVM Math Award.

The second year of high school is a year of transition. Sophomores are no longer on the bottom of the totem pole, but they're far from being on the top. This year's sophomores made it clear they weren't going to go unnoticed. They made plenty of noise and even won the homecoming pep rally shouting contest. Many bought class rings, took a crack at the PSAT and survived to face their junior year.

Freshman initiation is fun for everyone ... including freshmen.

Everywhere they happened to be on initiation day, freshman "dunces" were kept in line by vigilant seniors and unsympathetic underclassmen.

Every freshman class suffers many indignities, and this year's group of ninth graders suffered, too. They were initiated by seniors during homecoming and were forced to wear dunce caps all day. They were corralled into study halls. They were required to take many classes that had little appeal. Their minds were probed and analyzed by the guidance department through the Differential Aptitude Test. They were given little credit for what they knew and were indoctrinated with the basics of how to study and how to use the library. But through it all, they retained good humor. They prospered and grew. And they got a fine start on their high school careers.

The Life of an Underclassman Is Rich

Freshman initiation can be painful!

When the summer sun begins to sink behind the shadows of the changing leaves, there's a certain smell in the air . . . a smell of fall. And with fall, there's football — Solon football. It's a spirit, a spirit that's carried from the coaches to the players to the school and throughout the community.

In 1981, fans packed the new football bleachers to cheer on the three Solon teams. The varsity squad ended their season with a 5-4 record. The J.V.s came out 4-4. And the frosh team had a 4-3 record. Several upset wins gave fans plenty of excitement.

Field Hockey Teams Face Big Challenges

A Solon charges in to score for M.H.S.

The full story of the field hockey season really can't be told in statistics. (For the record, the varsity team won three games, lost seven and tied three. The J.V. tally was 5-3-6.)

The real field hockey story is told in the individual accomplishments of the girls.

Many girls pushed themselves further than they thought they could go. And three girls were named to the division All-Star Team.

But, two girls — far from in the limelight — deserve special recognition, according to Varsity Coach Stowell.

Cindy Bagalio and Sarah Bates decided during tryouts not to shoot for positions on the squad. They ended up going to every game, however, doing timing and scoring.

"That's really terrific dedication," says Coach Stowell.

That's Solon spirit.

Kathy Alger closes in on her B.F.A. opponent at the Conference Meet.

The term "cross country" means both running and volleyball to members of the '81 cross team. During the summer, the team had an important weekly volleyball game at Coach Phillips' house. And, in August, the runners spent five days at Lake Fairlee working out. The summer activities got the squad in shape and created the crucial spirit that lasted the whole season.

Both the girls and the boys ended with winning records. The girls had a 14-8 season and took fourth place in the State Meet. The boys had a 19-6 record, took third in the State Meet and went to New Englands.

One highlight of the fall was a trip to Massena, N.Y., where Solons got the chance to race against New York runners.

Twirlers, Cheerleaders and Fans Pave the Way for Solon Victories

Whenever Solon spirit needed a boost, our favorite owl was on the scene.

Fans pack our new stands for the homecoming game. They weren't disappointed. The Solons won 6-0.

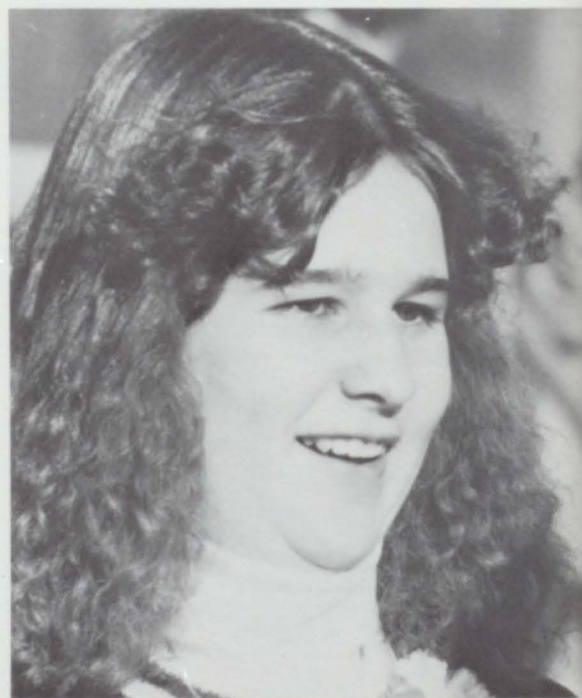

Pom pom routines were a cheerleading squad specialty.

The 1982 season was a landmark for our cheerleaders. Their work was finally recognized as an official school sport.

For years, cheerleaders have been appreciated for their spirit and vitality which, game after game, raised the morale of players and fans.

And, halftime shows would seem far from complete without the impressive baton routines put on by the M.H.S. twirling squad. Their fire-tipped displays particularly wowed crowds and made fans proud to be Solon boosters.

Cheerleading Co-Captain Susan Donnelly watches her girls and smiles approvingly.

The varsity and J.V. cheerleading squads combine forces to bring out the loudest and best from Solon supporters.

Twirlers practice their formations before game time.

The drama of a night game fire-tipped twirling display makes halftime particularly special.

WINTER SPORTS

The drama of a close game keeps Solon basketball fans in suspense.

Cheerleaders add plenty to winter sports excitement. Varsity basketball cheerleaders follow the action before their half-time routine.

Hockey Team Goes to Semi-finals

Solons wait at center ice for a chance to score.

Co-Captain David Provost waits for a pass.

The Montpelier hockey team started the skating season red hot, winning their first six games. They then cooled down, but ended with a fine 12-7 record, fourth in the division.

At the playoffs, the Solons beat Rutland in the quarter-finals. They were shut out in the semi-finals.

A major highlight of the season was during the Christmas tournament when the team met up with their U-32 rivals, whom they had not beaten in two years. The Solons played hard and came out ahead by one goal. They went on to beat Colchester and win the tournament.

Speed is an essential in hockey. Co-Captain John Blouin shows Solon fans what it's all about.

Center Peter Augustoni sets up to score one of his 28 goals of the season, the team record.

Injuries are an unfortunate fact of life for hockey players. After breaking his wrist, Brian Charron is helped off the ice.

Girls Have Impressive Season

With the Solons neck and neck, varsity guards Karen Demingware and Martha Brown tensely watch their opponent attempt a critical foul shot.

The girls' varsity basketball team in 1982 closed out their most successful season with an 11-9 record and an impressive showing in the state tournament, losing a hard-fought contest to Burr and Burton. It was the third year in a row the girls went to the playoffs.

The most exciting game of the season was when the Solons faced Northfield for the second time. Exceptional senior Kelly White was sidelined with an injury, but her teammates played hard before a packed crowd and came just two points from victory.

Four experienced seniors were to be gone in '83. But, Coach Jacek looks forward to another winning season with the help of Karen Boisvert, who was nominated to the Division V All-Star Team.

