Setting Our Own Tone

A little known fact about a piano is that, counting the white and black, it holds 88 keys. This is the main reason that the piano was chosen as the theme for the graduating class of 1988, but not the sole reason.

The word piano is short for "pianoforte," coming from the Italian words piano meaning "soft" and forte meaning "loud." These denote the piano's wide tonal range from extremely soft to extremely loud. This range is one of the piano's greatest and most important features.

A wide range is also an important feature of the Class of 1988. From sports to drama, academics to extracurricular clubs, red and blue day to formals, there's something for every member of the student body at Spaulding. The members of this year's senior class greatly participated in extra activities and added to the spirited atmosphere of Spaulding throughout our four year career. We demonstrated with pride and energy our wide tonal range. We will continue, as individuals, to set our own tone throughout life outside Spaulding High. We will exercise our unique characteristics with the Tide Pride that we have acquired.

The earliest pianos built had a weak and fragile sound. Throughout the years, makers labored over them to improve them and produce a louder, richer sound. When we entered Spaulding as freshmen, we were considered weak and fragile. Our teachers, administrators, and coaches labored over us, much as the makers of pianos, to improve us and make us stronger. The strings of pianos were made thicker, giving them greater strength to endure the pressure of the hammer. At Spaulding, we've grown up and become smarter, more responsible, thicker. The Class of 1988 is leaving Spaulding High School well prepared to endure the challenges of everyday life.

The tone of a piano is determined by its action, the mechanism that makes the strings vibrate. The strings are plucked or struck by a hammer. The tone of Spaulding is also determined by its action, its student life. From Spirit Week and Homecoming to the Senior Formal, Spaulding students are always planning a special event. Sports abound throughout the year and help set the tone of each season.

When a key is pressed down on a piano, a hammer jumps up and strikes a string. The string needs freedom in order to move and produce its sound. We need freedom in order to produce our sound too, to express ourselves in the way we choose. One way in which we do this is by the activities that we select to participate in. Another very important way that Spaulding students express themselves is in the school publications; the Sentinel, Kaleidoscope, and Our Echo. Through these, and in many other ways, the voices of Spaulding students are heard.

Spaulding's Social Scene Sizzles

This year the Spaulding High School social scene was highlighted by many different functions including sporting events, school dances, and other various celebrations.

Many new faces were seen at sporting events this year. Field hockey and ice hockey each drew unusually large crowds with their winning seasons. The various games became a routine for many Spaulding students.

Of the school dances, the post-fall sports video dance was the most exciting. Students viewed themselves on three large screens, whether they wished to or not. The camera caught many unaware thus creating some extraordinary sights.

Throughout the 87-88 school year, several student functions were held. These functions climaxed at Halloween and New Year's Eve. The Halloween treat was set against a brisk fall moon where evil thieves ran rampant. The New Year was rung in at various spots throughout Barre. All in all, the Spaulding social scene, though slow at times, continued to provide its students with plenty of activities with which to fill their time.

A Welcome Escape from Study Hall

Everyone knows that there is nothing worse than a boring study hall. That is part of the reason why senior girls are happy to be selected as office aides.

Being an office aide isn't all fun and games. Believe it or not, there is a lot of work involved! Depending on which period it happens to be, there may be mail to sort through, or absentee lists to deliver. There are always absentee slips to snatch from each classroom door, and an endless number of notes to be delivered. The phone never seems to cease ringing either!

It is the office aide's job to help take messages, then run around and look for the teacher who is wanted on the phone.

"You get to learn a lot of interesting news being an office aide — like about all of the suspects for the bombing of the toilet!"

Another Night of Humiliation for Frosh

Once again this year's seniors created one Friday night of humiliation for the freshmen. Unfortunately, the reception wasn't altogether successful. The microphone stopped working 5 minutes before it actually started. The seniors tried getting it to work and finally gave up, leaving the name calling to the guys with the loud voices and the cheerleader's megaphones to get the ever-so-nervous freshmen up on stage. Once they were up, the seniors made them do things ranging from having girls make-up guys to look like Tammy Baker to making guys sing love songs on their knees to girls. The tradition lived on, and once again the freshmen were victimized. Even though it was slightly chaotic, the mighty seniors succeeded in embarrassing the itty-bitty freshmen. After the reception, everyone enjoyed dancing the night away to the great music played by Supermusic.

Traditions Struggle to Keep Alive

In the second annual Field Hockey/Soccer Tournament only two teams participated, one consisting of juniors and the other of seniors. The Varsity "S" sponsored program was still a success as both groups used their dazzling skills and unending abilities to the fullest. Many goals were exchanged throughout the Sunday afternoon which was filled with fun and excitement, hip-checks and body slams. The aggressive play and high scoring marked an afternoon not soon to be forgotten.

Once again the fall sports season came to a close with a Powder Puff duel between the junior and senior girls. This year's confrontation came late in the year and the field was covered with snow, but neither sleet nor rain could dampen the spirits of these lean mean fighting machines. As the sun shined down and the bitter wind blew, some players experienced a chill, while others had an inner warmth. The seniors capitalized on their first possession of the game as Lori Lessard ran in for the TD. But the juniors would not be denied as Deb Sancibrian caught a 60 yard reception and dove into the end zone. The seniors prevailed as Val Anjelico rushed for the winning touchdown, keeping the tradition alive.

“Senioritis” Strikes '88

One can not begin to understand the disease acquired while holding the title of “Mighty Senior” until this level is reached. Some juniors seem to think that they can understand, but truly they’re wrong. We the class of 1988 have caught “Senioritis” completely. We have become deliriously happy with the power we have earned over the entire student body; we take great pride in exercising this power and authority. Socially, we have no boundaries — we are as crazy and wild as we want. Often it is said, “Who cares what anyone thinks — we are SENIORS!”

Jobs — The Money's Worth It

Wham! I slam my fist down on the snooze button as I pull my head under the covers for another well-deserved nine minutes of precious sleep. But soon enough the shrill ring pierces the cozy morning and I know I have to get up. Time for work.

It isn't easy giving up my lazy Saturday morning sleep for work, though most of my friends and classmates are facing the same bleary-eyed tiredness. But we all seem to miraculously manage it — the jobs, often as many as thirty hours a week, the sports, drama and other clubs, boyfriends and girlfriends, family and even . . . the homework. We even manage happy smiles and pleasant "mams" and "sirs" to the grumbling customers and complaining shoppers, knowing that impossible tedious homework is still waiting after work.

But it seems well worth it. Besides building a sense of adult responsibility, that ol' check every week sure is nice, however meager, to use on necessities like pizza, cars, records, movies and clothes or just to save for college and the future. But answer this one: You earn money to do things, that you never have time to do because you're working. Still, isn't the money worth it?

Snow Fails to Dampen Tide Spirit

The tradition of Spirit Week lived on once again at Spaulding High School during the week of November 2-6. The students donned their special outfits ranging from Hawaiian to Reggae to the customary red and blue.

School spirit was fueled at the pep rally with the announcement of the Homecoming king and queen and the introduction of all fall athletes. Then the cheerleaders each received a rose from the Varsity football team.

The week ended with a bonfire plagued by snow flurries but this did not dampen the Crimson Tide spirit!

Homecoming — A Spaulding Tradition

Below — Tracy Robie and Jody Jewett know WE-ARE-UNSTOPPABLE!

Homecoming is one of the many times when the students come together as a whole. It's a time of fun and friends. For many seniors it's a time to reflect on the thought that this is "our last Homecoming at Spaulding." However, these feelings are quickly dispelled by Homecoming itself.

It all began with Hawaiian day, followed by Mismatch Day, Tie-dye Day, and the traditional Red and Blue Day. Friday night was heated by a roaring bonfire sponsored by the Varsity "S" Club, but soon cooled down with the snakedance in 30 degree weather.

The Saturday sports fans braved the cold weather to watch the parade of floats and the football team play their last game of the season.

John Vickery and Joanne Gilbert were named Homecoming King and Queen, and the float winner was "Spuds McKenzie" designed by the Key Club. Homecoming '87 culminated with a very successful video dance with music and videos supplied by the Frank Borsa Corporation of Massachusetts.

Despite the cold weather, the warmth of friendship surrounded the students during our annual fall celebrations; and the memories will continue to be warm in our hearts.

Chaos In The Stands

Gimme an "S!" Spirit is what Spaulding High School is all about, whether it's an ice hockey match or an action-packed football game. The fans come pouring in, ready to scare the socks off the opposing team. (Especially if the team happens to be the Solons!)

