

Our Echo

1960

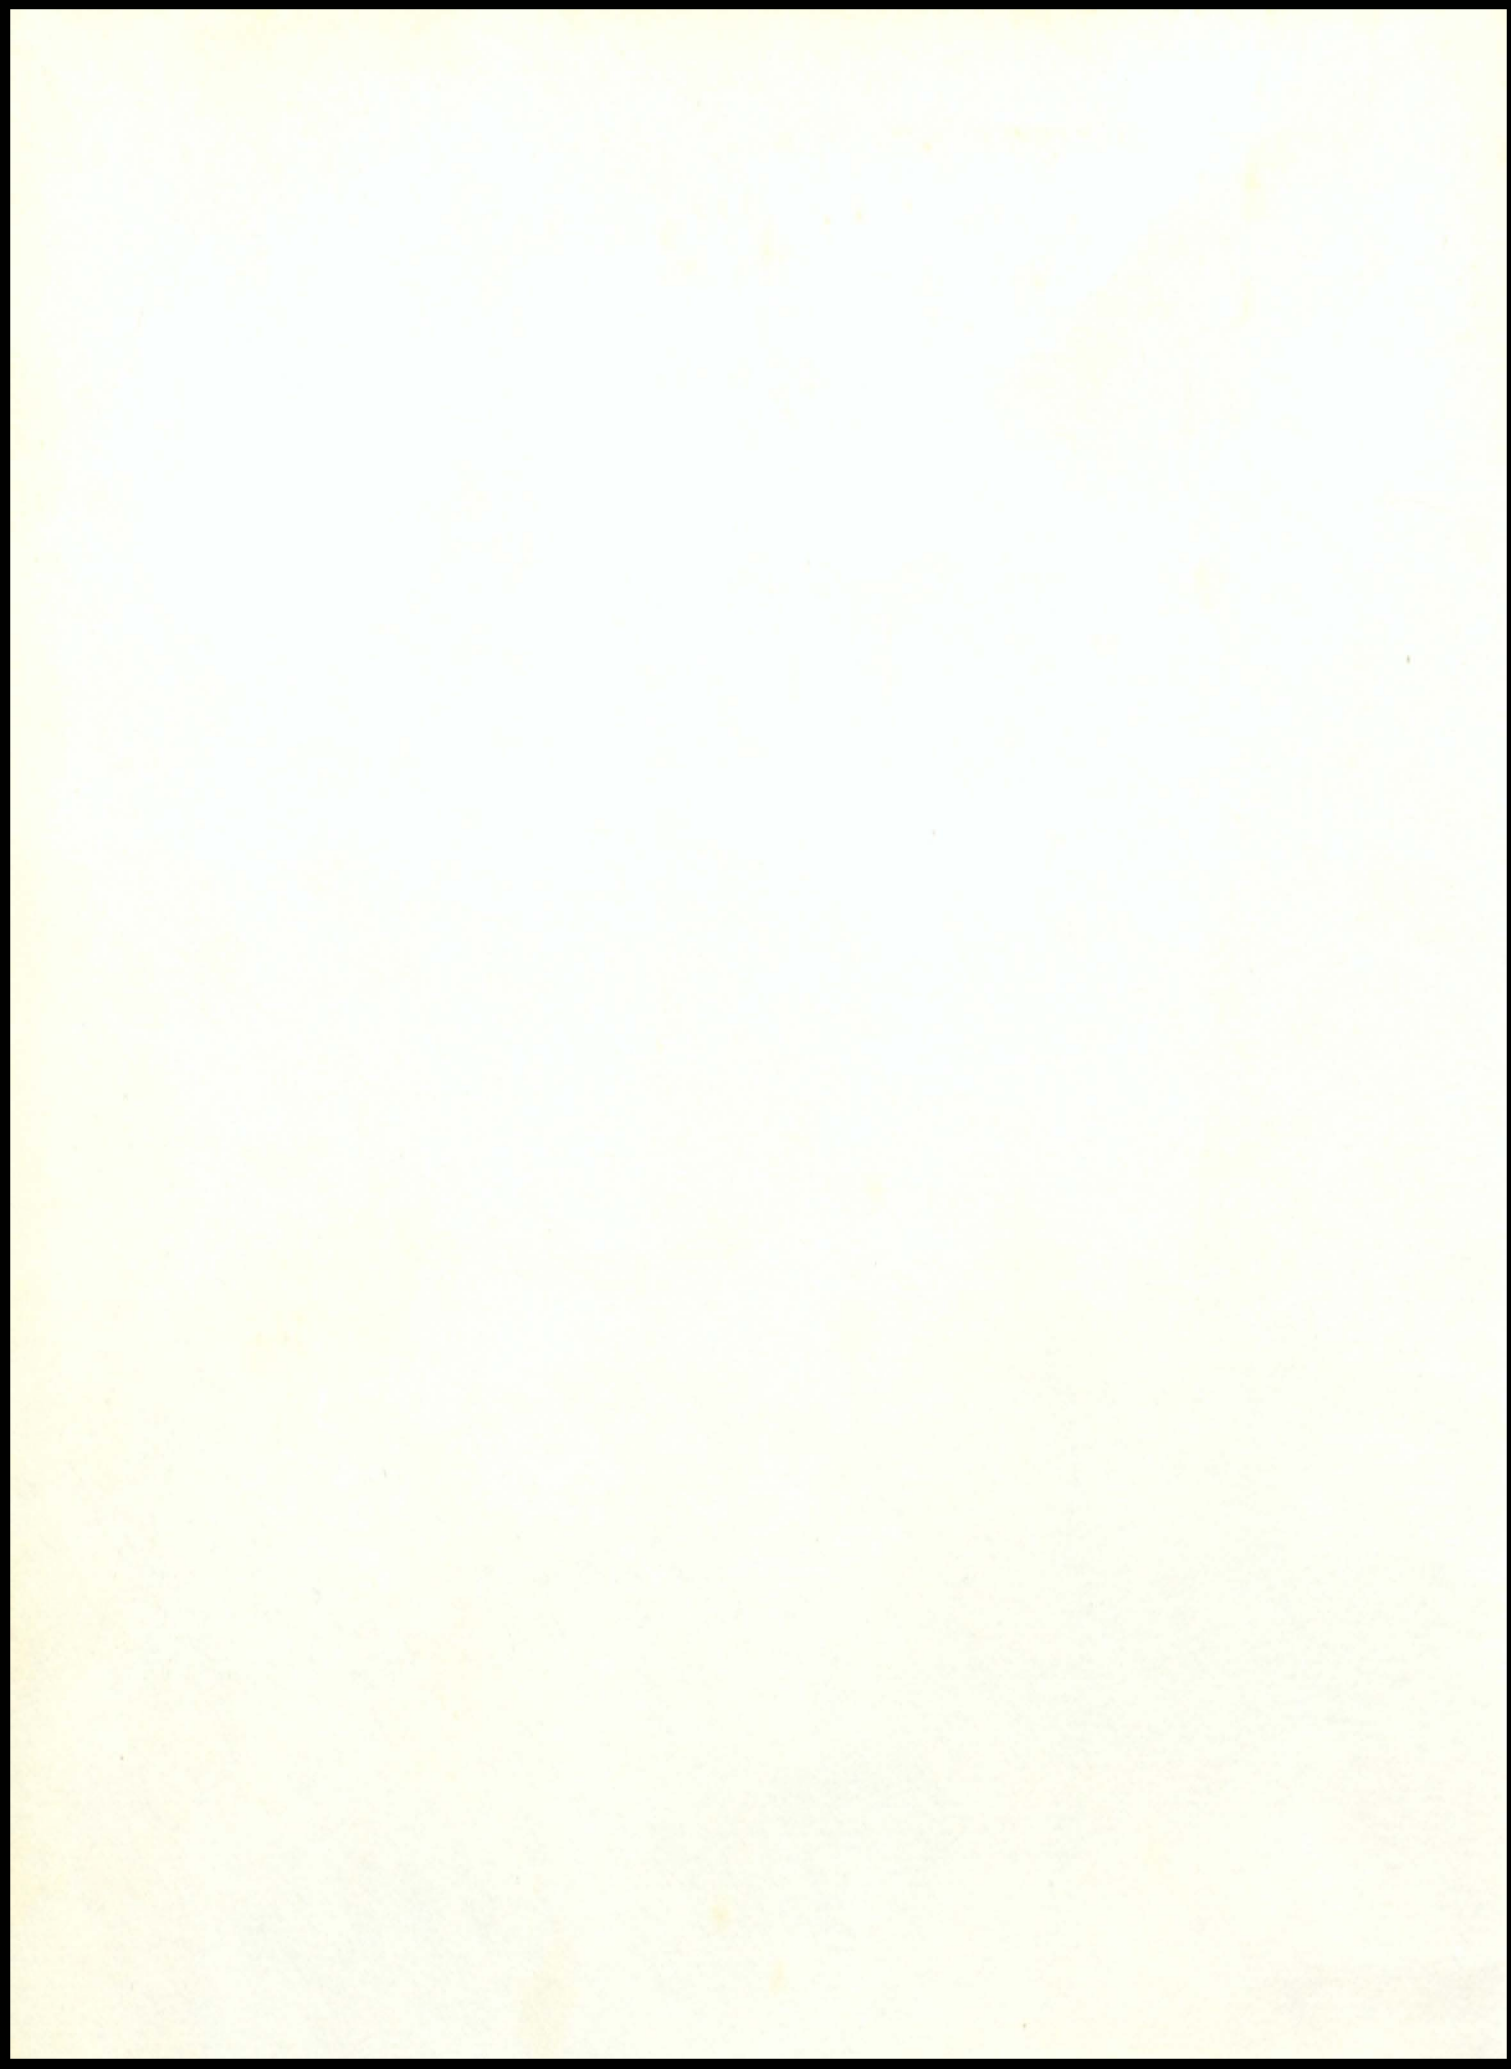

Scene II

ACT IV

Mcbrin

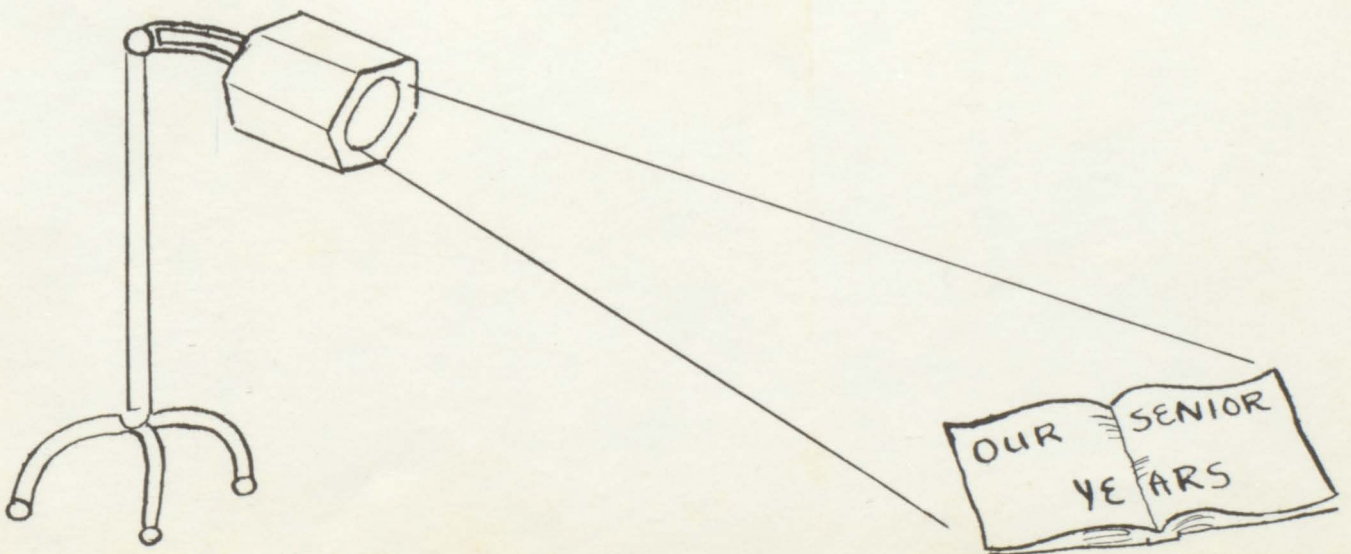

Foreword

"All the world's a stage, and all the men and women merely players," wrote Shakespeare. As we seniors look back over our four years in high school, how well this time-honored quotation seems to apply to us. With Spaulding as our stage we have performed the many and varied scenes of our play. The minor tragedies and impromptu comedies of our dances, sports, and studies have interwoven as the plot reaches its conclusion, our graduation.