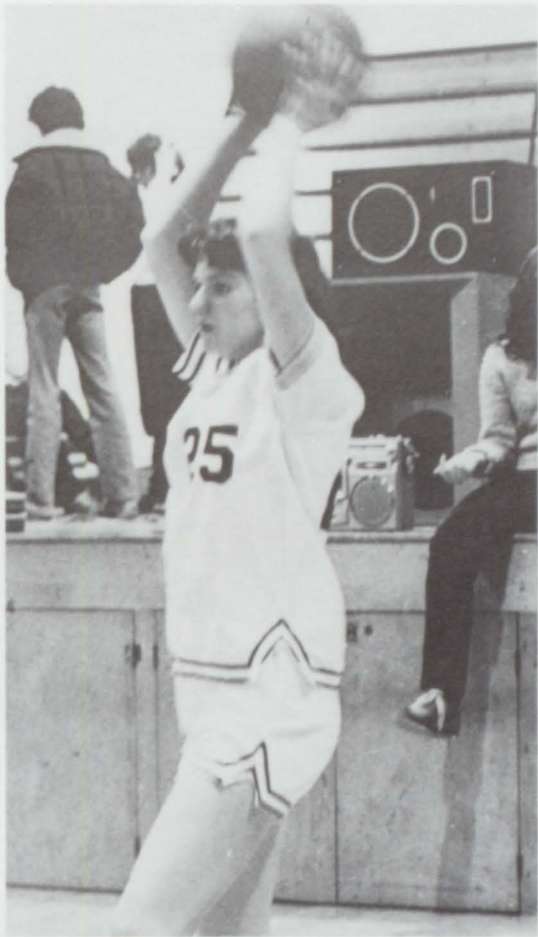

Coming up to help the varsity will be members of the outstanding J.V. team, which ended its season with a 17-3 record.

J.V. player Kelly Higgins gets ready to take a foul shot for M.H.S.

Donna Kennison shoots to make two of the 896 points the J.V. team tallied up during the 1982 season.

Varsity forward Jill Graves looks for an open teammate.

Varsity high scorer Kelly White eyes the rim to see if her shot will drop.

Driving through the opposition is varsity guard Karen Boisvert.

Solon Varsity Returns to Playoffs

Freshman player Tom Drew fires a jump shot.

Rob Babcock struggles to regain the ball for the freshman squad.

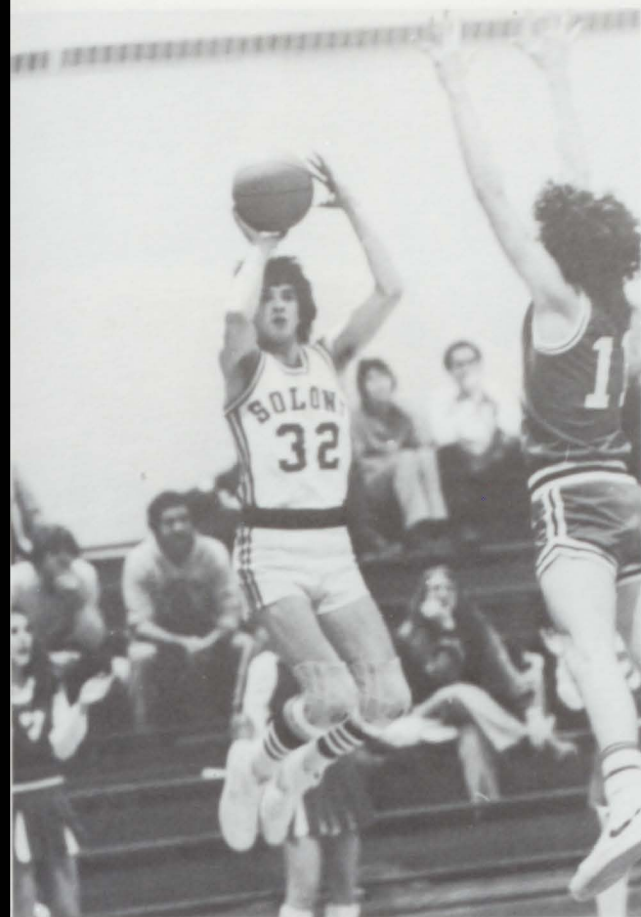

The boys' varsity basketball squad looked more like its old self in 1982. Rebounding from a disappointing '81 season, the team won 12 out of 20 games and once again made it to the playoffs. They had a tough first quarter in the tournament, facing Essex and falling behind by 30 points. Although the boys battled back, they couldn't catch the Hornets.

During the regular season, the team had four exciting games with C.V.U. and Burlington, each game decided by four points or less. The Solons came out on top three out of four times.

The J.V. team ended with a 6-14 record. And the freshmen, who had problems getting enough practice time, ended with a 9-10 record.