Tide Pride is a very unique "disease." It begins with an exciting jump — initial symptoms are clapping hands and stomping feet. This is followed by an uncontrollable urge to scream and chant. One caution, this "disease" is highly contagious! Every year it seems to snuggle its way into the hearts of SHS students, creating a sort of fun chaos in the stands. So whether you brave the cold or withstand extreme heat, as long as you can belt out "Spaulding," and look good in red and blue, you can be considered a true member of the SHS fan club.

In With the Constitution

Below — Mr. Poirier explains what the Constitution means to him.

In September, Spaulding High School produced an assembly to celebrate the Bicentennial of the signing of the American Constitution. Highlighting the assembly were student speeches by Michelle LaFrancis, Cheyenne Vallerand, Kelly Eagan, and Tanner Stonecliff; a rousing hymn by the SHS Chorale; and the Pledge of Allegiance, led by Student Council President Polly as usual! "The entire school is here!" said Tanner Stonecliff. "But why aren't the freshmen on the floor?" A change in the normal assembly procedure sent the freshmen into the bleachers and the seniors into chairs set up in the center of the floor. Everyone, teachers and students alike, found something to enjoy, whether it was the guest speaker, Howard Dean, or the singing of the National Anthem by Mr. Rapalje.

Student reactions were mixed,

— Kelly Eagan

Body Fluids Drawn

"I gave blood!" Kathy Shepard proudly shouted, while she showed off her yellow-patched arm. Over 87 students and teachers bravely allowed the Vermont Red Cross to suck their blood.

It took many long hours of planning; scheduling dinners, gathering up millions of p.b. and j. sandwiches and oatmeal cookies, and the biggest job of all — trying to convince students and teachers to overcome their fears and give blood.

With the help of many, the whole day came together, with 29% of the eligible students donating. "I was really scared at first, but it was a neat feeling to help someone else," said Stacey Harvey.

It's not an easy thing to have someone poke you, then watch deep red body fluid ooze away through a tube. But who could pass up the chance to save a life?

Adventure in the Hundred-Acre Wood

The members of '87's fall show can be identified by their once-white knee pads coated with dirt of rehearsals spent on all fours, squirming, grumbling, and dancing, becoming a creature of the Hundred-Acre wood. This year for the first time, the cast of "Winnie the Pooh" has become a Traveling Children's Theatre. Led by Laura Woodward, Kim Weeks, and Chad Allen, the Pooh players performed for elementary schools in the area, causing the smiles that made the grumbling worthwhile.

There is no doubt that the "Dramer" Club is slowly but surely expanding beyond the walls of the Auditorium. Thanks to the willingness of the unique people involved to try new things, this year had been no exception to the tradition that every show is the best we've ever done.

Most Memorable Formal Ever

The 1988 Crystal Ball was held on January 23rd at the Barre Elk's Club. This Student Council sponsored semi-formal was open to all Spaulding High School students and their invited guests. A tremendous 138 couples attended the event for a special night of dancing.

The traditional Crystal Ball colors of silver and blue were replaced by red and gold this year for slight change of pace.

"Rhythm and Romance" provided the music that allowed everyone to dance the night away. The combination of the wonderful decorations and very entertaining band made this Crystal Ball a huge success. "Of all the formals I've attended, this year's Crystal Ball has been the most memorable!" remarked Michelle LaFrancis.

70th Year for "Our Echo"

The 1988 edition of "Our Echo" is the seventieth publication of the Spaulding High School yearbook. Granted, this isn't as important as the seventy-fifth edition and really deserves little recognition, but we decided to mention it anyway. The present Echo staffers won't be around for the big 75th anniversary in five years so we chose to take due credit while the opportunity existed.

The first edition of the Echo was published in 1918. Prior to this it was customary to have a class picture hung in a specified room. The book was published so that each individual student could have something to keep their memories of high school alive. Throughout the past 70 years, "Our Echo" has been very successful in helping people to keep wonderful times, beloved friends, and fond memories fresh in their mind. May this publication continue to thrive for 70 more glorious years!

Kaleidoscope Honors Student Creativity

Kaleidoscope, Spaulding's art and literary magazine, produced one of the biggest books yet this year. It involved a ton of work, including rising at 4 A.M. to tie strings around red balloons! "It was so difficult choosing the work that would go into the book," said Editor, Sharon E. Plumb.

Many of the members of the staff felt that Spaulding really needs a place where student creativity is honored. "It's a chance to show your classmates some of your talents," said Mary Jo Roth, one of the Kaleidoscopers.

"The Sentinel" . . . The Voice of Spaulding

"The Sentinel" staff had an interesting year reporting on everything from hockey games to frog dissection.

We learned all about headline spacing, columns, and how to fight over the "waxer." Bill Vickery stated that "the things I've learned working on 'The Sentinel' will be a big help in college. Everything went by too fast though," he added with a chuckle.

Whether it was listening to Mr. Comley's infamous pig speeches, or reading about good ol' Central High and their performances of "The Runaway Pancake" — "The Sentinel" once again acted as the voice of our school.

New Art Club Created

This year an art club was formed by a group of Spaulding students ranging from sophomores to seniors.

The main purpose of the club was to take their love of art, and visit museums. They would then hold discussions about the things they saw.

Although their start was slow, Dalton Flint commented, "Maybe we'll go to at least one art gallery before the year is over!"

Right now the group is dabbling brushstrokes on the canvas, refining many features. By next year, the club should be a masterpiece!!

Drama Club — A Time of Growth

Found scattered around the stage are giant multi-colored building blocks . . . leftovers from "Snoopy." Up in the loft is the iron bedpost from the dream scene in "Fiddler," and backdrops have words like 'nurse's office' and 'library' painted on them from "Up the Down Staircase." Leaning against the dance mirrors are the wallpapered walls of the Keller home . . . so many different places and people, all created within the same huge space — huge, but never empty.

The stage has always been a place of tremendous growth and inspiration. Everyone who has ever stood on the edge of the wooden floor has seemed to be stolen away from the everyday world of anger, pain and confusion, and swept away to a new dimension — where our voices echoed far beyond the seats of the audience. For everyone at some time in his life becomes an actor or actress. We pay tribute to the Spaulding Aud., which let us use its space as a beginning.

Successful Year for Key Club

Once again the Spaulding chapter of International Key Club had a successful year.

With the aid of officers Jeff Monte, Bill Vickery, Steve Fortin, and Mark Dessereau, the club started out very well in the fall by winning the Homecoming float competition. "Pound 'em Tide" was Spuds MacKenzie's slogan as he rode to victory atop a blue Ford Pinto, AKA "The Beast."

Through a lot of hard work during bottle drives and the boys' basketball concession stand, Key Club donated a large sum of money to the Juvenile Diabetes Foundation. Even after this there was enough money left over for the International Convention in Springfield, Massachusetts. Everybody concluded that it was a great year. Orpheus Korshak stated, "It was work being in Key Club, but Wednesday nights were fun!"

We hope that next year the confident Key Clubbers will once again have a productive year.

Interact Continues Tradition of Community Service

The year 1987-88 was a successful year for Interact. We participated in our traditional activities such as working on the JC Haunted House, preparing holiday food baskets for the poor, bell ringing for the Salvation Army, and involvement in the shopping tour and Christmas party for the underprivileged children of our community. Doing projects for the community is what Interact is all about!

"With all the hard work we do, there needs to be time for fun and leisure," says Nina

McLeod. To create the spirit of teamwork and friendly competition, we tried a new fun-filled activity called the Poloroid Scavenger Hunt. Could you imagine hugging a cow, climbing a flagpole, or getting into a stranger's old-fashioned bathtub? Neither could we but we actually did these things and much more!

Community involvement and having fun creates good school spirit and makes our club a success.

Trivia Buffs Have Fun in Competition

"For a thirty point bonus: What early movie producer is stated to have revolutionized the silent film era?"

Come on! Think fast! The Scholars Bowl Members have to be quick on their toes (and brains!) in order to win the points for the Spaulding team. Sharon Plumb, Amie Strong, Polly Bowles, Pat Cashman, and Niki Pastor went against other Vermont high schools at St. Michael's College. Though in the real competition round we didn't win against Middlebury, we did decisively defeat them in a practice round. As Amie put it, "I think it's a blast, but you can't get hung up on winning — the important thing is to have fun!"

Mr. Casey, our "coach," kept the Spaulding spirit up and reassured us at every tournament. In fact, when we participated in the round robin tournament at Hanover High School, as a team we did very well and topped many other schools.