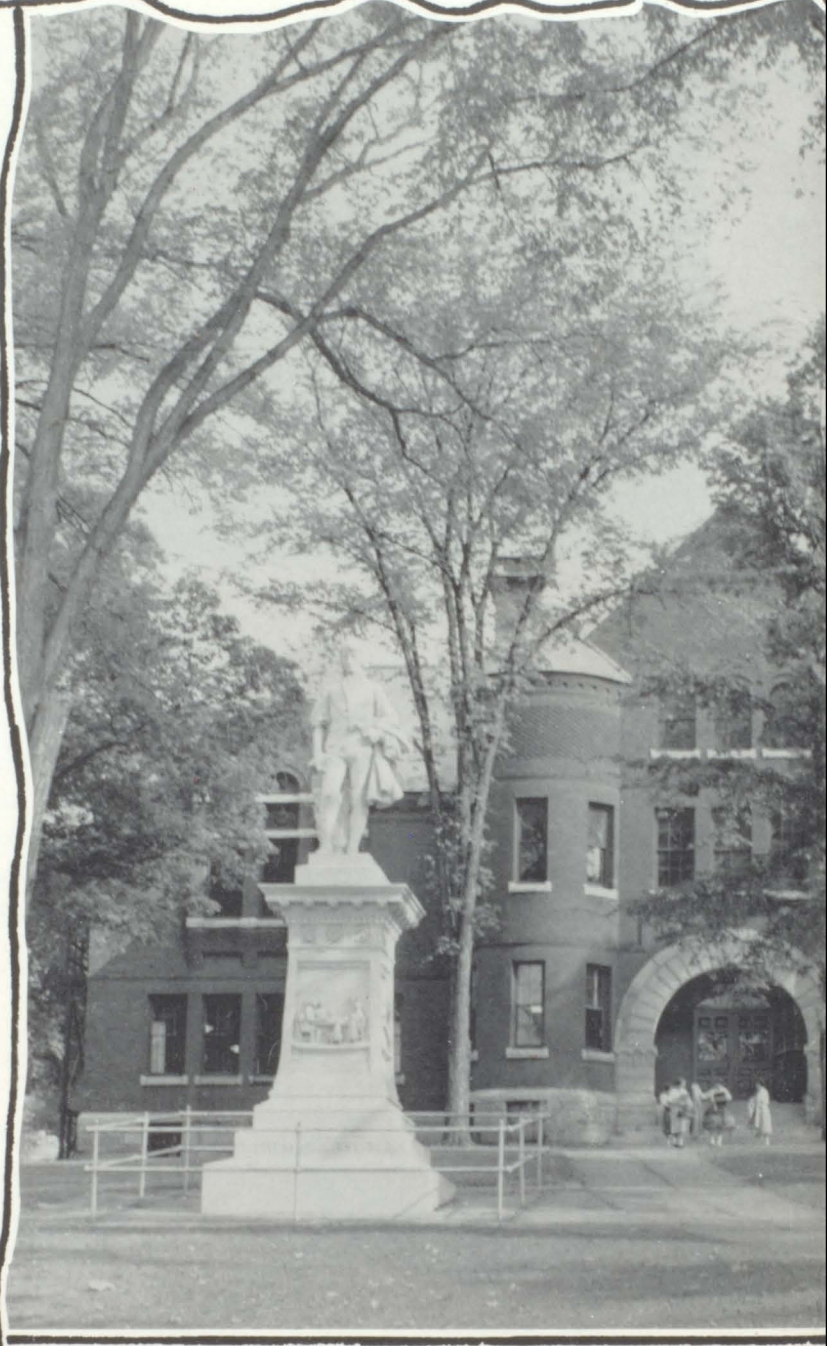

Join with us as we, now the audience, view ourselves as the players in our four years at Spaulding. Curtain going up!