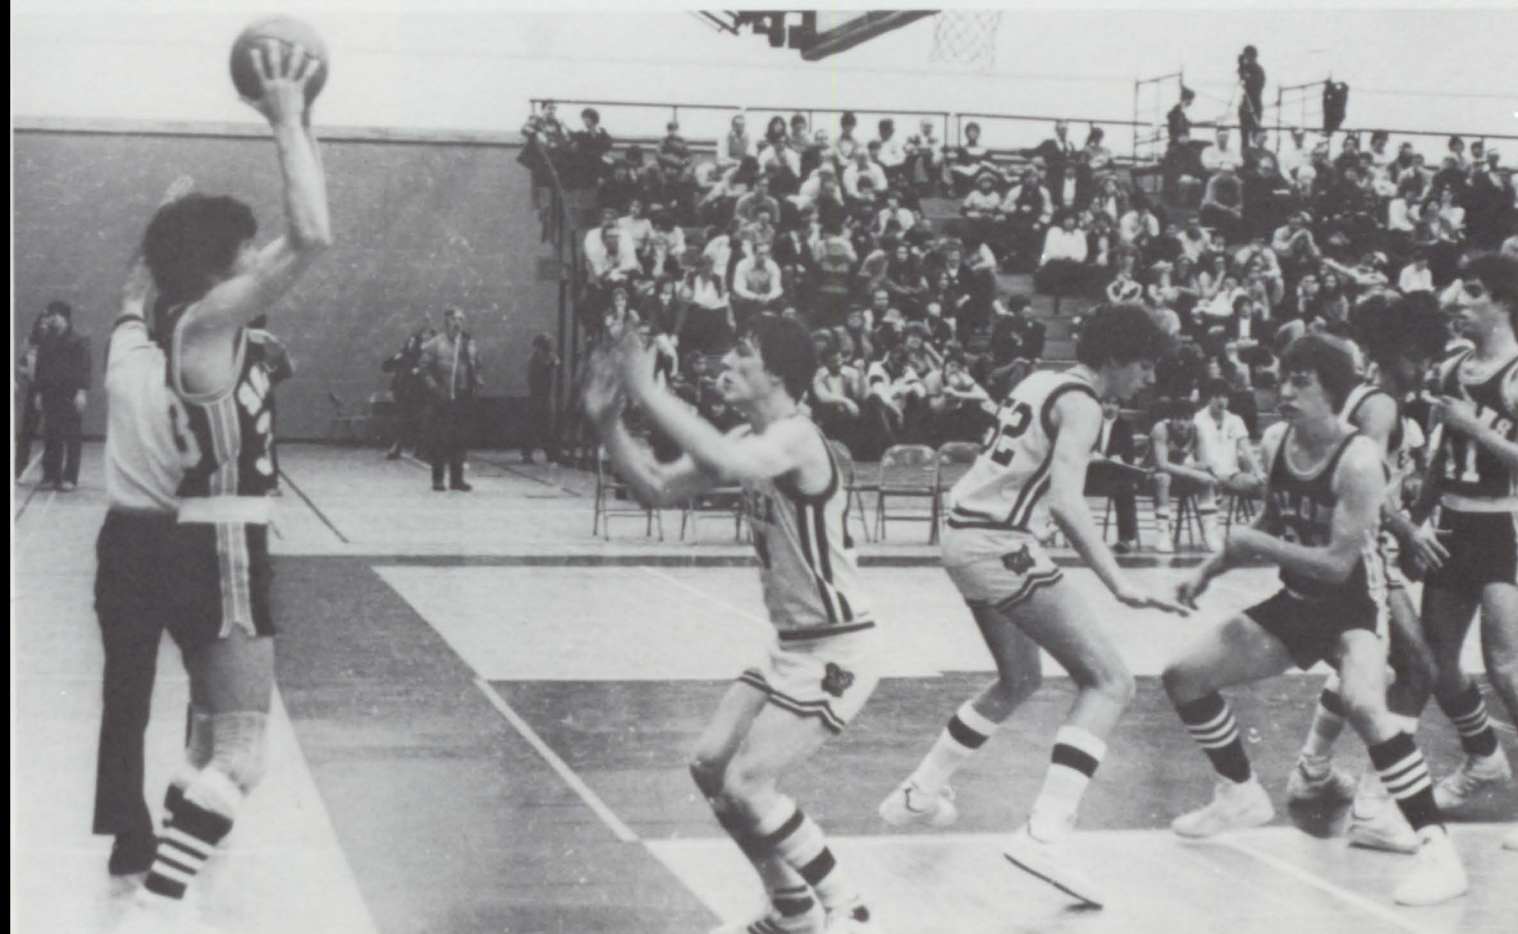

The situation with Winooski looks grim to leading varsity assist man Jay Mullen. A month later, the Solons got revenge.

Varsity captain Steve Robinson arcs a jump shot over the outstretched arms of an opposition guard.

Arch rival Spaulding is no problem for Brian Aitchison who easily hauls in a rebound.

State tournament competition was rough for the varsity team. Dan Ober maneuvers into position for Steve Robinson's inbound pass.

Finally . . . Lots of SNOW!

Alpine skier Leslie Eaton easily skims through the gates.

The 1981-'82 winter was cold and very snowy, and the cross country and alpine ski teams enjoyed the weather a lot after two nearly snowless winters.

Although they didn't have a winning season, the skiers put in plenty of hard work and showed significant improvement in personal styles and times.

Coaches Nowlan and McGraw predict the '81-'82 rebuilding season will pay off next year.

Concentration is the key to slalom skiing.

The whole valley stands out before Andrea Ponsetto as she bombs down the slope at Norwich.

Solon skier Dick Cleveland brushes the gate to save precious time.

The snow flies as Todd Sumner works hard to cut seconds from his time.

Gymnasts Come Within a Hair of State

As the gymnastics program grows, so does student support. Solons watch Stephanie Morrissette perform her balance beam routine.

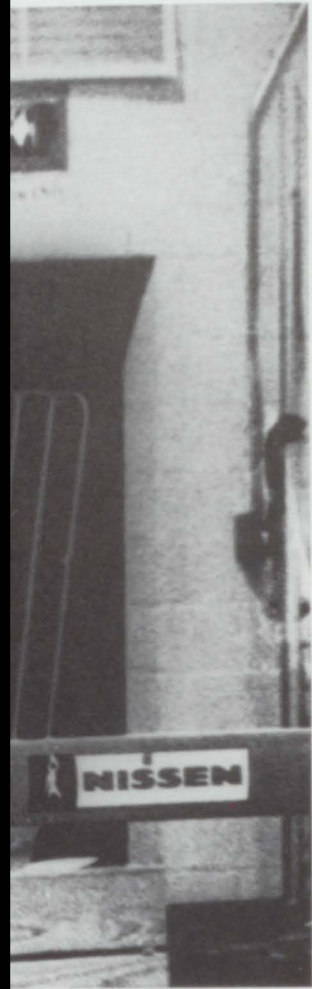

Floor exercises demand agility, skill and hard work.

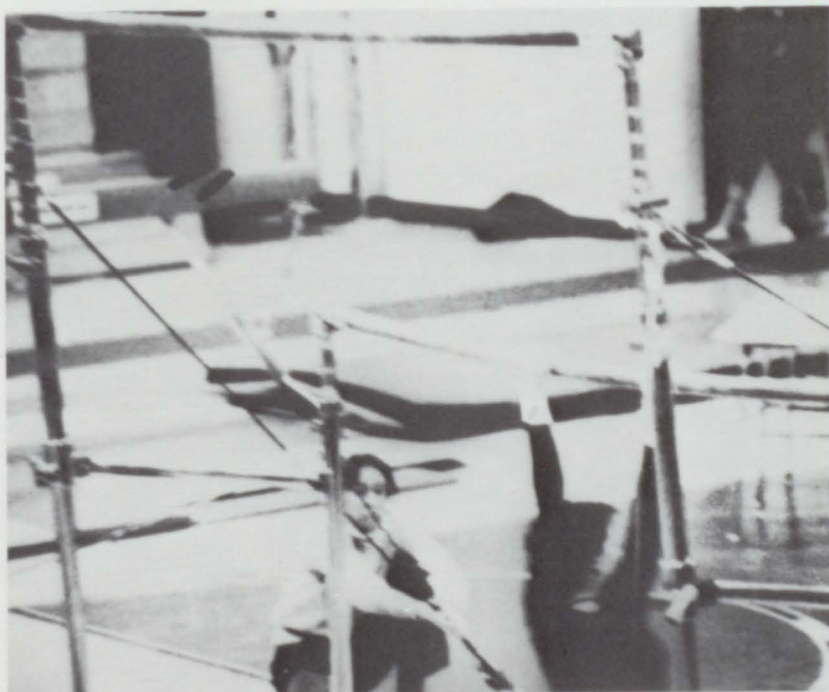

Amy Lincoln swings up on the uneven parallel bars.

Title

Patty Blakeman gets ready to do a balance beam handstand . . . and executes a near-perfect move.

Montpelier gymnasts have reached championship levels under the devoted care and expert eye of Coach Toy.

In 1982, Montpelier's outstanding gymnastics team came a mere five points from capturing the state championship.

Going into states, the girls had a 7-4 record. There, they competed against Middlebury, Vergennes and Harwood and ended up Vermont's second-best squad.

Becoming Number One in '83 will be a big challenge for the gymnasts. In addition to the loss of talented seniors, the girls also face the one-year absence of Coaches Toy and Duesing.

Girls Take Tennis Title; Boys End at 10-4

The Solons' smashing girls' tennis team captured the state championship with a strong 9-0 win in the finals. In their regular season, the girls only lost one match, while the boys maintained a fine 10-4 record.

Both teams will be losing five seniors, but they have high expectations for next year. Freshman Christie Coates is already ranked number two in the state.

Walker Rowan awaits his opponent's return.

The life of a tennis player isn't one of ease.

Montpelier's linksters went far this spring, coming just four crucial strokes from winning the districts.

The team, led by Coach Drew, showed a strong desire to win all season long. They used their combined talents to achieve a 6-0 record, which included their first win ever over Harwood.

The Montpelier Elks Club flag greets Solon golfers for every practice and home match.

Track Teams Shatter Records, Place at States

Champion high jumper Pat Sikora lands ever so softly.

Solon teammates compete with determination during a home meet.

Stretching for the finish in the 440-yard dash is sprinter Leslie Premo.

Long jumper

Cheryl Jordan leaps the low hurdles against her Lyndon competitors.

Montpelier track stars broke four M.H.S. records during the tremendous '82 season, and both teams came in fourth place at the state meet. Needless to say, their spring was memorable.

Eileen Geagan set a new javelin record; Dave Hudson broke the 880 record; the boys' mile relay team set a new school record; and, Pat Sikora upset a high jump record that had been standing for 25 years.

