OUR ECHO

SPAULDING HIGH SCHOOL
BARRE, VERMONT

---

1972

Cover design and art
Robin Dessureau

*“The quarries . . . are things of beauty
The life blood of our city
The life blood of our town
Things of terrible beauty . . .*

*So it's up with the boom and down with the fall
Down with the fall and up with the boom.
And there is music in the singing ropes
And the guy wires sing in the wind
A slapping and a sort of wail
Go the singing ropes in the wind . . . ”*

The quarry is a symbol of both past and present. Centuries of geological development have created Barre granite, and now it is brought from the earth through hard work and ingenuity and know-how. We recognize that both imagination and ingenuity have contributed to our granite industry.

Granite lies at the center of Barre's history, while education occupies the very heart of its future. Spaulding High School and its fine young men and women are ready to play an important part in that future. We accept the need for hard work, ingenuity and know-how in education as in the quarrying and manufacturing of granite.

Join OUR ECHO as we catch the rhythm of the year 1971-1972 at Spaulding High School. “Up with the boom and down with the fall . . . ”

Listen to your memories as the pages sing of successes and failures . . . of happiness and heartbreak . . . for you have shared many of these moments with us . . .

“O, I see a lot of hard work and ingenuity and know-how Just looking at that picture . . . ”

Quotations from “The Stranger in the Land” by Franklin McKeage
Courtesy Mr. Franklin McKeage

One of our happiest experiences this year, a luncheon visit with older citizens from MacFarland House, was a cooperative venture between the Food Trades class and the Humanities class. The older students planned and prepared a special menu, after consulting with administrators at MacFarland House. The younger students in the Humanities class acted as hosts and hostesses and presented an excellent and varied program on the American Indian for their guests.

Spaulding students are sharing in the physical growth of the greater Barre community. Boys in the Building Trades class have been erecting a ranch style home on Gallow Avenue, which will be completed in the fall of '72. This is the second home that students in this course have built; the first, on Beacon Heights, has already been sold.

The Walk-a-thon, a new project this year, caught the imaginations of many students who participated on behalf of the March of Dimes. These students, grateful for physical and mental health, walked so that others, born less fortunate, might share more fully in the community.

During the year we became accustomed to seeing some very young citizens as they came to Spaulding to attend nursery schools conducted by the Home Economics class and also the Health Occupations class. These children played an important part in our learning experiences and proved that people of all ages can hold a place in our modern curriculum. In watching little people learn, we discovered much about ourselves.

1971-1972 was marked by growing concern for the environment, so we worked hard on BARRE, the recycling project, and participated in Vermont's annual Green Up Day in April. We also shared our ideas about beauty in other ways, with our exhibits at the Art Fair evidence of our talents.

Barre is an enthusiastically sports-minded community, and the Boosters' Club has encouraged wider community interest in school events, especially athletics. The Club's current goal is the installation of outdoor lighting for athletic events, with '72 the target date. The Student Council has awarded its Crimson Key to Mr. Edwin Free in recognition of his leadership as president of the Boosters.

When we shop downtown stores, we see how closely the academic programs of SHS are tied to the community. Students in the Distributive Education course work in many local stores, with local merchants furnishing the actual experiences which these students study in the classrooms, and in return DECA is happy to arrange to have Santa arrive right on schedule for the Merchants' Bureau Christmas festivities.

We are proud of the several SHS students dedicated to the Big Brother-Big Sister project, giving help and encouragement to children who need adult guidance and interest. The idea of the project is to give those children an opportunity to do things they ordinarily couldn't do. More than 25 children have benefited from this student service.

We also cite those Spauldingites who devote many hours to tutoring boys and girls in the graded schools that they might have more academic success. These students cannot be identified; they sought no praise; their only purpose was to help a child.

And so this year we have listened . . . to children, to older citizens, to our teachers, to lawyers, merchants, friends, families . . . and because we have listened, we have heard the beat of life in our community.

When activities succeed at Spaulding, we become aware of family participation. Families attending our games, our plays, our concerts; families furnishing transportation, food for suppers, props for plays; families encouraging us in our studies, in our interests, in our friends. Sherry Clark's family is one of the many actively interested in SHS activities. Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Clark have just been named DECA Family of Barre. They hold the distinction of having had 4 children and a son-in-law participating in the DECA program.