Echo

Dr. Clyde Fussell is superintendent of six elementary schools and Spaulding. Dr. Fussell received his Ph.D. in '57 at U. Conn. He graduated from Middlebury with A.B. and A.M. degrees and from U.N.H. with his Ed.M.

CLYDE G. FUSSELL, SUPERINTENDENT

Class of 1960:

The curtain falls on your days as a student at Spaulding High School. The scenes from those days will be portrayed in sacred memory and, often, will be relived. They will serve to develop your abilities, to respect the worth and dignity of every man, and help you to be honest in thought, word, and deed.

May you play your part on the world's stage with faith, love, and courage. May each new entrance be a challenge, as, with God's help, you do your best to serve mankind. In the words of Tiny Tim, - "God Bless us, every one."

Clyde G. Fussell

Miss Stephen does the book work for the Barre City Schools, while Mrs. Tomasini is secretary to Dr. Fussell.

Mr. A. G. Pendo is principal of Spaulding. Mr. Pendo graduated with his B.S. from Norwich in '31. He received his M.Ed. from Bates. He also did work at U.N.H., Trenton State Teachers' College and Plymouth Teachers' College.

SPAULDING HIGH SCHOOL
A. G. PENDO, PRINCIPAL
BARRE, VERMONT

Dear Graduates,

You are about to be transformed from mock Thespians to genuine actors on the world's stage. For the past twelve years, as puppets you have been manipulated by your parents and your teachers, and you have responded well to the pull of the strings.

The stage is ready and the curtain is about to go up. As you face the world with its glare upon you, it is our fondest hope that you will play your part well and that you will give the best performance which is in you to give. We will be watching intently. We know that you will justify our faith by being sincere, true, and honest in this, your best performance, and as the world watches and acclaims, we too will applaud!

A. G. Pendo

Mrs. Pelkey, bookkeeper of Associated School Funds and Secretary to Mr. Devine, and Mrs. Thow, secretary to Mr. Pendo, are kept busy by nearly 700 students.

Freshmen entering S.H.S. may pursue one of four curricula: college prep, academic, commercial, or trade and industrial. English, a required subject for all students each year, offers prose literature interspersed with poetry and now and then a pinch of grueling grammar. We are given many opportunities for creative writing, such as the Voice of Democracy Contest, National Poetry Contest, work on Echo, and also the Sentinel. Praise should be given to the members of these two staffs for their toilsome labors. At some time during our years we delve deeply into the background of early American and English Literature.

Social studies, consisting of U. S. History, American Problems, Modern History, and Civics, play an important part in our school curricula in preparing us for problems and responsibilities we must face in adulthood concerning our nation.

The crowning achievement at Spaulding High School is the acquisition of a new library this year. Because of the great inconvenience to those students who live outside of Barre and who cannot possibly maintain a constant use of Aldrich Public Library, it is a welcome change as they are able to obtain permission to use its facilities during any free study period.

If you should pass near room 201 when the door is open, probably you would hear the bubbling banter of the French language, capably taught by Mrs. Sassone or Mr. Jenness.

Certainly, you must have seen students working in room 200 on geometry problems. Actually they are working on new "angles" to avoid so much homework. Perhaps you are one of those luckless few (brave, yes) who took senior math. Chances are that you would rather be on the first space ship to the moon. Any Spanish student who has heard of sequence of tenses will gladly join you.

their highly rated coaching

The science department offers varied courses including biology, physics, general science, and chemistry. When the echo of squealing girls resounds in the hallways, you will know dissection has finally started in biology class. This year laboratory periods have been incorporated into our physics and chemistry classes. As we walk that long-last mile, we see in the distance the figure of our chemistry teacher silhouetted against the wall like the cruel, hooded hangman.

For those students who wish to go into business administration, sales and advertising is the ideal subject because it covers the basic concepts of business.

and the extraordinary

While passing in the halls before typing room, you can hear the musical clatter of keys as the students bang out an assignment or theme. If you happen to pass an open door when bookkeeping class is in session, perhaps you would see the students studying laboriously over work sheets which just would not balance. To a student not well versed in the arts of taking shorthand, a page of such notes appears as Chinese transcription.