The girls' team completed a 5-3 season, and they were very satisfied to have done so well, only losing to Class L teams.

The largest boys' team in the history of the school — 70 athletes — finished with an 8-0 record during the regular season. They also beat B.F.A. 119 to 116 in the district championships before going on to states.

A warm smile shines on Coach Aja's face as his boys pull closer to states.

J.V. Girls Lead Sluggers with 14-2 Season

Varsity softball players are prepped for a game.

The ball suffers another Solon's swing.

A great stretch at first racks up another out for Montpelier.

Pitcher Linda Blow helps the varsity softball squad move on to the playoffs.

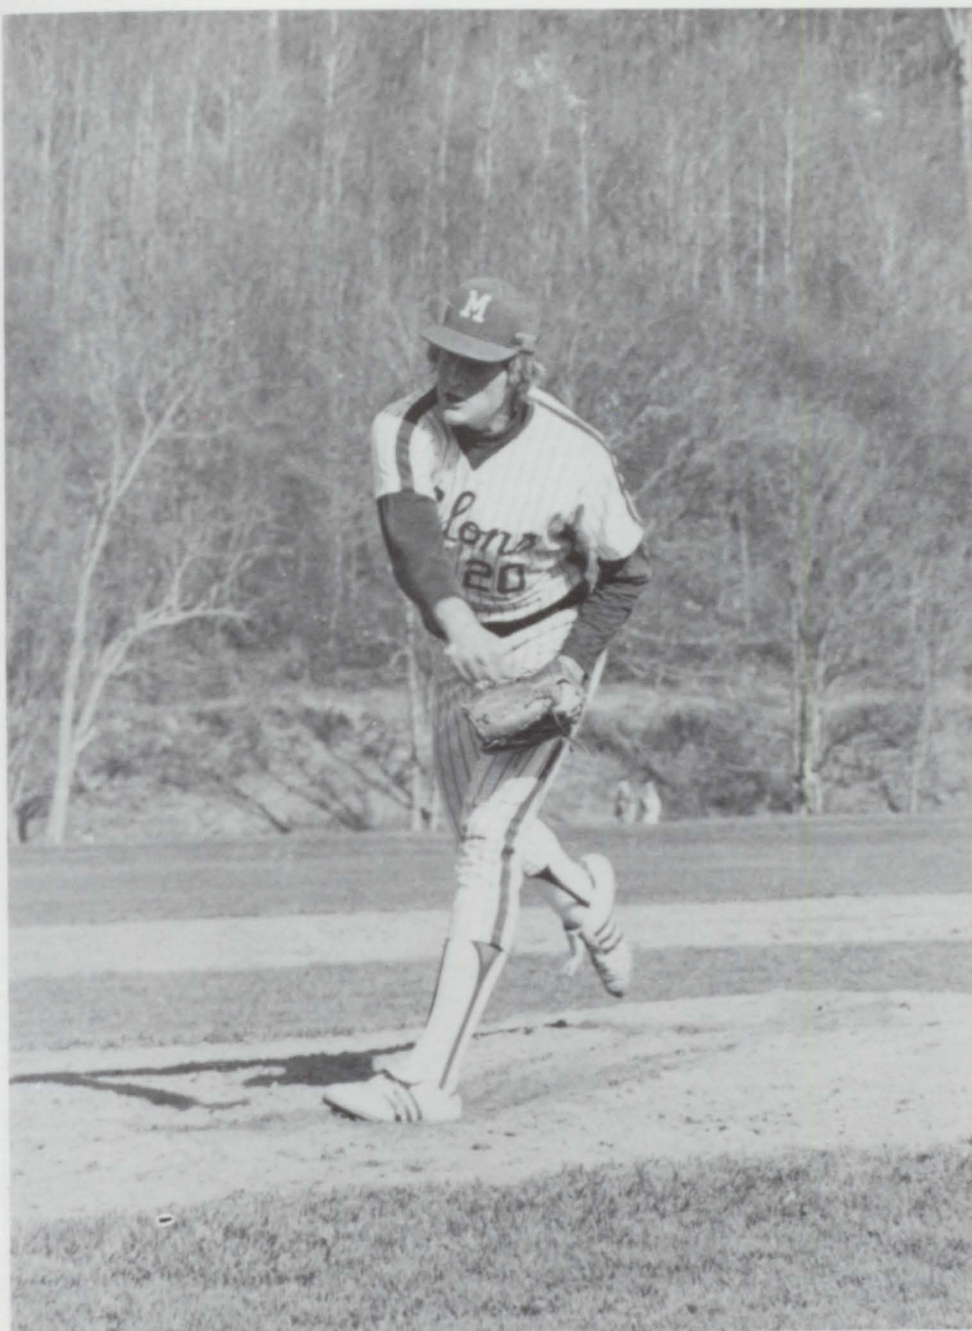

Solon slugger Pat Barrett waits to show his strength.

In years past, a lot of the glory on the diamond has gone to the varsity teams — and, particularly, to the boys. This year, the girls of our J.V. softball squad left everyone else in the dust, with an incredible 14-2 season record. It would be wrong to single out any one individual as the player who led the girls to their many victories; they were truly a team, guided by first-year J.V. coach Brown.

The varsity softball team ended with an 8-10 record; for the varsity baseball team, it was a 7-10 season; and the J.V. baseball squad rolled up six wins against 10 losses.

Both varsity teams made it to the playoffs. For the baseball squad to go, they had to win each of their last four games — a great ending for their regular season of play.

Peter Wasik hurls another fastball against Rice.

J.V. hitter Jenny Donald — safe on first — contemplates her next move.

RECORD

1982

Montpelier
High School
Montpelier,
Vermont

A yearbook is built around pictures. Staff photographer Mary Greiner checks a contact sheet of "mini-photos" to find the best shots for the 1982 Record.

Co-Editor-in-Chief Heidi Keck arranges items in the giant wooden "shadow box" that was photographed for use as chapter divider pages.

Photography Editor David Provost finishes a print in the darkroom. He spent hundreds of hours shooting pictures, developing film and printing.

Things could get a little nasty when deadline pressures neared!

Designing pages was the job of Highlights Co-Editor Dodie Brigham and Seniors Co-Editor Janel Johnson.

Successful book seller Cathy Goulet shows a few hundred of the approximately 12,000 dollars the staff raised to put out the 1982 Record.

More than 1,200 hours of work are buried in the pages of the 1982 Record, work that the staff decided had to be first class. They also decided to publish a fall-delivery book because that would hold down the book's price to students as well as provide more time for the staff to do their jobs well. The new photojournalism class expanded the Record to 208 pages, filled the opening section with color and agreed that — in keeping with the "shadow box" look of the book — the cover be brown! Dedicated community members bought a record number of ads, and enthusiastic M.H.S. students bought a record number of books.

Band, Chorus and Collegium Serenade Solons, Build Spirit

The fruits of constant practicing pay off for the M.H.S. band at its spring concert.

Montpelier's musicians are talented, spirited people. They put on many concerts at Smilie Auditorium and are also called upon to perform frequently for other audiences. To help build spirit, the band plays for home games and also marches in parades. And, under the leadership of their new director, Miss Stark, the normally formal Collegium singing group does its bit for spirit. In 1982, Collegium started off a home basketball game by performing the National Anthem for a packed house.

Montpelier's formal vocal group, Collegium, practices on the M.H.S. stage before one of its many performances for public organizations.

The chorus sings for a large and appreciative audience.

M.H.S. Represented Well By Student Council, National Honor Society

Council member Eileen Geagan dreams up good ideas for Homecoming Week.