The full realization of our roles in the adult community came when several seniors were called upon to perform their first real responsibilities as citizens — to serve a jurors at the Vermont District Court. We knew that we could now vote, but somehow we had not thought of the responsibility of sitting on a jury to decide the fate of a person accused and to try to make sure that all parties receive justice. Among those fulfilling this civic duty were George Watt, Eileen Gendron, James Austin, Peter Norkeveck, Michael Stevens, Donna Conti, and Stephen Nutter. Also called to duty were Claude Viens, Alain LeClerc, and Ernest Lavigne. Peter Norkeveck boasts of being the youngeest juror in the state; he was 18 the day the jury drawing began.

Everyone settles down to studying . . .

Humanities class includes many community projects

Mr. Duncan Robb, staff social worker, makes plans with Mr. Flink for patients from McFarland House to visit the Humanities class.

Five industrious freshmen in the Humanities class set out to improve the environment and establish closer community ties. Jayne Duranleau, Sara Avery, Maryann Dexter, Linda Delano and Joanne Fortier instituted BARRE, a recycling project for the entire community. The idea for the project grew from a unit on man and nature, and soon the students were coordinating the volunteer center on Granite Street.

Another successful activity found the students "adopting grandparents" at McFarland House. In the spring ambulatory patients were invited to a lunch prepared and served by the Food Trades class, followed by a special program on American Indian history and culture.

Annette Bisson and Lorna Gale display authentic Indian crafts for the visiting "grandmothers and grandfathers" from McFarland House.

Deanna Hayford contributes Indian lore.

TOM JONES

TOM JONES

"Tom Jones," this year's senior play, was presented on November 22 and 23. It was based on a free adaptation of Henry Fielding's classic novel of a foundling. The costumes were gaily contrived rather than authentic; the manner was a strange mixture of 18th and 20th centuries, and the effect was highly entertaining.

Tom Jones, adeptly played by Syd McPherson, grows up under the care of the Squire, well-portrayed by Dwight Harrington. Tom incorrectly supposes that one of the Squire's servants is his mother, nicely played by Donna Carrier.

Tom falls in love with Sophia, charmingly played by Molly Dever, and they plan to marry. Complications arise due to the plottings of Bilfil, well-portrayed by Jon Campbell. Tom is banished to London without knowing that Sophia is following him.

Misunderstandings arise when, in a hotel along the way, Sophia is mistakenly given word that Tom has forsaken her for another woman. In anger, she goes to the home of her maiden aunt. Realizing what has happened, Tom follows her.

The situation appears even more hopeless when Tom is arrested for murder. Then he learns that his real mother is the Squire's sister. The big surprise is that the man Tom had killed is not dead. So — Tom is freed, and he and Sophia are happily married.

— from "The Sentinel"

"I brought him to you hoping you would give him a good home. Your kindness, sir, and your money are known throughout the country."

"... my mother ... aye, dead ... at Salisbury. Returning from London, she was seized by a gout in the head and the stomach ..."

"Take my purse! I've only got a few shillings, but take them, I beg you, and be on your way!" Duncan Ralph and Janet Alexander.

DECA's busy year

DECA's successful year was marked by the awarding of 3 fine scholarships to its own members in June.

During the year, community events included assisting the Merchants' Bureau at Christmas. Gerry Booth served as Santa, while other members judged store windows and private homes decorated for the holiday. In the spring employers were honored at a special banquet.

Spaulding brought home 16 trophies and 6 honorable mentions, plus Girl Student of the Year and alternate Boy Student from the State Conference. In May, 4 Spauldingites attended the National Leadership Conference in California.

Finally, all members enjoyed the finer points of marketing and distribution during field trips to Montreal and Boston.

Donna Lillie names Mr. William Mulconnery, manager of the Allan Milne Pharmacy, as Merchant of the Year. At the same banquet, Mr. John Tomaselli was made an honorary DECA member.

Ronald Conton, alternate Boy Student of the Year, with Mr. Williams.

Field trips to Eton's in Montreal and to Sears and Hill, Holiday and Cosmopolis Advertising Agency in Boston added special meaning to classroom studies.

Mr. Smith and the boys load the van for a Saturday meet.

This year the team was very fortunate in having Karl Lamson as assistant coach. Karl Lamson was captain of the Spaulding Rifle Team during the sixties and became one of the top collegiate marksmen in the U.S. while attending MIT. During the second semester, he was at home in Barre writing a thesis for his degree at MIT. His experience and assistance in coaching have been particularly valuable to Mr. Walker and the team since the entire team graduated in '71.

As unclassified shooters, three members of the team, John Barberi, Tony Willett, and Bob Thompson, placed 1st, 2nd, and 3rd in a NRA sponsored tournament in Hopkinton, Mass. A fourth member, Ronald Buswell, also placed

Mr. Lawrence Walker, who has contributed hundreds of hours of volunteer time to coach the Spaulding Rifle Team for many years, has been twice-honored by the larger Vermont community this year.