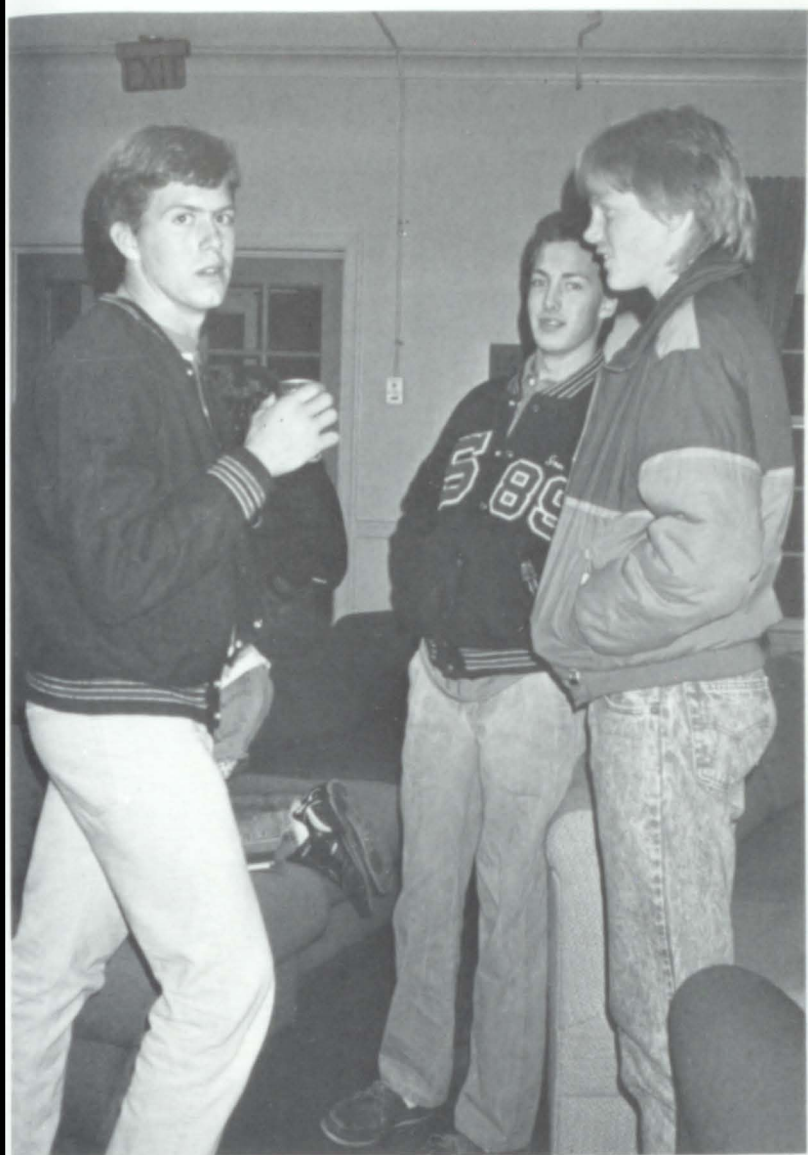

OK — for all of you Trivia Lovers, the answer to the above question is Charlie Chaplin. Now — What is Dr. Jeckyl's first name???

Excel Continues to Expand the Mind

The theme was "Ideas and Beliefs That Shape Our Future" for the fall semester of Vermont Excel. The program is described as "an enrichment program for the leaders of tomorrow, designed to introduce high school students to the larger realm of creative intellect." WOW! Sounds pretty heavy, huh? Well, maybe, but it's also a lot of fun.

Some of the fall topics were: Third World Religions, Environment: Can We Live Without It? and The World of 2035. The topics were often very controversial, which is what makes Excel fun! Professors from Norwich University and Vermont College talked, and then students broke up into groups with Excel leaders.

In the spring session, students had a choice of courses to take for an eight week period. They ranged from Traditional Dancing to Creative Writing to the Holocaust. The courses are also taught by professors, and everyone agreed that, "being able to express your opinions, learn about something you've never studied, and frequent trips to B & J's are the high points of Wednesday nights!"

Forensic Competitors Win Recognition

Some people may ask — exactly what does a debate team do? Well, the Spaulding debate team should actually be called a “forensics” team, since our team basically competed in forensic competition. This involved choosing something to read (a poem, a short piece from a novel, etc.) and being judged on the way you present this particular speech.

Spaulding students did very well in competition this year, taking first place in many meets. It was a lot of hard work, and we gave up several Saturdays to travel to the meets.

“I love to compete in the meets. It really gives people a good feeling when you do well at something you’ve worked so hard on,” says senior Jennifer Calcagni.

GMTI Opens Rap Room

This was the first year that GMTI was an official group at Spaulding High School. The four members attended the Green Mountain Teen Institute, a week-long seminar concerning drugs and alcohol, during the summer and then decided to use their knowledge at SHS. Their creation was "The Rap Room."

The Rap Room is a place where Spaulding students can go to discuss their problems with the GMTI members, who now hold the title of peer counselor. To become a peer counselor, each member had to attend the Institute and then undergo a series of training sessions with Bill Ward, Spaulding's substance abuse counselor. Through their efforts, GMTI has made the Rap Room a huge success.

Hola! Another year, another Spanish Club — but wait — this year was a little different. Spanish III and IV planned an exchange with San Juan, Puerto Rico. Fundraisers for the trip included things from a bake sale to the square dance, both of which the students said were lots of fun. Justin McAvoy said,

"I can't believe how much fun it was! Learning a second language definitely has its advantages!"

Opportunity to Study "Beyond" School

PAL — short for Programs for Able Learners — is designed for students who want to do a project on their own, and learn about something new. It is often called the beginnings of Project Excel.

Students choose a subject that they are interested in, such as writing, photography, reading Braille, composing a song, knitting a sweater, or selling cookies. There are no limits as to what a student can study, and Mrs. Leighton and Miss Watson are very helpful and willing to get ideas started. "Everyone should have the chance to learn beyond what we study in school — here we are given that necessary 'push,' says one PAL member.

Varsity "S" Brings Spirit to Spaulding

Varsity "S" got off to a slow start this year due to a lack of officers. When the officers were elected (Pres. — Erin Perreault, V.P. — Heather Garbacik, Treas. — Lori Lessard, Sec. — Carol Browning) the club became a success.

Varsity "S" once again held the bonfire and snake-dance for Homecoming. The Field Hockey-Soccer Tournament was held in November and the annual Christmas tree sale took place in December.

Varsity "S" sponsored a Tropical Dance on February 19, which definitely broke up the monotony of winter.

One great disappointment to the club was not being able to hold the popular Broomball Tournaments. This was due to a lack of interest from the advisors, and no willing chaperones.

In the spring, the club sponsored a Senior Breakfast and Superlatives. All in all the club had a good year bringing spirit to Spaulding.

Special Olympics Provides Treasurable Experience

The Special Olympics Booster Club consists of a group of Spaulding High School students who wish to better the lives of teenagers less fortunate than themselves. The Boosters aid in the training of Special Olympians from Washington County, do various fundraisers to raise money to purchase items needed by the team, and send kids to summer camp.

Helping the participants of Special Olympics is a treasurable experience for both the member and the Olympian. Very special bonds of friendship are formed through this club.

More Than an Easy Fine Arts Credit

To some, Chorus is just an easy fine arts credit. To the members of the class, though, it means hard work and determination. Many hours were spent memorizing notes, learning the scales, and performing the different pieces at concerts. Some students even appeared on T.V. when they sang at the State House during Christmas!

Many members of the Chorale, as well as the Chorus, participated in the Winooski Valley and All-State Music Festivals. We'll never forget our favorite song, "All Ye Who Music!"

We'll miss all of the seniors next year — but we promise the Music Department will keep Spaulding High in tune!

Flag Team Waves in Tide Pride

The Spaulding High School Flag Team once again came alive. The team made it through the year with nine members, and a new band director.

Although the flag team wasn't able to perform as often as we would have liked, we still were very busy with parades and football games.

Even after the football season had finished — we weren't! We were getting ready for the All-State Parade in Essex.

Despite all of the problems, the SHS Flag Team had another great year (with the help of Liane Pease, our coach.) We all hope that in future years the team will continue to wave cheer through the school.

Band Continues to Display Tide Pride

They are always there at football games, cheering on the Spaulding Tide. They were seen downtown Barre, even on the most miserable Barre, even on the most miserable of days, displaying their pride. They are part of a class that demands much more than turning in homework assignments. Who am I speaking of? Why, the SHS Band, of course!

This year, with their new instructor, Mr. Gasque the students also formed a new band, which, along with the newly formed faculty band, Barre-d Alive, performed at the Barre Elks Club for a dinner-dance to benefit the band. Many teachers, students, and members of the community felt that the Valentine's Dance was one of the best ideas they had heard of. Everyone who attended on that snowy, stormy evening had a super time jig-gling, waltzing, and tangoing to the music of the Spaulding students.