National Honor Society shows off some of the merchandise for sale at the school store ... and does some business at the same time.

A hot issue before the council has member Shawn Sweeney on his feet.

Anger ran close to the surface in the fall when the administration threatened to stop all talking in the library. Students had gotten out of hand and were making the library unuseable. Student Council leaders, however, were able to work out a compromise with the administration, taking shifts as library "monitors" and restoring a pleasant and productive library atmosphere.

The council also continued to serve the school in its usual capacities, putting on an enjoyable Christmas Ball, maintaining Democracy Wall and keeping an eye on the upkeep of school facilities.

Serious issues confront council representatives.

Controversial decisions sometimes had the Student Council on the defensive . . .

Freshmen learn about democracy by practicing it.

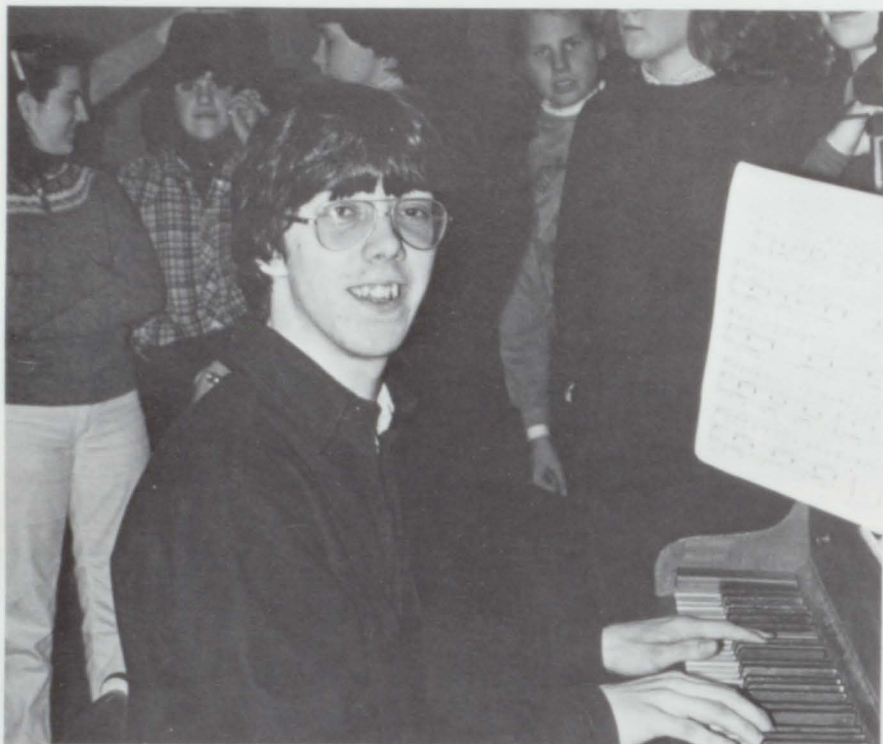

Student Council President Alex Ellerson led the effort to block an all-quiet library.

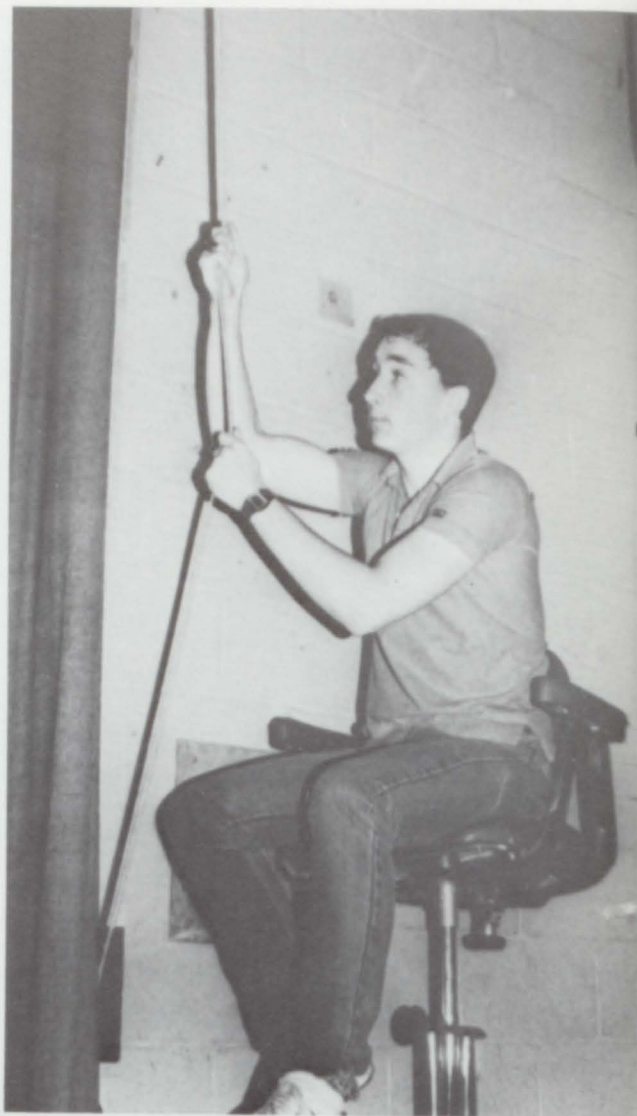

National Honor Society is a select group, made up of students who have done well academically and who show strong qualities of leadership and character.

This year, members ran the school store, tutored students who were having trouble in classes and acted as guides for parents at the annual M.H.S. Open House.

Masque and Crew Produce Great Shows

Masque accompanist Chris Shepard plunks out a tune for the "Pajama Game" cast.

The curtain is about to go up on another hit, thanks to the behind-the-scenes work of Tim Keefe and the rest of Stage Crew.

Masque members collapse in a state of happy delirium following a grueling but successful rehearsal for "The Diary of Anne Frank."

Miriam Novogrodsky makes up Gita Cheney for her title role in "The Diary of Anne Frank."

Almost lost in a closet jammed with pajamas and clothes is Masque Costume Director Mrs. Jean Balham.

Rehearsal time was not all work for "Pajama Game" stars Terry Richmond and Peter Brousseau.

Masque and Stage Crew have a hand in just about everything that happens on the Smilie Auditorium stage. This year, Masque produced two major plays. "The Diary of Anne Frank" told the story of a young Jewish girl's life while hiding from the Nazis. The musical "Pajama Game" lightened up the spring with songs, dances and lots of jokes about labor strife at the Sleep-Tite Pajama Factory.

Throughout the year, Stage Crew helped drama groups, musicians, guest performers and assembly speakers with assistance on lights, sound and other technicalities.

Latin, Spanish and French Clubs Stage Foreign Events

Mr. Miana and his Spanish Club keep smashing piñatas.

Mrs. Redmond's Roman army descends on other Vermont Latin students.