The Governor's Committee on Children and Youth has cited him for his service to the young people of Barre, and this spring he was the proud recipient of the Ralph La-Pointe Award, a memorial award made in recognition of significant contributions to the community and its young people.

Mr. Walker's dedication to the youth of Barre has received wide recognition in Vermont. Now the Rifle Team, the Rifle Club and "Our Echo" would like to thank him for the hours of patient coaching — so freely given — which have made our marksmanship program such a success.

extremely well. Incidentally, Karl was the over-all grand aggregate winner in this tournament, 1597 out of 1600.

Neither Mr. Lawrence Walker, who has coached the team for many years, nor Karl Lamson is directly connected with Spaulding High School, but they are both extremely interested in the young people of our community and have the expertise and the willingness to serve voluntarily. Our thanks to them for making this worthwhile activity possible for our school and our appreciation to them for our success this year. "Our Echo" is proud to cite yet another example of the many gifts of time and talent from the community's residents to Spaulding High School.

And now . . .
we challenge you to think about the rewards

The awards have been made; now we should like to remember the rewards. We have no photographs of these intangible rewards; each person sharing "Our Echo '72" must make his own list. We are confident that the rewards have been many this year, for it has been a good year for students, teachers, staff, and community as Mr. Burdett hoped it would be. And as we remember our own rewards, we think of Ralph Waldo Emerson: "The reward of a thing well done is to have done it . . ."

OUR ECHO Remembers 1971-1972

Cathy Gomez, one of the most successful fund-raisers on the business staff.

Miss Jean Watson
Adviser

Brenda Bailey found time to work on both business and editorial assignments.

Robin Dessureau, Editor and Photographer, devoted hours of time and talent to achieve OUR ECHO '72.

Donna Rouleau

Donna and Sue and Cathy Gomez completed a highly successful drive for patrons and sponsors. These three girls are responsible for raising the money which financed the '72 edition of OUR ECHO. We are grateful for their diligence and effort. We are also grateful for the loyal support of our many patrons and sponsors.

Debra Crete's reliability behind-the-scenes made our efforts to cover all school events more efficient.

"In short, education need not be related to one's career. It need not occur in front of a desk, or at the back of a lecture hall. And it doesn't have to be something that can be readily written down. Concepts and ideas are more important to life than facts.

Education can happen anytime that the mind is aware and alert. The brain is a powerful tool, if we make use of it. So now as we leave high school, we begin a new and different, but no less important, phase of our education."

— John Richey, Valedictory Address

"So, as the graduate of the business education curriculum of Spauling High School walks into the office to "take a letter," she has with her all the skills and attitudes necessary not only to take a letter, but also to take her place in a highly competitive, rewarding career."

— Sandra Huntington, Salutatory Address

"Afoot and light-hearted I take to the open road,
 Healthy, free, the world before me,
 The long brown path before me leading wherever I choose."

— from "Song of the Open Road" by Whitman
 Read by Brenda Bailey and Robert Guinn

“We’ve
only
begun . . .”

Steven Portalupi and Donna Bagalio give a light-hearted review of the class history and pay tribute to Mr. Burdett and Mr. Atkinson. “ . . . any school should be honored to have Principal Burdett and Assistant Principal Atkinson.”

“Before the rising of the sun we fly,
So many roads to choose . . .”

Mr. James Burt gives the Invocation

"Lord, grant that I may always desire more than I can accomplish."

OUR ECHO 1972 remembers with deep gratitude the

“And man has a will to be remembered
Wants to be remembered
Leave something for posterity
Footprints in the sands of time
A monument, something
A record left of his journey
A name, a date . . .”

The Burlington Free Press
The Vermont Development Department

We also want to thank Mr. Franklin McKeage for allowing us to quote his poetry.

And we acknowledge the generous $100 gift from the Class of 1975.

Finally, OUR ECHO 1972 is especially grateful to Robin Dessureau whose time and talent made this yearbook a reality.

We regret that arrangements for photographing some of our teams and groups were not successful. We are sorry that all our athletic records are not complete as we go to press. We have made a sincere effort to include all school activities for 1971-1972.

And now, as we leave, we remember . . .

the juke box playing "Angel Baby" every lunch period . . .
putting it all together to make the senior play a success . . .
walking to class with a certain someone . . .
the snowball fights after school . . .
the fantastic excuses that the office really accepted . . .
a six-week's term paper written the night before it was due . . .
the miracle of winning a game by one point . . .
graduation and Spaulding High School and . . .