Great job, guys!

Ski Club Reappears at SHS

The Ski Club returned to Spaulding High School after disappearing several years ago. The program was designed to give students more chances to use our Vermont resources, and get students skiing! It started out extremely well, with about 40 kids showing up for the first few meetings. Unfortunately, lack of decent snowfall caused the program to suffer.

Stacey Mitchell did a great job organizing a trip to Killington over vacation, but it fell through because of lack of time and commitment.

Hopefully with a little advisor assistance and a great snowfall next year, the Ski Club will be off and running.

Student Council Governs Spaulding

"Hey Polly, pass the chocolate chip cookies."

"Homecoming is WHEN?"

"Come on . . . giving blood is really no big deal."

"I have no idea how to fill out this form."

"OK!! Everybody stop talking and listen!!!"

I don't think Student Council ever has a normal year. Sure we had Freshman Reception (honestly, those cockroaches are so immature), the Crystal Ball (with a true rock-and-roll band), and the usual scramble to organize fundraisers, dances, and special programs. It was probably the most dangerous job we will ever take on — but hey, someone had to eat the cookies. At least we had a great time while having complete nervous breakdowns!

DECA Provides Experience

DECA, short for Distributive Education Clubs of America, is a club that provides its members with the skills and experience necessary for obtaining a job in marketing and distribution. The members take part in various state meetings and competitions with other DECA clubs throughout Vermont. Through these, they improve their skills and compare themselves to students from other parts of the state.

The major activity of DECA is the management of the school store. Profits from the store are used to pay for the cost of other DECA activities such as the expenses of competitions.

FBLA — Fundraisers and Service Projects

Future Business Leaders of America is a club designed for students who have taken at least one business course during high school.

During the year, members kept busy with fundraisers. These included bake sales and selling chocolate bars. Club members also performed community service projects, such as food baskets for needy families in the Barre area and giving winter outerwear to the Good Samaritan House, a haven for homeless people.

The year was ended with an overnight state convention.

Preparing For Leadership in the World of Work

VICA, the Vocational Industrial Clubs of America, is a very worthwhile club to be a member of. Its motto is "Preparing for leadership in the world of work;" and this is just what the students have a chance to do. Any student enrolled in a vocational course is eligible to join VICA and be a part of the fun.

Each year students compete at the state level for prizes and recognition, and a lucky few go on to compete nationally. Last year, the National Skill Olympics was held in Wichita, Kansas. VICA is an opportunity to participate in fundraisers, hear speakers, and to meet new people. It is a lot of work but it is also a lot of fun.

*Tchaikovsky, one of Russia's greatest composers, studied piano as a boy but showed no outstanding talent in the field of music. During his teenage years, he never seriously thought of a musical career. Later, at the age of 23, he decided to devote himself entirely to music. He attended St. Petersburg conservatory and then composed masterpieces such as The Sleeping Beauty and The Nutcracker. He pursued a dream that he never seriously thought he could achieve.*

Members of the Class of 1988 will soon be given the opportunity to pursue their dreams. Beethoven became almost totally deaf at about the age of 50 and had to communicate in writing. Despite this deafness, he composed his greatest works during this time including the Missa Solemnis and the Ninth Symphony. Earlier in Beethoven's career Mozart had remarked, "This young man will leave his mark in the world someday." By following our dreams and overcoming obstacles, no matter what they are, we, the Class of 1988, will also realize great accomplishments. We will leave our mark in the world someday.

Languages Are Fun!

While the French and Spanish I and II classes mastered numbers, months, and how to say "Can you swim?," the advanced classes were doing more intellectual things, such as making up their own dialogues and writing letters.

French III and IV were able to go on their second exchange with Montcalm School in Sherbrooke, while Latin students participated in a statewide Latin Day at UVM.

November 14-20 was the annual Foreign Language week. Classes had guest speakers, slide shows, and a week-long bake sale.

All in all, the language department had a full year. So you see, learning a foreign language isn't all that bad.

— Jackie Delphos

Lamarre Now in Command

It was just another year in Spaulding High School's science department. Mr. Lamarre took over as head of the department, a job that Mr. Burt had held in the past, and Mr. Colo retired from his position as a favorite biology teacher. Mr. Lapoint, a new member of the staff, was welcomed into the department.

SHS is very fortunate to have such a dedicated science staff. As Mr. Lamarre says, "We have a real strong, experienced staff. They are always attending workshops to keep up with new knowledge and technology."

Four years of science at SHS is quite an experience.

Computers — Toys for Learning

xx 10 Print "Computer programming is fun!?" xx

Is it really? Of course it is! This year there is an increased number of people taking computers, either because they are realizing it is an excellent skill necessary for many future jobs, or just because it is fun.

Writing programs can be really frustrating, but it can be fun, too. By taking computers, not only do you learn to write programs, you also learn to solve different types of math problems, print out term papers, and study for SAT's!

— Susan Fumagalli

Math Makes Logical Thinking

The math department provides many different kinds of courses for many different minds. Business courses, such as bookkeeping, are for those who want to understand how our economics world works. Courses such as geometry and advanced math play an important role in developing good math skills.

"Math makes people think better — more logically," says Mrs. Joan Dippre, department head.

Spaulding High School added one new face to an already outstanding math department, Mrs. Charlene Clark. Math is still the course that puts your mind to the test!

“English Really Ain’t That Bad”

King Arthur, Scarlett O’Hara, indefinite clauses, the Sentinel, college application essays, and on-the-spot speeches are all part of life in Spaulding English classes.

Following the departure of Ms. Lindquist and Mrs. Casey, three new teachers joined the faculty: Mr. Reardon, Ms. Friel, and Mr. Sedore. They are a welcome addition to the staff.

Through the Kaleidoscope, the UVM writing competition, and all of our reading assignments and essays, we study our language and the many ways it serves us.

We all went through our required English courses, exploring the many ways people express themselves. As Sophocles once stated, “Though a man be wise, it is no shame for him to live and learn.”

— Cheryl Jarvis

Reflections of Past and Future

The range of opinion about history is very broad among Spaulding students. Kelly Eagan thinks history is great. She feels, “It’s where we came from and where we are going, so we better know what’s going on.” Where as senior Carol Browning replies, “Oh bogus! It’s always the worst subject,” when asked how she feels.

In spite of these varying opinions, the history department at SHS does its best to make classes interesting. A student can choose to learn about Alexander the Great and the Roman Empire with Mr. Maiola and Mr. Maher in Ancient History, or can keep an eye on what Ron Reagan is up to in the White House with Mr. Porier in Public Issues.

Mr. Demarais joined the crew this year teaching psychology and other history courses.

A Welcome Relief

What do Picasso, Van Gogh, and Spaulding art students have in common? Paint brushes, sketch books, spattered clothes, and a love for art!

This year our school has seen many masterpieces from beginning art students, sculpture, oil painting and watercolor courses. The creative crafts class was busy using their talents in basket weaving, mask making, and other "crafty projects."

When asked how this year has been, Mr. Bohn commented that "It's been an excellent year. The quality of students has been highly motivated, and serious but humorous. This has been reflected in their work. Just a nice bunch of people to be around!"

The Five Day Torture Test

Come on students, build those bodies! With grunts and groans, T-shirts and sweatpants were pulled out for another year of gym. Getting used to the "five day torture test" wasn't an easy task, but one that had to be accomplished.

Using the same system as last year, up to five points are distributed each day, and all the missing gym days have to be made up.