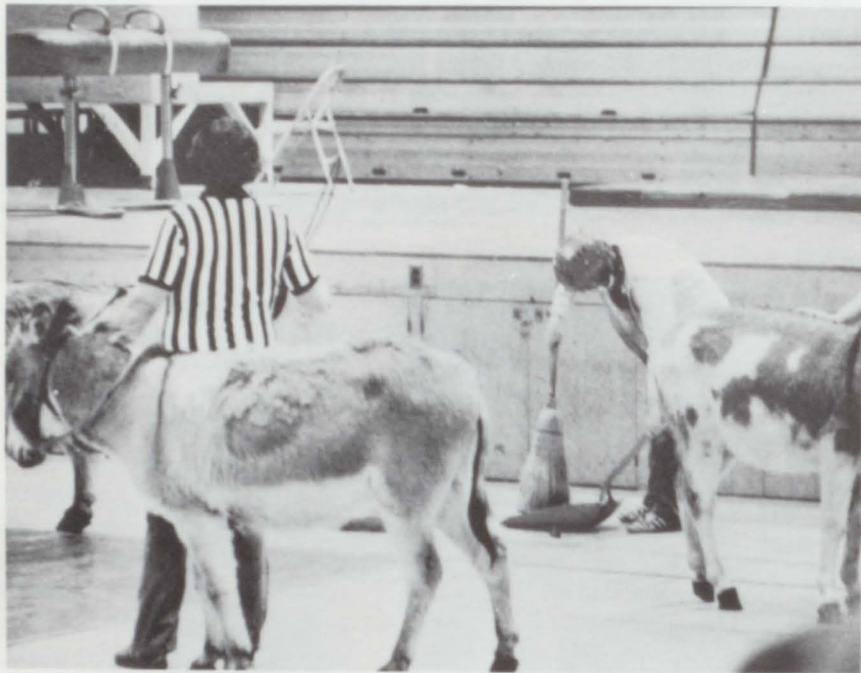

Live ... NOT from New York ... it's Saturday Night ... with Lisa and Todd at French Club festivities.

Amy "High Roller" Butler shows French Club Mardi Gras party reveler Matt Smolen how to win the big stakes.

Foreign language clubs at M.H.S. help make classroom studies come alive. The clubs specialize in throwing parties, and this year they did a good job. Latin lovers put on togas and packed up swords and shields, then headed to UVM for a day of simulated Roman living. Mr. Miana and his fellow Spanish speakers kept alive the traditions of Spain with their usual festive gatherings. And, Mr. Adamski and his French mob grabbed at just about any excuse possible to throw a bash. The French Club Halloween party turned the Richmond home into a wild asylum, and their Mardi Gras showed members what casino night life is all about.

Varsity, Pep and Ticket People Promote Service, School Spirit

Varsity Club isn't known for finding the neatest ways to raise money!

Varsity Club, Pep Club and Ticket Squad members go about their work quietly. But, they shouldn't go unnoticed. Their work is vital to the smooth operation of athletic and extra-curricular programs.

Every year, Varsity Club sponsors sock hops and a donkey basketball game to raise money for athletic camp scholarships. Members also provide crowd control services. Pep Club paints and hangs signs throughout the school so we can all get "psyched" before games and meets. And, ticket sellers ever-faithfully staff the ticket booth to accommodate Solon spectators.

Tickets for school functions go like hot cakes. Ticket Squad and Varsity Club members do a great job aiding the crowds.

Stubborn donkeys add to the fun at Varsity Club's annual student/faculty game.

Jill Graves and Melanie Chapman (left) plaster the cafeteria in support of our tennis teams. Their efforts paid off. The girls' team took the state title.

Meg Heney helps decorate field hockey players' lockers to give them a little extra boost of spirit.

A.F.S., F.H.A., Big Brothers Bring M.H.S. and the World

Foreign Students Enlighten Our Year

Pascale Theisen from Luxembourg

Kari Reponen (front and center) from Finland

Montpelier High School was again fortunate to have foreign students to share the year's experiences. The A.F.S. club made sure the three international visitors felt at home.

Club members also got to do a little traveling. They raised money and went on an exchange trip to Lawrenceville, New Jersey.

Big Sister Together

Thorsten Glaser from West Germany

A Montpelier wee one is fascinated by F.H.A.'s pet guinea pig.

F.H.A. members Kim Lovelette and Penniann Pratt cheer up a patient at Heaton House.

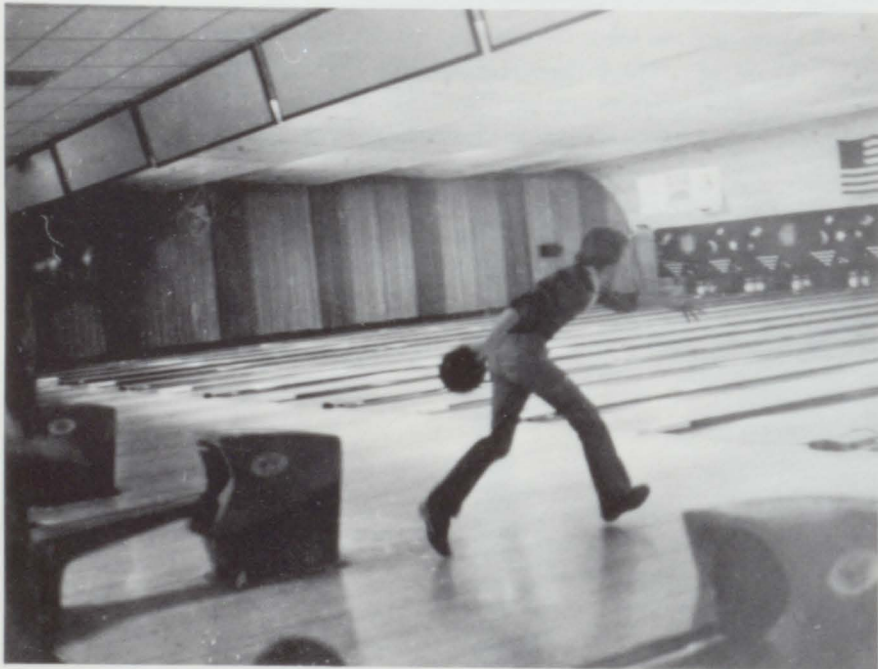

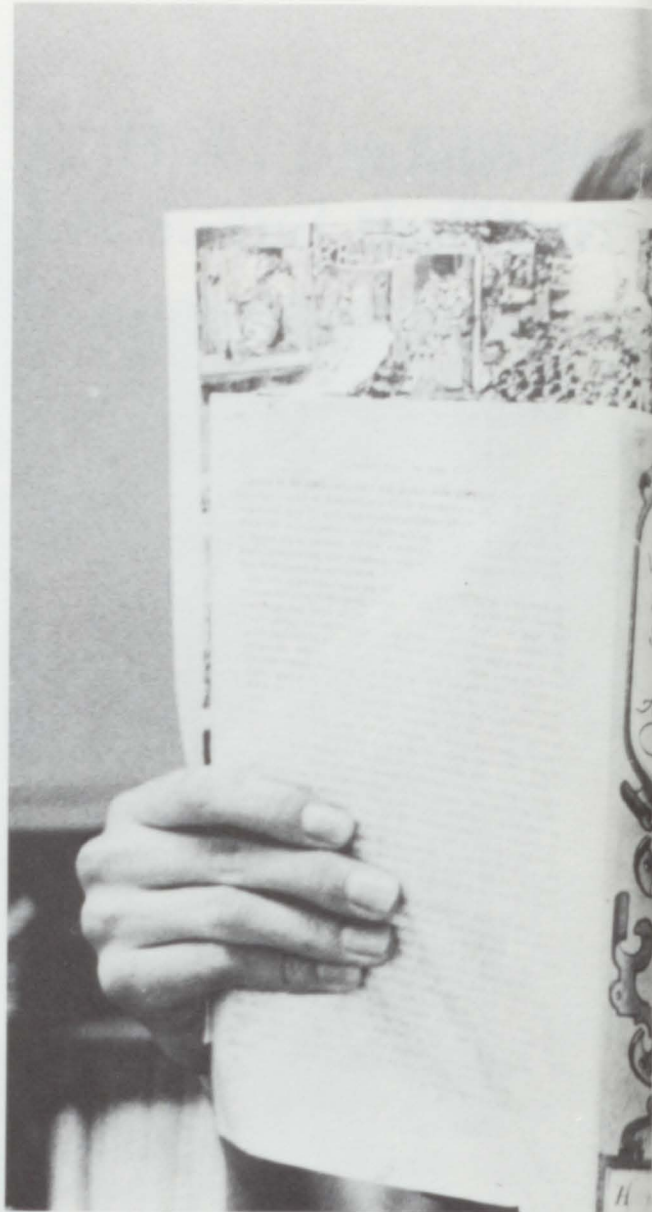

The Future Homemakers of America spent the year brightening up the lives of others. They visited patients at Heaton House and did many other projects for the community.