Home Economics is a favorite choice of those girls who may want to be interior decorators, dietitians, or nurses.

Students taking the driver training course find a welcome break in the monotony of classes. Our driver training instructor, who is more fearless than any Arctic explorer, takes his life into his own hands each day.

Our advisers have played an important role in our lives since we entered high school, directing our parts from entrance to exit. During our sophomore year, they assist in that all important event, the selection of our class rings. Formal school dances are also held under their direction.

In addition to serving as our class advisers, all serve on our magnificent teaching staff. For instance, Miss Austin teaches Latin and is the adviser to J.C.L. If you should see students dressed in long white flowing robes, don't be alarmed because they are only preparing for initiation into J.C.L.

Behind the scenes is

It seems that you can always hear beautiful strains of music coming from the assembly hall where the orchestra is rehearsing. Perhaps you can hear the deep, resonant bass voices or higher tenor voices of the fellows in boys' chorus as they harmonize. Of course, you have heard the band strike up a catchy tune with the drums providing a tremendous background roar.

Art is an elective chosen by those students who wish to display their creative abilities.

If you should hear whistles blowing or the resounding thud of a basketball against the backboard, you will know that gym is in progress. When you hear pupils complaining of aching, overworked muscles, you will probably deduct that physical exercises have been in progress.

our unfailing stage crew

Sometimes while walking between classes, notice particularly the "angels with brooms" who keep our hallways free from litter and our classrooms neat and cheerful.

It is nearly lunchtime, and you did not have time for breakfast. Can't you smell those intriguing odors wafting through the halls? The bell rings, the race is on.

ACT III

Our Freshman, Sophomore, and Junior years represent three acts in our drama. A brief synopsis of these scenes follows in our underclass years' section.

John, Marshall, Bob, Stan, Shirley and Lloyd are welcomed as freshmen.

Freshmen make debuts.

Maxine, Lorna, Linda, and Anita serve at the sugar house.

In September, 1956, Variety announced that new players were being sought by the Spaulding theater. When the bell rang on September 4, the prospective actors and actresses crowded into the theater. For most of us, our life as understudies began.

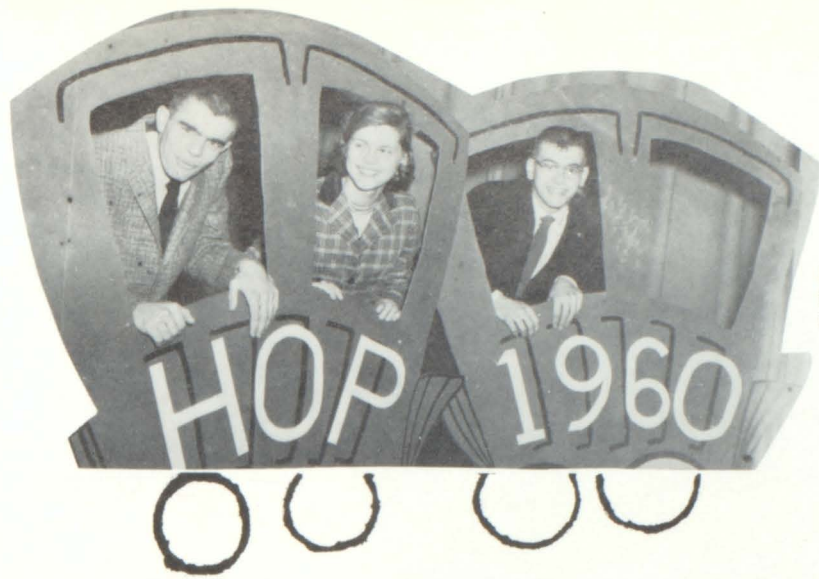

On September 7, former director Allison welcomed the new understudies into the world behind the footlights and expressed his wish for a happy four years.

On September 28, a huge party was held to welcome the newcomers into the theater. The Freshman Reception was a great success.

When school closed that June, we looked toward our Sophomore year with mixed emotions.

Our freshman officers are W. Aimi, D. James, C. Saia and P. Fisher.

Dave, Sonja, and Steve smile from the train, but Cindy missed the trip.

Sophomores "ham it up."