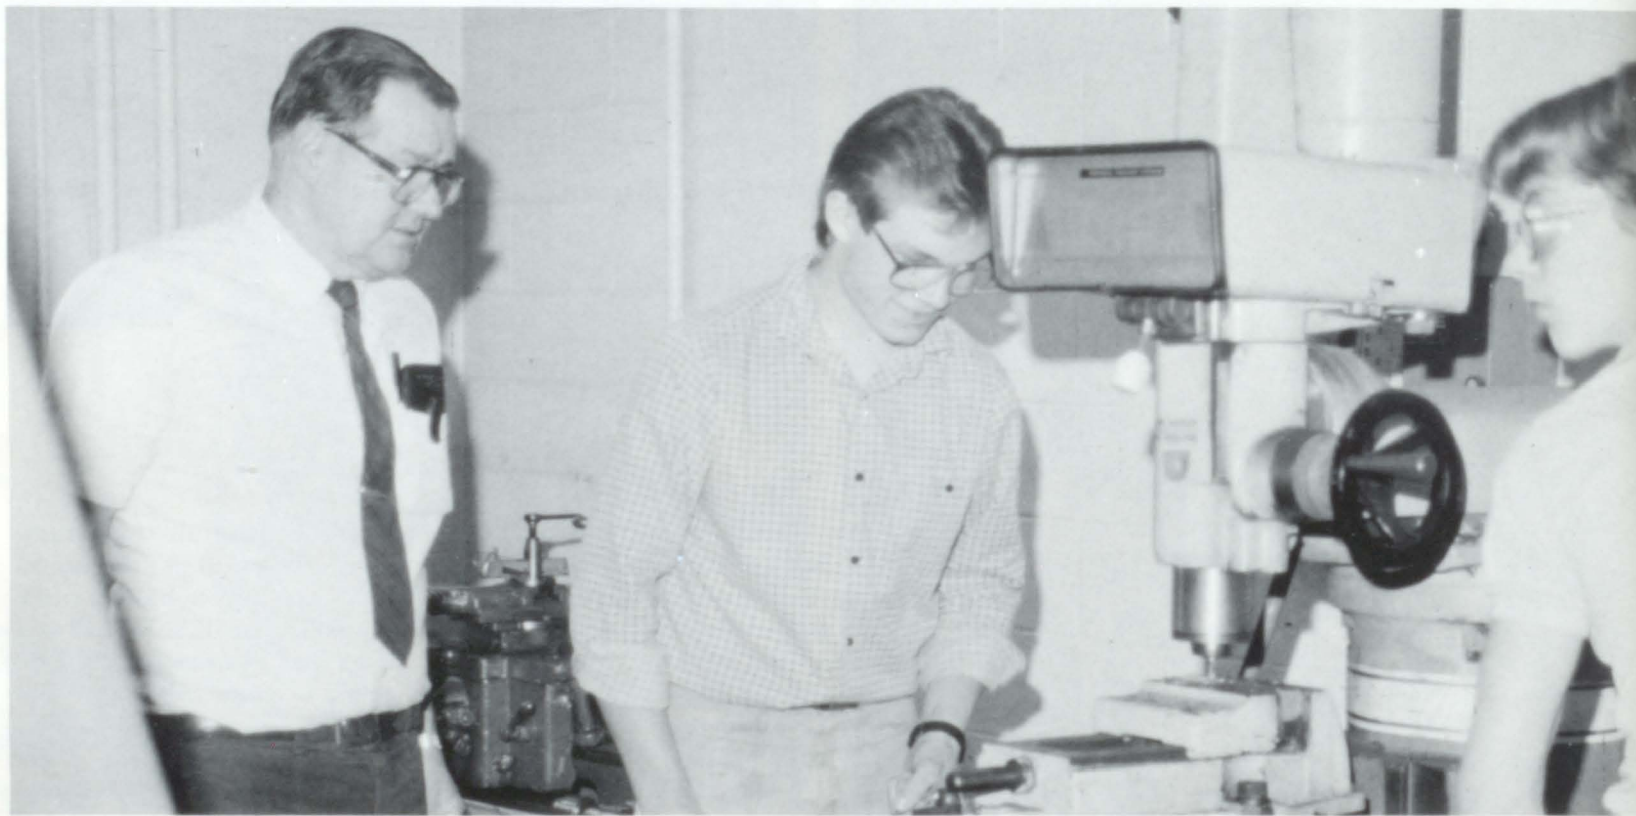

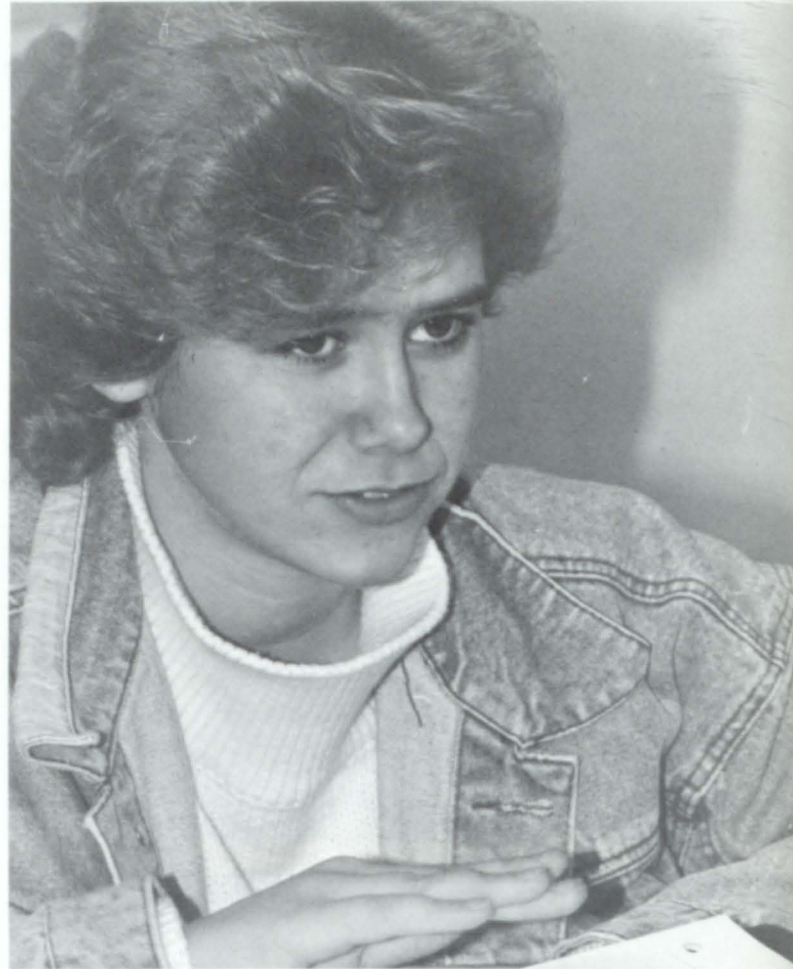

But despite all the scrambling around to get the necessary one and a half credits, football, softball, volleyball and field hockey went on. It made gym a welcome substitute from sit-down classes. "It's a pain dragging clothes from my locker to the locker room," said one student, "but it's worth it."

Home-Ec Important to Life

Mmmmm . . . what's that smell? Well, it was probably the warm vapors of something cooking in the home economics room! This year, as well as dishing up some very tasty morsels, students tried to sell out Forenza and Liz Claiborne with their new wardrobes, and also learned how to live on their own after school.

Home-ec courses are important to everyday living, whether one is working, getting married, or going to college. After all, macaroni and cheese can become rather dull, and not knowing how to sew on a button can be embarrassing.

One student wandering by the classroom peered in and mournfully remarked, "I wish I'd taken Home-ec!"

Skills for Tomorrow

Industrial Arts doesn't just mean making shelves or blow-torching metal — it's also architectural drawing, mechanical engineering, and photography.

Mr. Yettru was a new teacher in the vocational department who taught students how to make floor plans for their dream houses and develop film. The classes often give students a break between traditional studies, and they learn skills that may help them in future plans.

Julie Hill, a senior in Architectural Drawing says that her favorite part of the class was "being able to create and put down on paper what I've always dreamed of."

From Typing to Business Law

The sound of clicking typewriters and other machines can be heard as one walks down the vocational halls. Everything from typing to business law is taught here, which prepares students to the crazy world of money and economics.

Accounting and Data Processing I is a two period class offered for the first time this year, and taught by Mr. Mike Gilbert. Having two periods means that you can get a lot more accomplished in class, so it cuts down on the homework. (Yeah!) One student feels that the class is good because it's not just lectures. "Mr. Gilbert is a really patient teacher who helps us out a lot."

Students Develop Skills

The classes in Diversified Occupations concentrate on daily living skills that help prepare students for the real world; work and living on your own.

Every student has his own work level and takes a combination of various classes. A few of these are math, home-ec,

English, and physical education. Students develop practical skills through work placement and teaching in community settings. These skills enable students to broaden their horizons in their future work and personal lives.

Health in Two Years

Health Occupations is basically a two year program, but you can take it for one year. This program is established to prepare students who want to pursue a career in health fields. Such fields include: Orderly, nurse assistant, physical therapy aide, dental aide, laboratory or x-ray aide, etc. It also is really good preparation for entry into secondary vocational or technical programs. This program is an excellent idea for those interested in health fields.

One of a Kind

The Barre Stone Trades Program is the only one of its kind in the country. It draws students from the surrounding schools and from out of state to learn this very unique trade.

We learn "hands on." If we make a mistake, we're forced to learn and develop our work qualities to their fullest.

Mr. Lesslie teaches drafting. A full size detail is made to be rubbed on a rubber stencil on the granite. The rubber is cut and the granite is shaped and blasted. Don Giroux (Uncle Don) instructs this part of the course.