The Big Brother/Big Sister program linked up young children with high school students who took their places and offered them the invaluable gift of friendship.

Clubs Provide Plenty of Outlets

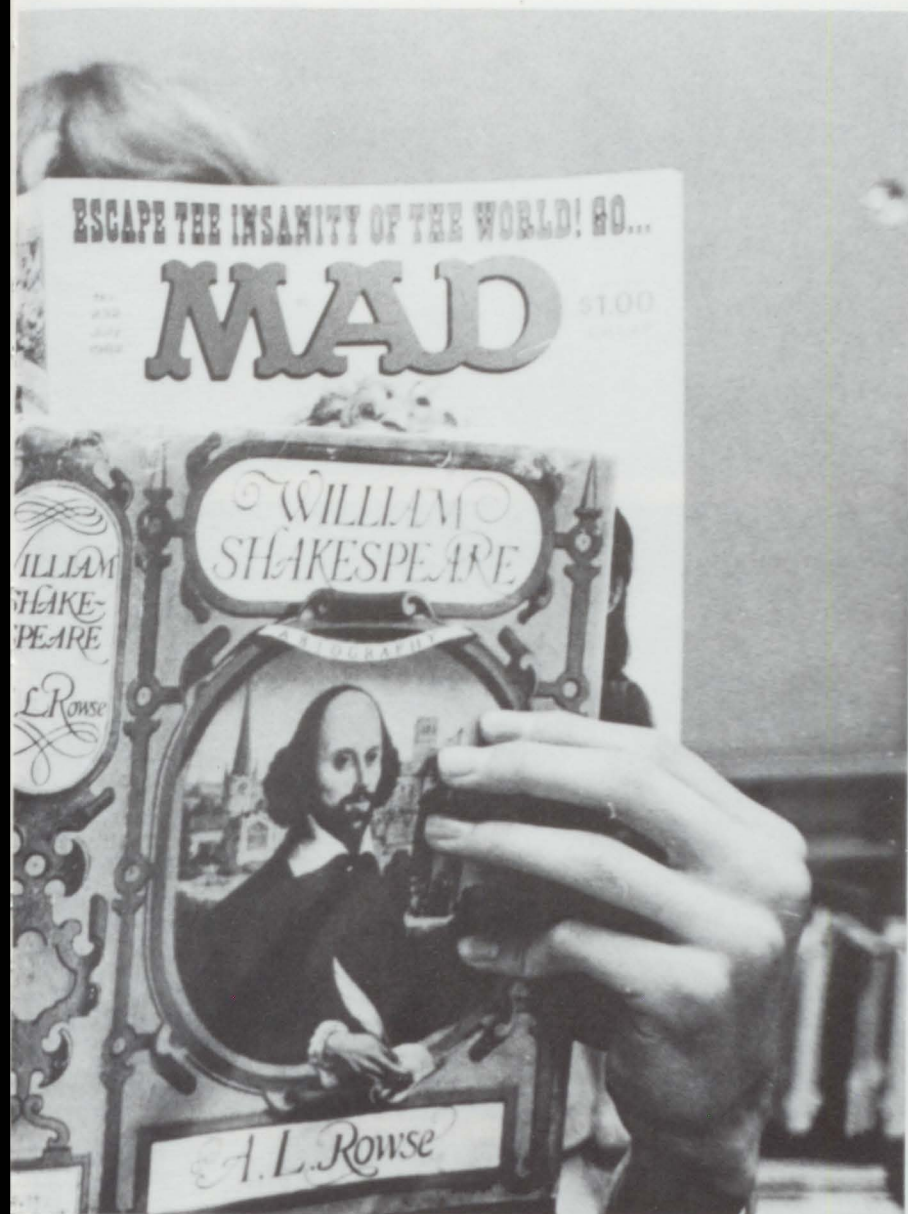

Scoring wizard Demsey McCann enjoys an outing with Bowling Club.

Mark Audy goes for a strike.

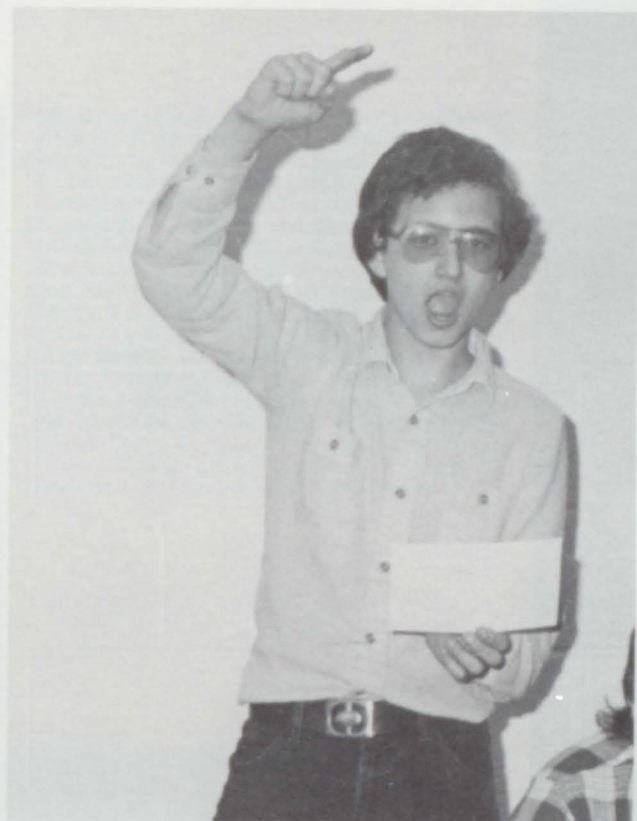

Hundred-miler Francis Burdett receives a gift certificate for new running shoes after wearing out his old ones.

Book Club member Alicia Baren studies the classics.

THE HUNDRED MILE CLUB — Advisor Ms. Lindner, M. Sclaro, J. Mallery, H. Mailman, M. Audy, M. Poulin, F. Burdett, A. Burdett.

When debater Rick Otten makes a point, he really makes a point!

Montpelier got a new nurse this year, and because of the new nurse, the school also got a new club, the Hundred-Milers.

Keeping fit is important, says the new nurse, Ms. Lindner; and, in the fall, she invited all students and staff to get out on the M.H.S. track and run 100 miles. Seven Solons took her up on the challenge and met their goal by springtime. Francis Burdett also won a new pair of running shoes in a raffle held for Hundred Miler inductees.

M.H.S. has lots of clubs, and although some of them are quite small, they really fill the bill for some people. Bowling Club is building up a high-charged gang that hits the lanes regularly. And, Debate and Forensics Club members are gaining reknown for their speaking skills. Cathy Goulet took first place in the state prose reading competition, while Heather Richmond, Terry Richmond, Rick Otten and Steve Folta placed in other forensics events.