When the bell rang in September, 1958, the theater called once more. From our summer jobs we came forth, glad to be once more a part of the theater.

Again, we were caught up in the whirlwind of activities. At our Sophomore Hop, beautifully-dressed young ladies and their escorts visited country after country as they whirled around the dance floor to the theme of "Around the World in 80 Days."

After an evening of enchantment we returned to the world of reality as we settled down to the business of choosing our class ring.

The year passed swiftly. We left with the thought that the next year we would be upper-classmen.

Don't you like the ring, David?

It's an inside job.

The committee works in the shadow of a volcano to bring forth our Junior Prom.

Printed invitations announced the coming of the prom to be held on May 22, 1959. In the shadow of the Hawaiian moon, amid the tropical palms floated the melodious strains of Hawaiian music.

Led by the class officers, the understudies, decked in their leis, glided around the floor to the music of the grand march.

On the stage, the Hawaiian volcano puffed and smoked filling the auditorium with an island atmosphere.

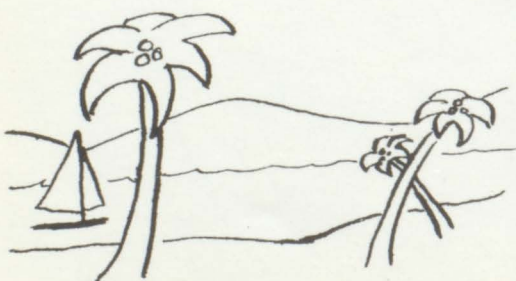

The little hula girls danced across the programs keeping the magic spirit of Hawaii ever alive.

Juniors stage

Ray, Sue, Joann, and Steve set the scene.

Mary Jane puts the finishing touches on Steve.

As juniors we staged "The Storm," the story of Jeff Mulky (Jim Richardson) who had been in an accident killing a mother and daughter.

Each storm brought back memories until Jeff and his wife (Shirley Gray) escaped to the mountains.

Suddenly, a rap on the door announced a hunter (Stan Rome). Sipping coffee, he told of a family conflict. The wife left with their daughter. Returning, they were killed in an accident.

Suddenly it dawned on Jeff that the man and the hunter were one. The cabin door opened, and there entered a woman and girl (Cindy Reed and Sue Faulkner).

When night fell, the three visitors left, but the tracks of only one showed in the snow.

The officers lead the grand march.

a spectacular.

The magic moon glistens over the orchestra.

The dancers enjoy the Hawaiian Hop.

Apart from the main action of our drama, much time and work is spent on various details of the production which add to its success. To accomplish this, members of the cast gather together to share their talents in extra-curricular activities.

Two hundred and sixty-eight junior boys spent June 14-20, 1959 at Norwich University for the annual Vermont Boys' State. Representing S.H.S. were Paul Dernavich, Lloyd Gearson, Dick Hutchins, Steve Induni, Bob Johnson, Jeff Jones, Dick LaCross, John Milne, Don Mugford, and Ed Perantoni.

The week was spent in an atmosphere for governmental education and rain. Upon our arrival, we began campaigning for various town, county, and state offices, with all boys returning with at least one position. Ironically, Steve Induni was defeated by Bob Babcock for lieutenant-governor.

All in all, the boys had a great time and returned home well informed on our government.

Most of our campaigning was done on the bulletin boards.

During the week of June 14, 1959, five very happy girls from Spaulding journeyed to Montpelier to attend Green Mountain Girls' State.

We arrived bag and baggage, and were directed to our towns and counties. As the week progressed, we became more and more involved in governmental and political affairs, including making speeches and campaigning. The week certainly flew by and on the last day tears were abundant and handkerchiefs were the order of the day.

The sponsoring organizations were Eastern Star for Diana Sargent; Cobble Hill Grange and Barre Business and Professional Women's Club, Susan Cary; Barre Rotary Club, Marilyn Mayo; Barre Woman's Club, Diane Martin; Altrusa Club, Janet Kelly.

Having lost most of the line through graduation last year, Coach Slayton had to rebuild his line from end to end. As a result, Spaulding was shut out in its first two games, but progressed rapidly through the season and gave state champion B.F.A. its hardest battle.