Best Graphics in Vermont

Graphic Occupations prepares students for the printing and photographic industries. During their two years, students progress from black and white photography and introductory design to operating computerized graphic arts equipment.

First year students learn the basics by designing and printing stationary, holiday cards, bumper stickers, and memo pads. Advanced students specialize in chosen areas of the graphics field and accept production work for paying customers. An active Coop program enhances the opportunities for students.

In 1987, Graphic Occupations added the Commissioner's Award for Excellence to its many laurels.

Solving the “Big Mystery”

How many flat tires, unreliable brakes, or dead transmissions have you encountered? Do these things bring a panicky anxiety to you? It's a common fear: cars and trucks are considered to be strange pieces of machinery, a big mystery.

Students in Auto Mechanics

don't feel that way, however. They learn the different systems of a car through “vehicle dissection.”

After school, this experience can be very useful whether the student goes to work in a garage, or on to college. No more rusty mufflers for that class!

Valuable for Later Life

Building Trades is an excellent two year program that provides students with a hands-on experience needed in learning basic construction skills. The students who take this course, aid in construction of at least one house, maybe even two throughout the year. The choice of the plans is made solely by the students themselves. They also use their skills in plumbing, wiring, and heating. Without this course, students would not have the first experience of such skills which have proved to be valuable to them later on in life. Also, the pride they take in their accomplishments is just as important to them as the skills that they have learned.

Relaxing Get-Away

The Carriage Room is a relaxing get-away from the noisy cafeteria. Here students from Spaulding and sending schools (Twinfield, U-32, and Montpelier) will satisfy your appetite. In Food Trades, the greatest concern for the students is to run the Carriage Room properly. Jobs consist of everything from head cook to steam table.

Terry Sayers, a junior from Twinfield says, "I took this class because I enjoy cooking, and I want to further my career in the culinary arts program." Students have many opportunities in this field, and they plan to take full advantage of it. Henry Leslie says "I want to become a hotel-motel restaurant manager, move to Alaska and snowboard and fish!"

PEG — Another World

Pre-Engineering Graphics is a class for the person who wants to learn more about the world of drafting. First year students learn basic drafting skills that they can use as draftsmen, engineers, and architects. Second year students spend much of the fall outside surveying the athletic fields. Once they come inside, they spend more time at the drafting board.

Another opportunity that students in PEG have is to become involved with VICA. If students choose, they can compete for prizes at the state and national levels. Phil Martin says, "It's a wonderful way to learn about the future!"

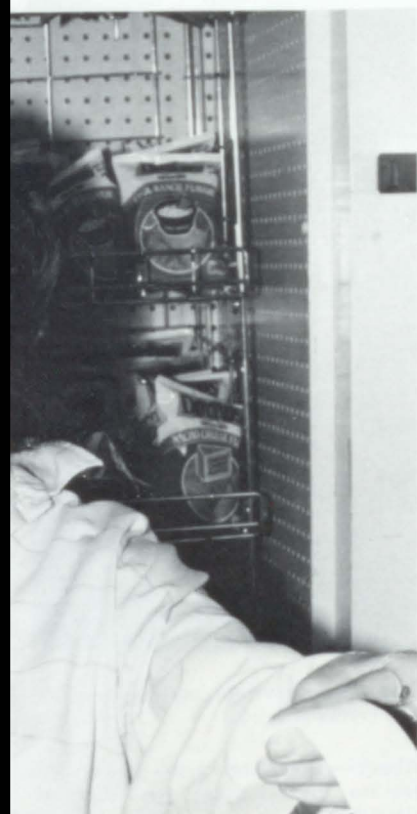

— Jen Calcagni

Experience the Real World

For many students Distributive Education, the class responsible for running the school store, is known as "the munch out place." As Jenn Mackey says, "It's fun to go there during Chem break to get munchies!" DE is a chance for students to experience "the real world of business." For example, DE allows the students to handle money, correspond with the public, and teach them to be responsible. They run the cash register, take inventory, and learn about the economy. In all, DE allows people to learn about the business world still in school.

— Michelle LaFrancis

Students Enter Working Force

The co-op program at Spaulding High School gives SHS students the opportunity to meet the challenge of the "real world" before graduation. It enables them to experience the world of the working force first-hand. Students involved in the co-op program are allowed to come to school late or leave early, depending on their schedule, to hold a job. The arrangements for this situation must be made through the vocational department.

This program is a wonderful learning experience for students. They graduate from high school well-prepared for the hardships of life.

The earliest piano was built in 1709 by Bartolemeo Cristofori. It was a rather fragile version of the modern piano and was known as a harpsichord. Through years of hard work and patience, the harpsichord developed into the stronger, more stable model that we know today. Our athletes develop in much the same way as the harpsichord. They begin as children and work, with much pain and endurance, to the level of high school athletics.

The frames of early pianos were usually made of wood but were reinforced with bars of iron or steel as needed to protect from breakage. Our athletes reinforce themselves as needed, too. Be it a field hockey player's mouthguard, a football player's shoulder pads, or a batter's helmet, athletes must also protect themselves from injury.

The new and strong version of pianos brought about much competition between piano manufacturers. The United States led the development of the iron or steel frame cast in a single piece. The great rivalry existed between Steinway and Sons of New York City and Mason and Hamlin of Boston, much like the rivalry between Spaulding and Montpelier. Rivalries have existed since the beginning of time in many forms. Ours with Montpelier will forever remain in our hearts and in our minds as a memory of our days at Spaulding High.

Can't Lose With M.G.

Although our season didn't end quite the way we wanted it to, the whole team agrees that we shared an excellent season together. The seniors were especially proud of finally beating Essex, once in season, then again in the quarter finals!

The season began slowly, the first week of practice was without M.G. We soon picked up speed, however, and managed to pull together as a team. A team can't lose with a coach like M.G.

Unfortunately, like all good things in life, the season had to end. We were finally defeated in the semi-finals against Middlebury, ending the 1987 season. The memories of fun on the field will forever live on!

Season of Rebuilding

The Spaulding Varsity Soccer program went through a rebuilding year this season. This started by installing a new head coach, Mr. Gerry Desmarais, and the introduction of many sophomores into the lineup.

Though we didn't have the record that we all wanted, it was a lot of fun. The primary thing that kept us from winning was the lucky breaks obtained by our opponents. Somehow these breaks seemed to elude us. The high point of our season came at the end with Captain Steve Fortin being named to the All-Metro Conference First Team, with his brilliant skills shining through the dark cloud of our season.

Coach Desmarais has brought many new ideas to Spaulding soccer, and with only seven seniors leaving this year look for SHS soccer to be very successful next year.

Soccer Awaits Next Season

The season for the JV Soccer team was disappointing at first, but we improved greatly. Our team worked well together in spite of what the scoreboard said.

This year we had a lot of talent on both sophomore and freshmen level. During the course of the season many of our sophomores were moved to varsity which I think hurt our team.

Our coach was really great. He always pushed us to do the best we could, and he always encouraged us at practice, in games, and even in school.

— Andy Swan

JV Competition Was Tough

JV Field Hockey had a very skilled team this year. The season ended with a record of 2-2-8, but the eight ties didn't discourage the players, it only made them strive harder.

Coach Barbara Cochran was a great support to the team and commented, "The playing level of the JV teams is increasing every year, therefore making it harder to score." She thought her team had a great season. The team couldn't have done it without the patience and support of their energetic coach.

Where's the Field?

The Spaulding High School football team's season was marked by one minor set back—they had no field. They were able to play only one game at Spaulding, and that was on the soccer field, and that was the other "home" games were at Montpelier or Norwich.

The highlight of the season was upsetting S. Burlington's homecoming weekend. Despite no practice field, the Tide was able to return from S. Burlington victorious.

Another set-back at the start of the season was with the quarterback position. Mike Woodard (averaging over 100 yards per game) kept the offense moving until the QB position was settled. Don Mugford also aided by teaching both the offense and the defense to be "Dirty, Mean and Nasty."

Next year, the football field will make a spectacular comeback by looking clean and well-kept for the first time in years. On the new field will be a new group of players, guided by the fearless and intense leadership of Coach Law.

JV's Pull Together

This was a year of change for JV Football. After being a Freshman/JV team last year, it was a lot different working by ourselves.

We received new coaches again this year, Mr. Sedore and Mr. Wilmott, and they did a really good job pulling us together as a team.

Our first game was a disappointing loss to Essex, but from there we pulled together and finished with a record of 4-3-1. Mr. Law said, "This was the first winning record for a JV team in at least five years." The high point of our season was beating Montpelier 44-0!