HINT: The heart of ol' M.H.S.

To confound and confuse you, Record photographers went exploring around M.H.S. to find places few people had yet discovered. Here are the photos the staff came up with for you to identify. Put away your books, take out a pencil . . . and, GOOD LUCK!

HINT: Careful! Get this wrong and you may have some explaining to do!

HINT: You have to be basically competent to enter this place.

HINT: The old chair home.

ANSWERS:

1. The boiler room. 2. The faculty lounge. 3. The vault (where Basic Competencies are stored). 4. The boys' locker room. 5. The principal's office. 6. The upper-classman book room. 7. The cellar.

The RECORD Asked for 'Em and Got 'Em . . .

Choosing was nearly impossible . . . The doodles were exceptional. But, a decision had to be made. The notebook sketches shown on these two pages represent, in the opinion of Record editors, the truly outstanding doodles of the year.

"RED TAPE" means hassles. It means rules, regulations, forms, permission slips, testing procedures, punishments and more hassles. "RED TAPE" is unavoidable any time 600 people occupy the same building at the same time. Montpelier High has its share of "RED TAPE." Most of us learn to live with it successfully . . . and would probably miss it if it were gone.

Everybody complains about them, but nobody has figured out a way to run a school without them.

Tests! We fear them, avoid them, ruin our health getting ready for them. But, they show us how we're doing and force us to get ready for bigger challenges in the future.

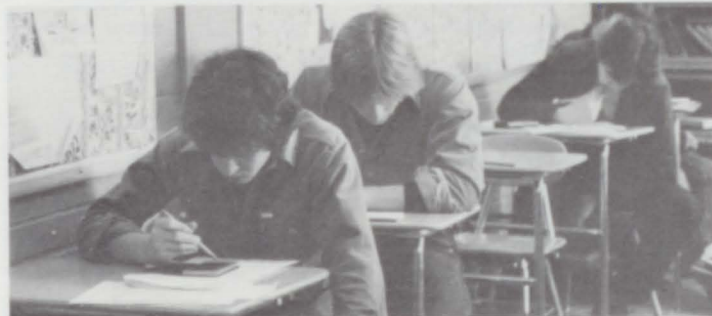

Some teachers have found a few ways to relieve some of the pain we suffer as test-takers. Some let us use notes. Some let us take their tests home. And, some even let us throw a few poor ones out.

Some students aren't too happy about taking tests.

Some students do experiments for tests.

Some students use little machines while taking tests.

Some students just lean back and take it . . . while taking tests.

Our Price: CHEAP!

“Fantastic Year!”

Montpelier Teacher Spends Year in England

The exchange trip wasn't just for working.

Ms. Walker arrived in Britain a few weeks after the royal wedding date. Prince Charles had to settle for Diana.

Ms. Walker poses with one of her favorite new friends.

GOSPORT, England — Montpelier math teacher Ms. Katherine Walker couldn't have picked a more exciting year to go to England.

In the summer of 1981, she packed her bags and headed to Britain for a job-trade with Gosport teacher Mrs. Patricia Reeve. Mrs. Reeve added plenty of good cheer and enthusiasm to the M.H.S. scene, but she picked a rather dull year for her visit. Ms. Walker, on the other hand, ended up in the middle of the royal wedding hysteria and, later, witnessed England preparing for war in the Falkland Islands.

Ms. Walker took off across the ocean to pick up new teaching ideas — and that she did.

This "Safe-Ride" poster became a common sight around Montpelier High in 1982.

"Safe-ride" Program Started in Montpelier To Reduce Drunken Driving And Save Students' Lives

MONTPELIER, Vt. — Young drivers are twice as likely as older drivers to die in nighttime alcohol- and drug-related car crashes.

Knowing that, the Montpelier Rotary Club came before the student body this spring to unveil a new project: "Safe-Ride." Solons were told that if they ever were "under the influence" or had to ride with someone who was, they could call the Rotary Club and get a no-questions-asked ride home.

"We care about you and want you to live to realize your potentials, goals and ambitions," Solons were told.

New "Health Awareness Day" a Big Hit at M.H.S.

MONTPELIER, Vt. — All regular classes were called off for one unusual day in March so that everyone at Montpelier High could focus on one big subject: health.

Scores of students give aerobic dancing a try.

Solons Go SHADOWING

Jeff Jensen may have gotten more than he bargained for when he signed up to "shadow" a dentist.

Sweeney's dream comes true, he'll be a pilot ... and then an astronaut. For his "shadow" experience, Shannon went on a flight.

Karlynn Canales learns how to run schools from an expert: Superintendent Johnson.

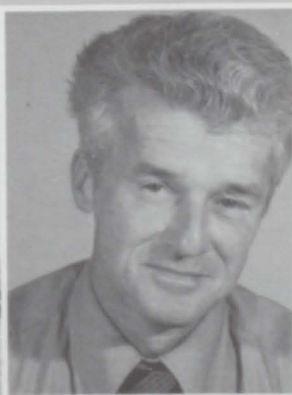

Lobbyist-to-be David McMullen checks out his future workplace, the Vermont State House. Later (inset), he practices his future trade.

One of the most popular special programs during our school year is the Shadow Program. Sponsored by the Montpelier Rotary Club, the program links up juniors with professionals in careers they'd some day like to have.

In 1982, Solons signed up to "shadow" archaeologists, cosmeticians, journalists, nurses, mechanics, politicians and people with countless other occupations.

"My new car? TERRIFIC!" yowls Ms. Austin. "I'll never save that many Green Stamps again. Now, the only wind I'll feel will be through the sun roof and not through the floor, like in my old VW."

Just like all of us, Ms. Austin has always wanted a hot new car. In 1982, her wish came true.

"Watching a child learn new things every day is a joy," says Mrs. Crocker. "Being the focal point of a child's world is a great responsibility. Motherhood is a combination of these things — great responsibilities and great joys." Mrs. Crocker spent much of 1982 enjoying her young son, Andrew.

"I can't do a thing with a saw and a hammer," says Mr. Sulima, "but I can do things with a palette and a brush. I find it very relaxing to go downstairs to my little studio and paint. It takes me away from the worries of the world — and the school." Mr. Sulima took up art in high school and has done about 50 paintings.

People, Too

Miss Silsby hikes mountains, goes on canoe trips and explores deserts. But, her real love is exploring wetlands — bogs, in particular. "It's exciting," she says, "to see all those rare plants. Also, it's fun to bounce up and down on bogs. But, if you drop in, the cold, acid conditions will preserve you forever."

Sure!

When the flames start spreading and the Montpelier Fire Department needs extra help, Mr. Brooks answers the call. For 13 years, Mr. Brooks has been a local firefighter, battling about 10 blazes a year.

Most fires have been quite accommodating. Only once has Mr. Brooks needed to halt an M.H.S. physics lecture, tear out of his class and put on his helmet.

The cost of printing the RECORD has gone up and up. But because of the generosity of community businesses and professionals, the cost of the book for students has been kept within reason.

This year, almost every student at M.H.S. has been able to buy a yearbook. They're grateful to you, RECORD advertisers, for your continued support.

A Final Word —

One year out of a lifetime can, at times, seem rather insignificant. We thought, however, that just the opposite was true. It seemed to us that the experiences we had shared would prove to be important influences on our entire lives. With this in mind, we attempted to capture in the 1982 Record the spirit, people and struggles that made this year a very special one at Montpelier High School.

We are proud of this yearbook. And we would like to thank our very dedicated staff for their many hours of hard work.