Don Mugford, Phil Clark, and Steve Induni were outstanding in the line. Bill Aimi, Dick LaCross, Jim Mancini, and Ed Corey led the veteran backfield.

Don Mugford was chosen for the all-state first team, Bill Aimi made the second team, and Dick LaCross was chosen for the third team.

Spaulding's basketball team compiled an outstanding record this year, winning fourteen and losing only three during the regular season. Spaulding topped the Northern League with ten wins and two losses. We lost to Essex in the tournament after beating them 91-70 during the season. Bob Johnson and Romero Aja led the team throughout the year, with the scoring title of the Northern League going to Romero. The six seniors who led the team were Bob Johnson, Ed Corey, Bill Aimi, Jim Gordon, Don Mugford, and Bob Malnati. Mr. Guarino did an outstanding job in his first year at Spaulding, as did Mr. Rousseau in directing the J.V.'s to an undefeated season.

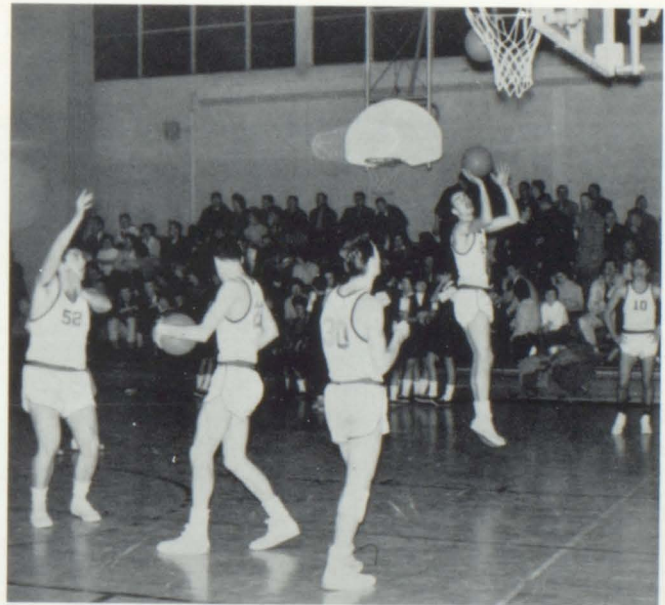

Tony gives instructions to Bill, Romero, Eddie, Bob, and Layne.

The Crimson track team, although lacking an adequate practice field, has done remarkably well in meets during the past three years. This year's outlook is not too bright, but the tide can expect to do well in a few events. Steve Induni excels in the two hundred twenty low hurdles and also high jumps. Dick LaCross sprints the two hundred twenty; Jeff Jones runs the mile; John Milne high jumps and broad jumps; Dick Hutchins throws the discus; and Phil Clark puts the shot. With Dick Lavoie graduated, John Cook will have to work hard to maintain Spaulding's excellence in the pole vault. With a little hard work, the team could turn out better than expected. Mr. Rousseau will be the new coach this year, taking over for the departed Mr. Huntington.

Spaulding looks forward to another banner baseball season in 1960. Coach Slayton and the team are confident of winning their third consecutive state championship, although lost through graduation was the strong pitching staff which had led Spaulding to two fine seasons. Returning to lead the team this year are senior veterans Bob Johnson, Bill Aimi, Bob Malnati, Ed Corey, Jim Mancini, Bill Downes, Bob Buxton, Paul Dernavich, and Jerry Foster.

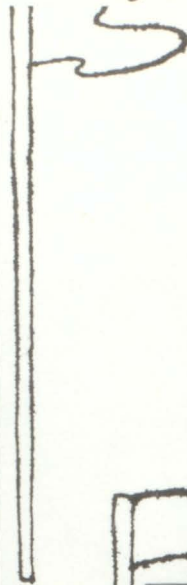

Coach Slayton came to S.H.S. from Littleton, N. H., to coach the Crimson baseball team. He is a graduate of U. N. H. and Springfield. He has played professional baseball and has coached at U. V. M., Tilton Prep., and Littleton High.

The footlights dim, and the final curtain falls on our four years at Spaulding. As we assemble for our last curtain call graduation night, we realize that our play has been just a trial run for a much more challenging performance. Soon we are to make our debuts in the drama of life and then truly "all the world" will be our stage.