— David Ludwig

Freshmen Confident For Next Year

It was our first year playing football. We started out slow and gradually we became better. In our first game with St. Johnsbury we were shut out and didn't know many of our plays. Day by day we practiced, but wins kept slipping out of our hands. Then finally it came, our first win! It was great! We beat South Burlington!

We ended our season with a record of 1 and 7. It's not what everybody wanted but we really tried. Next year we should have a pretty good year, and a lot of us are looking forward to it.

Unconditional Support for Their Teams

The JV Cheerleaders supported their teams well this year through much cold weather and many rain storms. We gave our teams the extra spirit needed to drive themselves to win. This unconditional support was greatly appreciated and really helped the teams.

Much was learned by the JV squad this year under the direction of Lynn Ann Rouleau. We are all looking forward to another fun-filled season of cheering next year, some of us as Varsity Cheerleaders!

New Sport at SHS

A cross-country team was established this year under the coaching of Douglas Gingras. The team did very well considering every member was a rookie. Cross-country was quite an experience with lots of good times, hard work and tough competition. Senior Ron Routhier's only regret is, "I wish the cross-country program had started when I was a freshman." The team shows a lot of promise for the future and everyone is looking forward to next year.

Team Depth Key to Success

This year's Spaulding High School hockey team began the 1987-88 season with very high hopes. The team had an abundance of experience from 12 returning players, along with some excellent young talent. After the team tied its home opener with Essex, the Tide got back on track to boost its record to one of Spaulding's best starts ever at 9-0-2. Included in these games was a first place finish in the Rutland Invitational Christmas Tournament by beating MSJ and a team from Simsbury, Connecticut. Simsbury is ranked second in their state.

Excellent team depth has been the key to Spaulding's hockey success all year. The team has played five good defense men and three tough lines throughout the season. This depth helped the Tide pull through some tough injuries and losses later in the year.

The Tide finished up the regular season at 13-4-2. They played with kind of hockey needed to win the state championship.

Spaulding Spirit High Despite Record

This year's basketball team, judging by its 7-13 record and missing playoffs for the first time in awhile, wasn't one of Spaulding High School's strongest. However, we had all the elements of a super team — talent, speed, size, shooting and quickness. Basically, we just didn't have the chemistry to put it all together.

We did have several bright spots (Rice and Burlington) in the season. In those games we pulled together and performed like a great team; and showed our true caliber.

Next year's team will be very strong with a host of juniors returning led by an "unbeatable" Jorathan Luce. We wish them the best of luck for next year, and a banner year.

Season Ends with Nine Game Winning Streak

The Varsity Girls' Basketball team had a very slow start this season, but with hard work, determination, and the desire to play in the Barre Auditorium in the play-offs, we pulled out of the slump. We went on to end the regular season with a nine game winning streak and a record of 12-8. First-year coach April Bliss pushed us to give 100% at all times on the court and to support one another unconditionally.

Coach Bliss's methods worked. We played well as a team throughout the play-offs and advanced further than was expected. With only losing two players to graduation and the very talented juniors and sophomores returning, the Spaulding High School girls' basketball team should have a very strong season next year.

Girls Proud of Winning Record

This year, the JV girls' basketball team was coached by the well-known Judy Abbiatti! Last year it was said that she would not be coming back, but she decided to return and bring her team through one last winning season.

The 1987-88 team was led by five returning sophomores, three rookie sophomores, and five freshmen. We got off to a slow start, losing five of our first six games, but soon began to pull together and work hard as a team. As a result, we went on to finish the season with eleven wins and nine losses.

With five strong freshmen returning and many new prospects entering SHS, next year's team is sure to come up with another winning record. I only hope that their season is just as enjoyable.

Year of Ups and Downs for JV's

The Spaulding JV boys' basketball team had its ups and downs this year, unfortunately more downs than ups. At the end of 17 games the Crimson Tide had 5 wins and 12 losses. This record was not due to a lack of intensity on the court but an inconsistency of our offense. The Tide's JV team usually got off to a slow start in the first quarter. The third and fourth quarter were usually dominated by Spaulding but we never seemed to bounce back from our first half deficit.

Coach Batchelder never got down on the boys, though. He always told us that we worked hard but things just never got going for us. Even though the JV's season didn't go picture perfect, the squad had a lot of fun and tried hard. Our not-so-great record just made those few victories sweeter!

Precision and a Steady Hand

The sound of a gunshot breaks the silence, followed by the opening and closing of a bolt. You will hear no fans in this sport, for this is riflery, a sport where precision and a steady hand separates the winners from the losers.

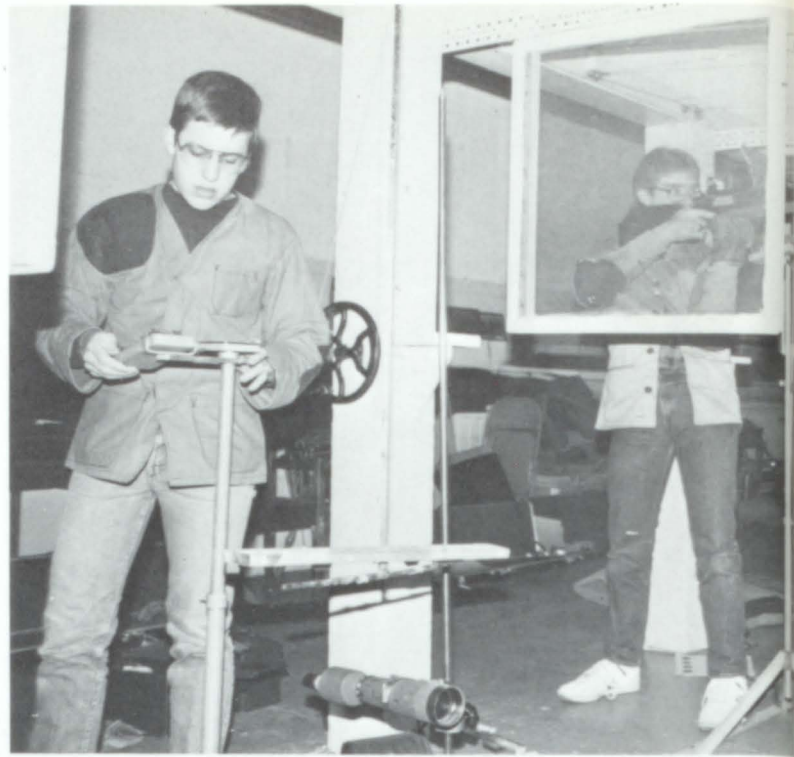

This year our Varsity team saw the return of only one of its former members, leaving a number of slots open for a position on the team.

With this, our coach, Roger Couture, took advantage of a strong JV team to appoint six new Varsity members: Wade

Camp, Loren Fassett, Jennifer Letourneau, Charlie Moyer, Roy Sayman, and Chris Witcher.

These six faced the difficult task of filling the shoes of former Varsity and Vermont All-Stars. But even with the pressure of having to perform at Varsity level, the six did an impressive job, upholding the winning tradition at Spaulding. The team demonstrated the determination and hours of practice that this challenging sport demands to be successful.

Freshmen Players Continue Tide Tradition

The freshman girls basketball team, in its first year, had a downright successful season — thanks to Lisa Lemieux. Her time and efforts, along with the spirit and enthusiasm of the parents and managers, always seemed to make us come off the court in smiles — win or lose.

We got to know each other and learned to work together. It turned out to be a successful year with an 8 and 6 record.

The freshman boys also had a good year. Being a cockroach is a difficult job, but these boys didn't seem to mind, and they went on to become part of Spaulding's basketball heritage. They showed true determination and sportsmanship.

The freshman girls' and boys' basketball teams have shown their Tide pride.

Cheerleaders Take Second in Competition

This year on Varsity Cheerleading we had a great time. Our coach was Lynn-Ann Rouleau, a former Spaulding High School cheerleader. Our squad not only cheered together, we all went out together. It was just like being in a family. Yet, for all of the fun we had, we also put in a lot of hard work.

We spent many long hours practicing. (Ask anyone who saw us down in the gym every Saturday and Sunday practicing for three hours!) But our hard work paid off — in the Southern District Competitions we placed second — beating last year's state champs!

We have appreciated all of the support and recognition we have received this year. We'd like to thank all the people who cheered us on to a victory in the Southern Competitions. We seniors will miss our "family" next year.

I'm sure they'll keep up the good work. We'll be coming back to see them in the States!

Varsity Wrestlers Tackle Their Competition

What are all of those pretzels doing squirming on the floor? one may ask. Well, take a second look; there's a lot more to wrestling than what meets the eye.

"Wrestling demands concentration and effort — and a lot of inner strength and courage. I've learned just what it takes to compete," says one varsity player.

Overall, the team did well, improving on their techniques and having fun as well.

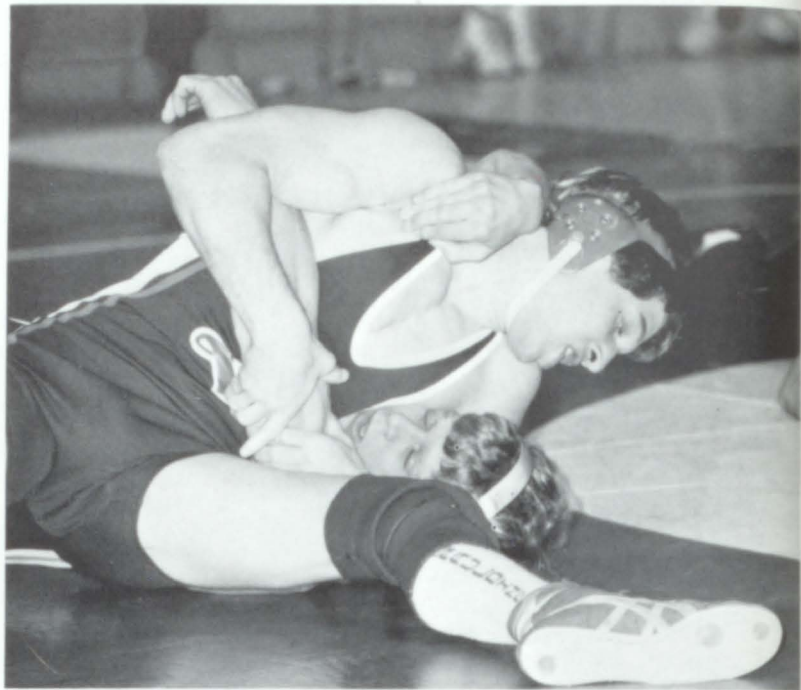

Says senior Mike Lamphere, "Our coaches really were a great help. Our team had a lot of spirit!"

Spaulding Varsity Wrestling had a very successful season this year, defeating many of their opponents. The team is looking forward to another successful season next year with the help of their returning wrestlers.

JV's Have Successful Season

The Junior Varsity Wrestling team had a very successful season this year. They also had a newcomer on the mats — Lesley Allen, a junior. Lesley is the third girl to join the team in the past few years. She says, "Wrestling was a great workout, and a lot of fun!"

Members of the team felt that their season was very fulfilling. They worked on techniques a lot more than just building body muscle, in order to improve performance. Next year they hope to again defeat their competitors, as well as add more wrestlers to the team.

After watching one match, senior Dave Stevens reported that, "The teams really seem to have it together — I love to watch our competitors try to wrestle with the Crimson Tide!"

The essential parts of a piano are the frame, the soundboard, the strings, and the action. The frame makes up the initial part of the piano and gives it support. The soundboard is the sheet of wood that serves to amplify the sound. The action is the mechanism that causes the strings to vibrate. The strings, in turn, produce the sound, the final result.

The frame surrounding each of us is our friends and family. They give us the support that we need to be ourselves. They stand by us through every experience, good or bad. Our soundboard is our means of expressing ourselves through our abilities. It is the way that we amplify who we are by showing our special talents and strengths. Our action is our ambition and inspiration. Each person has his or her own drive. It's the way that we keep ourselves going when things are rough. Our strings are our own personal results and accomplishments. By combining all other parts of ourselves, we attain a tone that is solely our own.

It's these essential parts of ourselves, our frame, soundboard, action, and strings, that make each and every one of us unique. Just as each of the 88 keys on the piano produces its own sound, so will each member of the Class of 1988.

Seniors — The Year of Honor

Even before we entered high school the term "senior" fascinated us. We looked up to the senior classes that preceded us with a sense of longing, amazed by their power, maturity, and fun-loving spirit. It is now our turn to be looked up to by all other students, the honor that we have waited for through three long years.

The road to our senior year wasn't an easy one. The class of 1988 was the first class required to fulfill the new state standards for graduation. Taking an extra year of gym and a fine arts course made it difficult to fit in the courses we truly wanted.

Despite this, and several minor complications such as the lack of a football field, we stand proudly as the senior class and exercise our spirit. We will be remembered at SHS for many years to come.

Right — Stacey Harvey braves the wind and cold to watch the soccer team.

I tell you, routine takes your soul,
Lost without a trace.
It holds you down and turns you 'round
And puts you in your place.
Another day, another dawn,
Or another pretty face,
Another chance to lose yourself
In the endless race.
Hold on, hold on to your dreams.
Hold on, even though it seems
Everyone around you
Has their little schemes.
Listen to your heart,
Hold on to your dreams . . .

Can't you feel the magic,
 Feel it everywhere?
 Can't you hear the music?
 There's something in the air.
 There's a celebration
 Deep within a song.
 Celebrate this feeling,
 You know it can't be wrong.
 Hold on, hold on to your dreams.
 Hold on, even though it seems
 Everyone around you
 Has their little schemes.
 Listen to your heart,
 Hold on to your dreams . . .

And Death with her

The Class With Spirit

This year's Junior class was full of many surprises. First of all, our class was headed by two new faces, Marcus Aylward and Sean Braddee. Both students shocked and amazed their fellow classmates with their unknown leadership ability. Who can forget Sean's inspiring speech encouraging us to sell magazines?

This year the Junior class accomplished many things. We set a record for selling the most magazines in Vermont, we had a great Junior Prom, and our athletes were unstoppable!

The Class of '89 led the school with its colorful spirit. We easily won the hall decorating contest over the mighty Seniors. Juniors were seen at all sporting events in red and blue. This year has been great for our class. Academically it's been a tough challenge, but socially it's been a blast. We are looking forward to an exciting senior year, so beware of the Class of 1989!

One Group that Works Together

The Sophomore Class came a long way this year. We joined together as a class and showed SHS that we've got a lot of spirit. We're no longer the kids from Spaulding Graded, Barre Town, or St. Monica, but one group that works together.

We're not at the bottom any more; we now have someone to look down on. Buying class rings, planning a dance, working on homecoming, raising money, and making some career choices were just a few of the things that brought us together this year.

We look forward to our next year here at SHS and the day we'll finally be at the top . . . the Class of 1990.

Freshmen Ready to Lead Spaulding

Our class, the Class of '91, has accomplished things already that have not been accomplished before. Our luck at the traditionally embarrassing Freshmen Reception was startling, not only to us grateful freshmen, but to every senior present, whose heart sank when the microphone failed in the last desperate seconds before the reception began.

That, however, was only the beginning. We have since produced a fighting generation of outstanding leaders that will bring the class of '91 to the top: Wendy Clark, who became our president; Brent Tewksbury who was elected vice-president; Jeff Martin, secretary; Dena Thresher, the treasurer; and all the other freshmen whose goals stretch higher than their teachers' wildest dreams. They shall never have to know what it feels like to start at the bottom for we, their devoted classmates, will forever bouy them up throughout our four glorious years at Spaulding.

ZORN, ARTHUR 143

I've been told by every Hunter Publishing representative I've met and at every yearbook seminar I've attended to avoid writing a "note from the editor" at the end of the book. "Your final page should be a continuation of your theme that rounds out the book and draws the whole thing to a close," they've always said. Well, as you've probably already guessed, I don't agree with them. After spending an entire year scrambling to publish a book, there are many things that an editor has to say.

I'd like to thank my entire staff and Mr. Ric Nudell and Mr. Mike Gilbert, our advisors. Without their knowledge and help, the 1988 "Our Echo" would not be a reality. There are certain individuals who I owe a great deal of gratitude: Kelly Eagan, who was always there to listen whenever something went wrong and who spent many hours writing captions, creating articles, and choosing pictures with me at my house, Heather Garbacik, who identified all the club photos, David Stevens, who handled the entire sports section, and Susan Fumagalli, who tackled the seemingly impossible task of organizing the index.

Then there's Jennifer Mackey. What can I say that can express my thanks to Jenn? I don't think that this yearbook would be in print without her persistence and dedication. I couldn't have asked for a better Copy Editor or friend. Thank you, Jenn. I realize and appreciate all that you've done. May you never have to write another yearbook article for the rest of your life!

My time as the Echo editor is over. After four years of hard work and many long hours, I leave "Our Echo" in the hands of a new person. I guess, in a strange sort of way, I'll miss the hectic rush just before a deadline. I wish the best of luck to the staff of 1989. May your efforts give you the feeling of personal satisfaction that I've gained through mine.
